Interpreters and War Crimes Kayoko Takeda, 2021-03-22 Taking an interdisciplinary approach this book raises new questions and provides different perspectives on the roles responsibilities ethics and protection of interpreters in war while investigating the substance and agents of Japanese war crimes and legal aspects of interpreters taking part in war crimes Informed by studies on interpreter ethics in conflict historical studies of Japanese war crimes and legal discussion on individual liability in war crimes Takeda provides a detailed description and analysis of the 39 interpreter defendants and interpreters as witnesses of war crimes at British military trials against the Japanese in the aftermath of the Pacific War and tackles ethical and legal issues of various risks faced by interpreters in violent conflict The book first discusses the backgrounds recruitment and wartime activities of the accused interpreters at British military trials in addition to the charges they faced the defence arguments and the verdicts they received at the trials with attention to why so many of the accused were Taiwanese and foreign born Japanese Takeda provides a contextualized discussion focusing on the Japanese military's specific linguistic needs in its occupied areas in Southeast Asia and the attributes of interpreters who could meet such needs In the theoretical examination of the issues that emerge the focus is placed on interpreters proximity to danger visibility and perceived authorship of speech legal responsibility in war crimes and ethical issues in testifying as eyewitnesses of criminal acts in violent hostilities Takeda critically examines prior literature on the roles of interpreters in conflict and ethical concerns such as interpreter neutrality and confidentiality drawing on legal discussion of the ineffectiveness of the superior orders defence and modes of individual liability in war crimes The book seeks to promote intersectoral discussion on how interpreters can be protected from exposure to manifestly unlawful acts such as torture The Occupation of Hong Kong 1941-45 Philip Cracknell,2022-09-15 Four years of fear escapes resistance internment occupation and finally liberation Philip Cracknell brings his unrivalled knowledge of Hong Kong during this time Not the Slightest Chance Tony Banham,2003-02-01 More than 10% of Hong Kong s defenders were killed in battle a further 20% died in captivity Those who survived seldom spoke of their experiences Many died young The little primary material surviving written in POW camps or years after the events is contradictory and muddled Yet with just 14 000 defending the Colony it was possible to write from the individual s point of view rather than that of the Big Battalions so favoured by God according to Napoleon and most historians The book assembles a phase by phase day by day hour by hour and death by death account of the battle It considers the individual actions that made up the fighting as well as the strategies and plans and the many controversies that arose Not the Slightest Chance will be of interest to military historians Hong Kong residents and visitors and those in the UK Canada and elsewhere whose family members fought or were interned in Hong Kong during the war years Serving God and Country Lyle W. Traitor By Default Patrick Brode, 2024-04-23 At the end of World War II a young Japanese Canadian would stand trial and face execution for having committed war crimes and betraying his country One of the most bizarre stories to emerge at the end of the Second World War was that of Kanao Inouye Born in Kamloops B C in 1916 he had relocated to his ancestral homeland of Japan and by 1942 was a translator for the Japanese army He was assigned to the prisoner of war camp in Hong Kong where he became infamous as one of the most sadistic guards of the Canadian survivors of the Battle of Hong Kong Scores of prisoners would attest to his brutality administered in revenge for the treatment he had received growing up in Canada His reputation was such that he was quickly apprehended after the war and faced charges of war crimes But his subsequent trials became mired in questions as to who he really was Was he a Canadian forced to serve in the Japanese military machine Or was he a devoted soldier of his emperor obeying his superiors

Long Night's Journey into Day Charles G. Roland, 2010-10-30 Sickness starvation brutality and forced labour plagued the existence of tens of thousands of Allied POWs in World War II More than a quarter of these POWs died in captivity Long Night's Journey into Day centres on the lives of Canadian British Indian and Hong Kong POWs captured at Hong Kong in December 1941 and incarcerated in camps in Hong Kong and the Japanese Home Islands Experiences of American POWs in the Philippines and British and Australians POWs in Singapore are interwoven throughout the book Starvation and diseases such as diphtheria beriberi dysentery and tuberculosis afflicted all these unfortunate men affecting their lives not only in the camps during the war but after they returned home Yet despite the dispiriting circumstances of their captivity these men found ways to improve their existence keeping up their morale with such events as musical concerts and entertainments created entirely within the various camps Based largely on hundreds of interviews with former POWs as well as material culled from archives around the world Professor Roland details the extremes the prisoners endured from having to eat fattened maggots in order to live to choosing starvation by trading away their skimpy rations for cigarettes No previous book has shown the essential relationship between almost universal ill health and POW life and death or provides such a complete and unbiased account of POW life in the Far East in the 1940s More than 1001 Days and Nights of Hong Kong Internment Chaloner Grenville Alabaster, 2022-03-11 More Than 1001 Days and Nights of Hong Kong Internment is the wartime journal of Sir Chaloner Grenville Alabaster former attorney general of Hong Kong and one of the three highest ranking British officials during the Japanese occupation He was imprisoned by the Japanese at the Stanley Internment Camp from 1941 to 1945 During his internment he managed to keep a diary of his life in the camp in small notebooks and hid them until his release in 1945 He then wrote his wartime journal on the basis of these notes The journal records his day to day experiences of the fall of Hong Kong his time at Stanley and his eventual release Some of the most fascinating extracts cover the three months immediately after the fall of Hong Kong and when Alabaster and his colleagues were imprisoned in Prince s Building in Central and before they were sent to the camp a period little covered in previous publications Hence the book is an important primary source for understanding the daily operation of the Stanley Internment Camp and the camp s environment Readers will also learn more about the daily life of those imprisoned in the camp and C G Alabaster s interaction with other prisoners there A prominent figure in pre war Hong Kong Alabaster was one of the leaders of the British community in Stanley Internment Camp His recently discovered journal provides a detailed and candid account of the routines anxieties and hardships of camp life It also offers new insights into the complex politics and divisions among internees With its substantial editorial introduction this book is an important addition to the growing literature on internment during Japan s wartime occupation of Hong Kong Christopher Munn University of Hong Kong Of the many memoirs of the Stanley civilian internment camp this is perhaps the most fascinating and engrossing Written soon after the war and based on a diary it is not only a day by day description of the travails of life in captivity but also more interestingly an account of the inner tensions and divisions that were rampant among the British internees from beginning to end Edward J M Rhoads University of Texas at Austin Royal Air Force Quarterly and Commonwealth Air Forces Journal ,1966
