Scribner, 2023-07-15 In A Is for Arson Campbell F Scribner sifts through two centuries of debris to uncover the conditions that have prompted school vandalism and to explain why attempts at prevention have inevitably failed Vandalism costs taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars every year as students parents and even teachers wreak havoc on school buildings Why do they do it Can anything stop them Who should pay for the damage Underlying these questions are long standing tensions between freedom and authority and between wantonness and reason Property destruction is not simply a moral failing to be addressed with harsher punishments nor can the problem be solved through more restrictive architecture or policing Scribner argues that education itself is a source of intractable struggle and that vandalism is often the result of an unruly humanity To understand schooling in the United States one must first confront the all too human emotions that have led to fires broken windows and graffiti A Is for Arson captures those emotions through new historical evidence and diverse theoretical perspectives helping readers understand vandalism variously as a form of political conflict as self education and as sheer chaos By analyzing physical artifacts as well as archival sources Scribner offers new perspectives on children s misbehavior and adults reactions and allows readers to see the complexities of education the built environment of teaching and learning evolving approaches to youth psychology and student discipline through the eyes of its often resistant subjects The Fast-track Course on how to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal Stephen Blake Mettee, 2002 The hard cold fact about getting a book published is that without something close to divine intervention an author is going to have to write a sales piece called a book proposal that will attract the attention of an editor or an agent In fact at most publishers this sales piece is going to have to hold up under the scrutiny of a committee made up of a bevy of editors and a pod of sales and marketing people With The Fast Track Course on How to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal Mettee a seasoned book editor and publisher cuts to the chase and provides simple detailed instruction that allows anyone to write a professional book proposal and hear an editor say Yes According to Mettee the first rule is Do no harm Too many authors don t pay enough attention to the small things like spelling and grammar and manuscript format that are needed to make their book proposals appear professional They may have a great idea for a book and be eminently qualified to write it but they schmuck it up with slovenly disregard for the easy stuff The last rule is Be persistent If you quit after your first rejection slip or after the thirteenth or the thirtieth you ll never get published Many books that are rejected scores of times go on to be best sellers You re not defeated until you give up
