Pantheologies Mary-Jane Rubenstein, 2018-11-06 Pantheism is the idea that God and the world are identical that the creator sustainer destroyer and transformer of all things is the universe itself From a monotheistic perspective this notion is irremediably heretical since it suggests divinity might be material mutable and multiple Since the excommunication of Baruch Spinoza Western thought has therefore demonized what it calls pantheism accusing it of incoherence absurdity and with striking regularity monstrosity In this book Mary Jane Rubenstein investigates this perennial repugnance through a conceptual genealogy of pantheisms What makes pantheism monstrous at once repellent and seductive is that it scrambles the raced and gendered distinctions that Western philosophy and theology insist on drawing between activity and passivity spirit and matter animacy and inanimacy and creator and created By rejecting the fundamental difference between God and world pantheism threatens all the other oppositions that stem from it light versus darkness male versus female and humans versus every other organism If the panic over pantheism has to do with a fear of crossed boundaries and demolished hierarchies then the question becomes what a present day pantheism might disrupt and what it might reconfigure Cobbling together heterogeneous sources medieval heresies their pre and anti Socratic forebears general relativity quantum mechanics nonlinear biologies multiverse and indigenous cosmologies ecofeminism animal and vegetal studies and new and old materialisms Rubenstein assembles possible pluralist pantheisms By mobilizing this monstrous mixture of unintentional God worlds Pantheologies gives an old heresy the chance to renew our thinking

Grounding God Arianne Conty, 2023-12-01 Now that we have entered the Anthropocene the geological age in which humans have altered the natural world to such an extent that nature and culture can no longer be separated the modern dichotomies of mind versus body and culture versus nature have become implausible and need to be replaced In Grounding God Arianne Conty argues that it is in the field of religion where we can find a new ontology better suited for the Anthropocene Conty calls this new religious ontology the grounding of the sacred in that it seeks to deconstruct the binaries of modernity and provide in their place a revalorization of the immanent earth and the more than human beings that inhabit it Such a grounding of the sacred is a potent means to overcome the exploitation and desecration of the earth and its nonhuman beings and to provide in its stead an inclusive cosmopolitics that extends mind into matter and culture into nature Tracing such a grounding in the Christian Buddhist neopagan and animist traditions Conty seeks to elaborate an interdisciplinary ecosophy one that uses philosophy anthropology and religious studies to provide new values for the present age
