Slavery In Africa Historical And Anthropological Perspectives:

Slavery in Africa Suzanne Miers, Igor Kopytoff, 1977 This collection of sixteen short papers together with a complex and very much longer introductory essay by the editors on African Slavery as an Institution of Marginality constitutes an impressive attempt by anthropologists and historians to explore describe and analyze some of the various kinds of human bondage within a number of precolonial African societies It is important to note that in spite of the precolonial emphasis of the volume all of the essays are based at least partly on anthropological or ethnohistorical field research carried out since 1959 All but one have been augmented greatly by more conventional historical research in published as well as archival sources And although the volume s focus is upon the structures and conditions of servitude within the several African societies described many of the essays illustrate and some discuss the conceptual as well as the practical difficulties of separating the institutions and customs of domestic African slavery from those of the European dominated commercial slave trade in which many of the societies participated from JSTOR <http://www.jstor.org> May 24 2013 Slavery in Africa Igor Kopytoff, Suzanne Miers, 1977 Slaves and Slavery in Africa John Ralph Willis, 2005-08-12 First Published in 1986 Slavery in Islamic Africa has been a fascinating subject to which many scholars have referred but of which no detailed monograph has emerged The better part of the essays in these volumes has its ancestry in a conference held at Princeton University during the Summer of 1977 under the title Islamic Africa Slavery and Related Institutions At that international gathering four principal themes dominated discussion the servile estate its genesis and composition the master slave connection and the post servile condition patterns and perspectives of slave trading the legacy of Islamic slavery in Africa to contemporary societies Slavery in the Global Diaspora of Africa Paul E. Lovejoy, 2019-03-07 The collective significance of the themes that are explored in Slavery in the Global Diaspora of Africa bridge the Atlantic and thereby provide insights into historical debates that address the ways in which parts of Africa fitted into the modern world that emerged in the Atlantic basin The study explores the conceptual problems of studying slavery in Africa and the broader Atlantic world from a perspective that focuses on Africa and the historical context that accounts for this influence Paul Lovejoy focuses on the parameters of the enforced migration of enslaved Africans including the impact on civilian populations in Africa constraints on migration and the importance of women and children in the movement of people who were enslaved The prevalence of slavery in Africa and the transformations of social and political formations of societies and political structures during the era of trans Atlantic migration inform the book s research The analysis places Africa specifically western Africa at the center of historical change not on the frontier or periphery of western Europe or the Americas and provides a global perspective that reconsiders historical reconstruction of the Atlantic world that challenges the distortions of Eurocentrism and national histories Slavery in the Global Diaspora of Africa will be of interest to scholars and students of colonial history African history Diaspora Studies the Black Atlantic and the history of slavery Landscapes of Slavery in Africa Lydia Wilson Marshall, 2021-05-15 Slavery was a large scale process that put its mark on the African landscape in tangible ways for example through the capture transfer and imprisonment of captives and through the avoidance strategies that vulnerable communities used against slaving Certainly the expansion of trade routes the depopulation of slaved regions and an increased reliance on defensive architecture and places of concealment can all be linked to slaving and slavery in Africa But how do we view these landscapes of slavery today And can archaeology help us Encompassing studies from Senegal Ghana Mauritius Tanzania and Kenya this volume grapples with such essential questions The authors advocate for the power of archaeology as a tool to disentangle often lengthy and complex landscape histories that both begin before slavery and continue after abolition They also argue for archaeologists central role in reimagining how we might remember and commemorate slavery in places where its history has been forgotten obscured by European colonialism or sanitized and simplified for tourist consumption The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of the Journal of African Diaspora Archaeology and Heritage Slavery and Colonial Rule in Africa Martin A. Klein, Suzanne Miers, 2013-05-13 This book brings together a series of new case studies some by young scholars others by widely published authors All are based on original research and designed to enhance our understanding of the process of the abolition of slavery in Africa at the grass roots level Part of the studies are on new areas of interest such as the German colonies and the Algerian Sahara Others throw new light on questions already debated such as emancipation of the Gold Coast Some focus on the impact of abolition on particular groups of slaves such as the royal slaves in Nigeria and concubines in Morocco Among the themes considered is the role of slaves in their own emancipation the short and long term results of abolition the role of the League of Nations and the vestiges of slavery in Africa today Slave Cultures and the Cultures of Slavery Stephan Palmié, 1995 Historians and anthropologists focus on the cultural dimensions of slavery in various geographical and historical settings They deal with conceptual and theoretical problems in current slavery studies as well as issues including Native American slaveholding the integration of former slaves into West African societies slave life on Caribbean sugar plantations slave cultures in Suriname female slave owners on the Gold Coast and Maroon communities Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR The End of Slavery in Africa Suzanne Miers, 1988 This is the first comprehensive assessment of the end of slavery in Africa Editors Suzanne Miers and Richard Roberts with the distinguished contributors to the volume establish an agenda for the social history of the early colonial period when the end of slavery was one of the most significant historical and cultural processes The End of Slavery in Africa is a sequel to Slavery in Africa edited by Suzanne Miers and Igor Kopytoff and published by the University of Wisconsin Press in 1977 The contributors explore the historical experiences of slaves masters and colonials as they all confronted the end of slavery in fifteen sub Saharan African societies The essays demonstrate that it is impossible to generalize about whether the end of slavery was a relatively mild and nondisruptive process or whether it marked a significant change in the social and economic organization of a given society There was no common pattern and no uniform consequence of the end of slavery The results of this wide ranging inquiry will be of lasting value to Africanists and a variety of social and economic historians Slavery from Roman Times to the Early Transatlantic Trade William D. Phillips,1985 Structure of Slavery in Indian Ocean Africa and Asia Gwyn Campbell,2004-11-23 The abolition of slavery in and around the Western Indian Ocean have been little studied This collection examines the meaning of slavery and its abolition in relation to specific indigenous societies and to Islam a religion that embraced the entire region and draws comparisons between similar developments in the Atlantic system Case studies include South Africa Mauritius Madagascar the Benadir Coast Arabia the Persian Gulf and India This volume marks an important new development in the study of slavery and its abolition in general and an original approach to the history of slavery in the Indian Ocean and Asia regions
