The Growth of the Modern West Indies Gordon K. Lewis, 1968 The Growth of the Modern West Indies , 1973 Colonialism and Postcolonial Development James Mahoney, 2010-02-15 In this comparative historical analysis of Spanish America Mahoney offers a new theory of colonialism and postcolonial development He explores why certain kinds of societies are subject to certain kinds of colonialism and why these forms of colonialism give rise to countries with differing levels of economic prosperity and social well being Mahoney contends that differences in the extent of colonialism are best explained by the potentially evolving fit between the institutions of the colonizing nation and those of the colonized society Moreover he shows how institutions forged under colonialism bring countries to relative levels of development that may prove remarkably enduring in the postcolonial period The argument is sure to stir discussion and debate both among experts on Spanish America who believe that development is not tightly bound by the colonial past and among scholars of colonialism who suggest that the institutional identity of the colonizing nation is of little consequence

Caribbean countries Decolonization, Self-Determination, and the Rise of Global Human Rights Politics A. Dirk Moses, Marco Duranti, Roland Burke, 2020-07-16 Leading scholars demonstrate how colonial subjects national liberation movements and empires mobilized human rights language to contest self determination during decolonization Patterns of Caribbean Development Jay Mandle, 2010-11-26 First published in 1982 this study attempts to put contemporary Caribbean development into historical perspective By first constructing a Marxist framework for the study of development Jay Mandle assesses the reasons why the region emerged underdeveloped and evaluates post world war two efforts to overcome the legacy of poverty through a strategy of industrialization through invitation Identifying the reasons why a Marxist framework yielded results which were unsatisfactory the author then explores the requirements which must be met for a more reliable study of the Caribbean s economic development Case studies of Cuba Jamaica Guyana Trinidad and Tobago examine the extent to which these requirements have been met W. Arthur Lewis and the Birth of Development Economics Robert L. Tignor, 2020-06-23 W Arthur Lewis was one of the foremost intellectuals economists and political activists of the twentieth century In this book the first intellectual biography of Lewis Robert Tignor traces Lewis s life from its beginnings on the small island of St Lucia to Lewis s arrival at Princeton University in the early 1960s A chronicle of Lewis s unflinching efforts to promote racial justice and decolonization it provides a history of development economics as seen through the life of one of its most important founders If there were a record for the number of firsts achieved by one man during his lifetime Lewis would be a contender He was the first black professor in a British university and also at Princeton University and the first person of African descent to win a Nobel Prize in a field other than literature or peace His writings which included his book The Theory of Economic Growth were among the first to describe the field of development economics Quickly gaining the attention of the leadership of colonized territories he helped develop blueprints for the changing relationship between the former colonies and their former rulers He made significant contributions to Ghana s quest for economic growth and the West Indies desire to create a first class institution of higher learning serving all of the Anglophone territories in the Caribbean This book based on Lewis s personal papers provides a new view of this renowned economist and his impact on economic growth in the twentieth century It will intrigue not only students of development economics but also anyone interested in colonialism and decolonization and justice for the poor in third world countries

Urbanization and Urban Growth in the Caribbean Malcolm Cross, 1979-06-14 This book originally published in 1979 as part of the Urbanization in Developing Countries series examines the nature and impact of unplanned urban growth in the Caribbean Unlike other parts of the underdeveloped world Caribbean societies are unique in having been created by European economic and strategic needs The original instrument for this domination was the plantation that generated the infamous history of migration from Africa and Asia and which continues to exert an important influence in determining the structure and growth of major urban centres The book also surveys some distinctive features of Caribbean societies including family life religions and social divisions apparently based on race and colour and concludes by affirming the need to redirect development strategies from Western models towards the creation of a uniquely Caribbean identity based on the redevelopment of land and the revival of agriculture Examples are drawn from Cuba Haiti Puerto Rico and the Commonwealth Caribbean
