In the Face of Diversity Nathan D. Gardner Molina,2025-05-01 The unity or uniformity of the Chinese Australian community has been frequently referenced in many recent political popular and even academic discussions The oneness of the community is often described as latent and inevitable if not already a fact Yet many Chinese Australians have also aspirationally used collective terms to refer to themselves there have been perennial calls to unite and advance the community or have it speak with one voice But has a united or unitary Chinese Australian community ever actually existed If so would a united community be a means to an end or an end in itself And where would this community sit in contemporary multicultural Australia I Am You Are We Are attempts to answer to these questions it is a history of more than a dozen Chinese Australian community organisations from across the country over five decades that draws on the English and Chinese language materials these organisations have produced over the years as well as interviews with ten past and present leaders Instead of a single community the evidence demonstrates the existence of many diverse Chinese Australian communities Consequently the book advances two ideas Chinese Australian unity presents itself as a chimera that inhabits the social space shared by Chinese Australians and has only ever been momentarily or partially grasped by community organisations Imagining the Chinese Australian community has nonetheless produced real world outcomes the most prominent being a highly participatory style of Australian multiculturalism These two ideas are woven through six moments in recent history that have been highly decisive for Chinese Australian communities I Am You Are We Are conveys Chinese Australian history in clear and evocative prose while remaining academically authoritative and socially conscious The result is a work that dismantles the prevailing myth of a single Chinese bloc to rebuild an appreciation of multiculturalism in Australia along with specific contributions made by Chinese Australian communities Metal Finishing

,1923 Revisiting Discovery and Justification Jutta Schickore, Friedrich Steinle, 2006-04-18 The distinction between the contexts of discovery and justification has had a turbulent career in philosophy of science At times celebrated as the hallmark of philosophical approaches to science at times condemned as ambiguous distorting and misleading the distinction dominated philosophical debates from the early decades of the twentieth century to the 1980s Until today it informs our conception of the content domain and goals of philosophy of science It is due to this fact that new trends in philosophy of experimentation and history and sociology of science have been marginalized by traditional scholarship in philosophy To acknowledge properly this important recent work we need to re open the debate about the nature development and significance of the context distinction about its merits and flaws The contributions to this volume provide close readings and detailed analyses of the original textual sources for the context distinction They revise those accounts of forerunners of the distinction that have been written through the lens of Logical Empiricism They map clarify and analyse the derivations and mutations of the context distinctions as we encounter them in current history and philosophy of science The re evaluation of the distinction helps us deal with the philosophical challenges that the New Experimentalism and historically socio politically and economically oriented science studies have placed before us This volume thus clears the ground for the productive and fruitful integration of these new developments into philosophy of science
