Excerpt from The Heart of Rome A Tale of the Lost Water If the family had debts why did he not borrow money and pay them That was what he was paid for doing after all It was true that he had not been paid for a year or two but that was a wretched detail Economy Had not the Princess given up her second maid as an extravagance What more did the man expect The Baroness knew all this and reflected upon what she knew as she deliberately got out of her cab at the foot of the grand staircase I will go upstairs myself she said Padrona observed the porter standing aside with his broom He explained in a single word that she was at liberty to go upstairs if she chose that it was not of the least use to go and that he would not be responsible for any disappointment if she were afterwards not pleased There is no language in the world which can say more in one word than the Italian or less in ten thousand according to the humour of the speaker The Baroness took no notice as she went up the stairs She was not very tall and was growing slowly and surely stout but she carried her rather large head high and had cultivated importance as a fine art with some success She moved steadily with a muffled sound as of voluminous invisible silk bellows that opened and shut at each step her outer dress was sombre but fashionable and she wore a long gold chain of curious and fine workmanship to carry her hand glass for she was nearsighted About the Publisher
