America's Folklorist Lawrence R. Rodgers, 2014-10-20 Folklorist writer editor regionalist cultural activist Benjamin Albert Botkin 1901 1975 was an American intellectual who made a mark on the twentieth century even though most people may be unaware of it This book the first to reevaluate the legacy of Botkin in the history of American culture celebrates his centenary through a collection of writings that assess his influence on scholarship and the American scene Through his work with the Federal Writers Project during the New Deal the Writers Unit of the Library of Congress Project and the Archive of American Folksong Botkin did more to collect and disseminate the nation's folk cultural heritage than any other individual in the twentieth century This volume focuses on Botkin's eclectic but interrelated concerns work and vision and offers a detailed sense of his life milieu influences and long term contributions Just as Botkin boldly cut across the boundaries between high and low popular and folk this book brings together reflections that range from the historical to the philosophical to the disarmingly personal One group of articles looks at his career and includes the first extended analysis of Botkin's poetry another probes the fruitful relationships Botkin had with leading musicologists composers poets and intellectuals of his day This is also the first book to bring together a collection of Botkin's best known writings giving readers an opportunity to appreciate his wide ranging mind and clear often memorable prose For Botkin the blurring of art and science literature and folklore was not just a philosophy but a way of life This book reflects that life and invites fans and those new to Botkin to appraise his lasting contributions

California Gold Catherine Hiebert Kerst, Library of Congress, 2024-04-02 California Gold offers a compelling cultural snapshot of a diverse California during the 1930s at the height of the New Deal drawing on the career of folk music collector Sidney Robertson and the musical culture of often unheard voices Robertson an intrepid young woman armed only with a map her notebooks and the recording equipment of the time proposed and directed a New Deal initiative the WPA California Folk Music Project designed to survey musical traditions from a wide range of English speaking and immigrant communities in Northern California In California Gold Catherine Hiebert Kerst explores Robertson's distinctive and modern approach to fieldwork and examines the numerous ethnographic documentary materials she generated with WPA project staff to capture a cross section of the music that people were actively performing in their communities Kerst highlights some of the most notable songs images and ephemera of the collection capturing and contextualizing the diverse musical traditions that California immigrant communities performed during the New Deal era Kerst also foregrounds the ethnographic insights and accomplishments of a significant woman folk music collector who has received less attention than she deserves
