The Oxford Handbook of Sound and Image in Western Art Yael Kaduri, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Sound and Image in Western Art is the first book to examine under one umbrella different kinds of analogies mutual influences integrations and collaborations of audio and visual in different art forms painting sculpture installation architecture performance art animation film video art visual music multimedia experimental music sound art opera theatre and dance Sitting at the cutting edge of the field of music and visual arts the book offers a unique at times controversial view of this rapidly evolving area of study

Ranciere and Music Cachopo Joao Pedro Cachopo, 2020-04-15 The place of music in Ranciere's thought has long been underestimated or unrecognised This volume responds to this absence with a collection of 15 essays by scholars from a variety of music and sound related fields including an Afterword by Ranciere on the role of music in his thought and writing The essays engage closely with Ranciere's existing commentary on music and its relationship to other arts in the aesthetic regime revealed through detailed case studies around music sound and listening Ranciere's thought is explored along a number of music historical trajectories including Italian and German opera Romantic and modernist music Latin American and South African music jazz and contemporary popular music Ranciere's work is also set creatively in dialogue with other key contemporary thinkers including Adorno Althusser Badiou and Deleuze

Rumour and Radiation Paul Hegarty, 2015-01-01 This is a book about video art and about sound art The thesis is that sound first entered the gallery via the video art of the 1960s and in so doing created an unexpected noise The early part of the book looks at this formative period and the key figures within it then jumps to the mid 1990s when video art has become such a major part of contemporary art production it no longer seems an autonomous form Paul Hegarty considers the work of a range of artists including Steve McQueen Christian Marclay Ryan Trecartin and Jane and Louise Wilson proposing different theories according to the particular strategy of the artist under discussion Connecting them all are the twinned ideas of intermedia and synaesthesia Hegarty offers close readings of video works as influenced by their sound while also considering the institutional and material contexts Applying contemporary sound theory to the world of video art Paul Hegarty offers an entirely fresh perspective on the interactions between sound sound art and the visual
