

SONNET 147

My love is as a fever, longing still
For that which longer nurseth the disease,
Feeding on that which doth preserve the ill,
Th' uncertain sickly appetite to please.

My reason, the physician to my love,
Angry that his prescriptions are not kept,
Hath left me, and I desperate now approve Desire is death, which physic did except.
Past cure I am, now reason is past care,
And frantic-mad with evermore unrest
My thoughts and my discourse as madmen's are,

At random from the truth vainly expressed
For I have sworn thee fair, and thought thee bright,

Who art as black as hell, as dark as night

Sonnets For Our Risorgimento:

Sonnets for Our Risorgimento John J. Soldo, 1993-01-01 Poems for the Millennium, Volume Three Jerome Rothenberg, Jeffrey C. Robinson, 2009-01-19 The previous two volumes of this acclaimed anthology set forth a globally decentered revision of twentieth century poetry from the perspective of its many avant gardes Now editors Jerome Rothenberg and Jeffrey C Robinson bring a radically new interpretation to the poetry of the preceding century viewing the work of the romantic and post romantic poets as an international collective often utopian enterprise that became the foundation of experimental modernism Global in its range volume three gathers selections from the poetry and manifestos of canonical poets as well as the work of lesser known but equally radical poets Defining romanticism as experimental and visionary Rothenberg and Robinson feature prose poetry verbal visual experiments and sound poetry along with more familiar forms seen here as if for the first time The anthology also explores romanticism outside the European orbit and includes ethnopoetic and archaeological works outside the literary mainstream The range of volume three and its skewing of the traditional canon illuminate the process by which romantics and post romantics challenged nineteenth century orthodoxies and propelled poetry to the experiments of a later modernism and avant gardism Elizabeth Barrett Browning: Selected Poems Elizabeth Barrett Browning, 2009-07-30 One of the leading poets of the nineteenth century Elizabeth Barrett Browning had a profound influence on her contemporaries and on writers that followed her This edition provides a rich and varied selection of Barrett Browning's poetry including relatively neglected material from her early career and works never before included in editions of her poetry The edition is comprehensively annotated and includes a critical introduction detailed headnotes for each poem also provide the reader with a deep understanding of the historical biographical and literary contexts in which the poems were written The extensive appendices include reviews and criticism and material on factory reform and slavery as well as religion and the Italian Question Lives of the Sonnet, 1787-1895 Marianne Van Remoortel, 2016-05-06 In a series of representative case studies Marianne Van Remoortel traces the development of the sonnet during intense moments of change and stability continuity and conflict from the early Romantic period to the end of the nineteenth century Paying particular attention to the role of the popular press which served as a venue of innovation and as a site of recruitment for aspiring authors Van Remoortel redefines the scope of the genre including the ways in which its development is intricately related to issues of gender Among her subjects are the Della Crucians and their primary critic William Gifford the young Samuel Taylor Coleridge and his circle Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Sonnets from the Portuguese George Meredith's Modern Love Dante Gabriel Rossetti's House of Life and Augusta Webster's Mother and Daughter As women became a force to be reckoned with among the reading public and the writing community the term sonnet often operated as a satirical label that was not restricted to poetry adhering to the strict formalities of the genre Van Remoortel's study in its attentiveness to the sonnet's feminization during the late eighteenth century offers important insights into the ways in which changing attitudes about gender and genre shaped critics' interpretations of the reception histories of nineteenth century sonnet sequences The Realms of Verse 1830-1870 Matthew Reynolds, 2005 Robert and Elizabeth Browning Tennyson and Clough lived and wrote in a time of nation building The Realms of Verse brings that political and intellectual context to life and traces its influence on the narratives language and form of their poetry Theoretically astute and historically detailed this study is the most far reaching reassessment of Victorian poetry to have been published in recent years Reading Victorian Literature Wolfreys Julian Wolfreys, 2019-08-28 A Festschrift honouring J Hillis Miller and his contribution to Victorian Studies and nineteenth century criticism Provides theoretically informed critical essays on nineteenth century and Victorian literature by major internationally recognized scholars Chapters provide detailed close readings of the work of J Hillis Miller Thomas Hardy Walter Pater William Michael Rossetti George Gissing Charles Dickens Alfred Lord Tennyson Anthony Trollope George Eliot and Joseph Conrad Showcases a major new essay by J Hillis Miller as well as a previously unpublished interview with Miller Reading Victorian Literature provides a critical commentary on major authors of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries from Dickens to Conrad At the same time the assembled group of internationally recognised scholars engages with Miller's work influence and significance in the study of that era The volume includes original work by Miller and interviews with him Masculinity in Four Victorian Epics Clinton Machann, 2016-05-06 Offering provocative readings of Tennyson's Idylls of the King Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh Clough's Amours de Voyage and Browning's The Ring and the Book Clinton Machann brings to bear the ideas and methods of literary Darwinism to shed light on the central issue of masculinity in the Victorian epic This critical approach enables Machann to take advantage of important research in evolutionary psychology cognitive science anthropology among other scientific fields and to bring the concept of human nature into his discussions of the poems The importance of the Victorian long poem as a literary genre is reviewed in the introduction followed by transformative close readings of the poems that engage with questions of gender particularly representations of masculinity and the prevalence of male violence Machann contextualizes his reading within the poets' views on social philosophical and religious issues arguing that the impulses drives and tendencies of human nature as well as the historical and cultural context influenced the writing and thus must inform the interpretation of the Victorian epic Performing National Identity, 2008-01-01 National identity is not some naturally given or metaphysically sanctioned racial or territorial essence that only needs to be conceptualised or spelt out in discursive texts it emerges from takes shape in and is constantly defined and redefined in individual and collective performances It is in performances ranging from the scenarios of everyday interactions to cultural performances such as pageants festivals political manifestations or sports to the artistic performances of music dance theatre literature the visual and culinary arts and more recent media that cultural identity and a sense of nationhood are fashioned National identity is not an essence one is born with but something acquired in and through performances Particularly important here are intercultural performances and transactions and that not only in a colonial and postcolonial dimension where such performative aspects have already been considered but also in inner European transactions Englishness or Britishness and Italianity the subject of this anthology are staged both within each culture and more importantly in joint performances of difference across cultural borders Performing difference highlights differences that make a difference it draws a line between self and other boundary lines that are however constantly being redrawn and renegotiated and remain instable and shifting

Mediterranean Heritage (Routledge Revivals) David Scott Fox, 2014-06-17 Mediterranean Heritage first published in 1978 offers a wide ranging and perceptive discussion of the often concealed links between English culture and the common heritage of Western Europe the Graeco Roman legacy of the Mediterranean There seems to have been no time when England has not been in touch with the civilisations of Greece and Italy even Stonehenge the most dramatic survivor of our remotest past has a carved dagger of Mycenaean pattern among its ornaments The pioneers of a distinctly English creative vision Shakespeare Sidney Milton clearly looked to Italy Throughout the eighteenth century grand tourists found southern Europe irresistible The Romantics all became enraptured by the Mediterranean and passed on their fascination in some of the most passionate poetry in English Appearing at a time which England is more obviously a part of Europe than she has been for sixteen hundred years Mediterranean Heritage provides valuable insights into the origins of our culture's greatest achievements

American Novelists in Italy Nathalia Wright, 2016-11-11 This is a study of the effect of their travels in Italy on thirteen American writers among them Washington Irving Nathaniel Hawthorne Harriet Beecher Stowe W D Howells and Henry James Nathalia Wright's thesis is that Italy was a major influence on the American writers of fiction who visited that country Some of these writers went to Italy for reasons of health others because they were dissatisfied with the status of artists in the United States and wished the pleasure and adventure of living in a country permeated with artistic sensibility They all had in common a love for the Italian countryside even if their opinions of the Italian personality varied American Novelists in Italy is concerned with those writers who wrote between 1804 and 1870 or had begun to write by 1870 It deals with their travels in Italy and discusses in detail the treatment of Italian material in their subsequent writing From their Italian experience issued such diverse novels as Cooper's The Water Witch the most lighthearted and imaginative of all Cooper's novels Hawthorne's The Marble Faun and James's The Golden Bowl In addition Dr Wright views in detail numerous works by lesser known authors Illustrated with works of nineteenth century artists who also travelled in Italy this book should be of interest to all students of American literature especially since it is the first book to deal in depth with the influence of Italy on the American novel

The Gendered Lyric Gretchen Schultz, 1999 The Gendered Lyric portrays gender as being central to the full appreciation of nineteenth century French poetry Schultz contends that both male and female poets of the major movements relied on sexual difference to define their poetic
