Soul Mountain Gao Xingjian, 2000-12-05 In 1983 Chinese playwright critic fiction writer and painter Gao Xingjian pronounced gow shing jen was diagnosed with lung cancer and faced imminent death But six weeks later a second examination revealed there was no cancer he had won a reprieve from death and had been thrown back into the world of the living Faced with a repressive cultural environment and the threat of a spell in a prison farm Gao fled Beijing He traveled to the remote mountains and ancient forests of Sichuan in southwest China and from there back to the east coast a journey of fifteen thousand kilometers over a period of five months The results of this epic voyage of discovery is Soul Mountain A bold lyrical prodigious novel Soul Mountain probes the human soul with an uncommon directness and candor Interwoven with the myriad of stories and countless memorable characters from venerable Daoist masters and Buddhist nuns to mythical Wild Men deadly Qichun snakes and farting buses is the narrator's poignant inner journey and search for freedom Fleeing the social conformity required by the Communist government he wanders deep into the regions of the Qiang Miago and Yi peoples located on the fringes of Han Chinese civilization and discovers a plethora of different traditions history legends folk songs and landscapes Slowly with the help of memory imagination and sensory experience he reconstructs his personal past He laments the impact of the Cultural Revolution on the ecology both human and physical of China And in a polyphony of narrating selves the narrator's I spawns a you a she and a he each with a distinct perspective and voice the novel delights in the freedom of the imagination to expand the notion of the individual self Storytelling saves the narrator from a deep loneliness that is part of the human condition His search for meaning in life in the journey turns up the possibility that there may be no meaning The elusive Lingshan Soul Mountain which becomes the object of his quest never yields up its secrets but the journey is a rich strange provocative and rewarding one Soul Mountain is a novel of immense wisdom and profound beauty

Ink Dances in Limbo Jessica Yeung, 2008-07-01 In this pioneering study of the entire written works of Gao Xingjian China's first winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature Jessica Yeung analyses each group of his writing and argues for a reading of Gao's writing as a phenomenon of cultural translation his adoption of Modernism in the 1980s is a translation of the European literary paradigm and his attempt at postmodernist writing in the 1990s and 2000s is the effect of an exilic nihilism expressive of a diasporic subjectivity struggling to translate himself into his host culture Thus Dr Yeung looks at Gao's works from a double perspective in terms of their relevance both to China and to the West Avoiding the common polarized approaches to Gao's works her dual approach means that she neither extolls them as the most brilliant works of contemporary Chinese literature eligible for elevation to the metaphysical level nor dismisses them as nothing more than elitist and misogynist mediocre writings rather she sees this important body of work in a more nuanced way This book is suitable for all readers who are interested in contemporary Chinese culture and literature It is particularly valuable to students who are keen to engage with the issue of contemporary China West cultural relationships

Estok, Jonathan White, I-Chun Wang, 2016-05-12 Written from within the best traditions of ecocritical thought this book provides a wide ranging account of the spatial imagination of landscape and seascape in literary and cultural contexts from many regions of the world It brings together essays by authors writing from within diverse cultural traditions across historical periods from ancient Egypt to the postcolonial and postmodern present and touches on an array of divergent theoretical interventions The volume investigates how our spatial imaginations become wired looking at questions about mediation and exploring how various traditions compete for prominence in our spatial imagination In what ways is personal experience inflected by prevailing cultural traditions of representation and interpretation Can an individual maintain a unique and distinctive spatial imagination in the face of dominant trends in perception and interpretation What are the environmental implications of how we see landscape The book reviews how landscape is at once conceptual and perceptual illuminating several important themes including the temporality of space the mediations of place that form the response of an observer of a landscape and the development of response in any single life from early partial thoughts to more considered ideas in maturity Chapters provide suggestive and culturally nuanced propositions from varying points of view on ancient and modern landscapes and seascapes and on how individuals or societies have arranged conceptualized or imagined circumambient space Opening up issues of landscape seascape and spatiality this volume commences a wide ranging critical

Pilgrimage in Tibet

Alex McKay,2013-12-16 The Western image of Tibet as a sacred land is in many ways a mythical construction But the Tibetans themselves have traditionally mapped out their land in terms of areas of sacred space and pilgrimage ensuring a high degree of mobility within all classes of Tibetan society Pilgrims travelled to local regional and national centres throughout recorded Tibetan history In recent years pilgrimage has resumed in areas where it had been forbidden by the Chinese authorities and has now become one of the most prominent religious expressions of Tibetan national identity In this
