Bulthuis, 2017-04 In the fifty years after the Constitution was signed in 1787 New York City grew from a port town of 30 000 to a metropolis of over half a million residents This rapid development transformed a once tightknit community and its religious experience These effects were felt by Trinity Episcopal Church which had presented itself as a uniting influence in New York that connected all believers in social unity in the late colonial era As the city grew larger more impersonal and socially divided churches reformed around race and class based neighborhoods Trinity's original vision of uniting the community was no longer possible In Four Steeples over the City Streets Kyle T Bulthuis examines the histories of four famous church congregations in early Republic New York City Trinity Episcopal John Street Methodist Mother Zion African Methodist and St Philip's African Episcopal to uncover the lived experience of these historical subjects and just how religious experience and social change connected in the dynamic setting of early Republic New York Drawing on a range of primary sources Four Steeples over the City Streets reveals how these city churches responded to these transformations from colonial times to the mid nineteenth century Bulthuis also adds new dynamics to the stories of well known New Yorkers such as John Jay James Harper and Sojourner Truth More importantly Four Steeples over the City Streets connects issues of race class and gender urban studies and religious experience revealing how the city shaped these churches and how their respective religious traditions shaped the way they reacted to the city Publisher The Quotable Saint Rosemary

Guiley, 2002 An alphabetically arranged compendium offering the wisdom of more than one hundred saints Founding Friendships Cassandra A. Good, 2015-01-02 When Harry Met Sally is only the most iconic of popular American movies books and articles that pose the question of whether friendships between men and women are possible In Founding Friendships Cassandra A Good shows that this question was embedded in and debated as far back as the birth of the American nation Indeed many of the nation's founding fathers had female friends but popular rhetoric held that these relationships were fraught with social danger if not impossible Elite men and women formed loving politically significant friendships in the early national period that were crucial to the individuals lives as well as the formation of a new national political system as Cassandra Good illuminates Abigail Adams called her friend Thomas Jefferson one of the choice ones on earth while George Washington signed a letter to his friend Elizabeth Powel with the words I am always Yours Their emotionally rich language is often mistaken for romance but by analyzing period letters diaries novels and etiquette books Good reveals that friendships between men and women were quite common At a time when personal relationships were deeply political these bonds offered both parties affection and practical assistance as well as exemplified republican values of choice freedom equality and virtue In so doing these friendships embodied the core values of the new nation and represented a transitional moment in gender and culture Northern and Southern famous and lesser known the men and women examined in Founding Friendships offer a fresh look at how the founding generation defined and experienced friendship love gender and power

Pioneer Spirit Mary Ellen Doyle, 2021-12-14 Mother Catherine Spalding 1793 1858 was the cofounder and first leader of one of the most significant American religious communities for women the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth near Bardstown Kentucky Elected at age nineteen to lead the order Spalding also founded several educational institutions Louisville s first private hospital and the first social service agency for children in Kentucky Pioneer Spirit is the first biography of Catherine Spalding a woman who made it her life s work to serve the citizens of the Kentucky frontier Catherine who lost her mother at a young age and was raised in many different homes before she was ten years old eventually came to be raised in a colony of Catholic families These formative years taught her independence the value of hard work and an enduring spirit and the importance of education all of which would figure prominently in her later career Spalding became increasingly interested in health care services for orphans and education and her business skills and strong sense of purpose allowed her to achieve her goals with little interference from outsiders She showed a natural gift for administration and the scope and services of the Sisters of Charity expanded under her leadership In the midst of this ministerial work however Spalding always maintained the connection of her ministry to spiritual and communal life ascribing great importance to all three facets of her calling Author Mary Ellen Doyle notes that in Spalding s correspondence with the Sisters she repeatedly emphasized the heart of charity genuine interest in each other and sisterly affection free of personal ambition or jealousy By the time of Catherine Spalding s death the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth extended beyond Nazareth to more than one hundred sisters in sixteen convents Spalding s legacy of service continues today with more than six hundred members worldwide and her story of progressive and compassionate leadership offers unique insights into the growth of a religious order and the struggles of developing America s frontier communities
