Filipe Carreira da Silva, Mónica Brito Vieira, 2019-05-16 It is impossible to separate the content of a book from its form In this study Filipe Carreira da Silva and Mónica Brito Vieira expand our understanding of the history of social and political scholarship by examining how the entirety of a book mediates and constitutes meaning in ways that affect its substance appropriation and reception over time Examining the evolving form of classic works of social and political thought including W E B Du Bois's The Souls of Black Folk G H Mead's Mind Self and Society and Karl Marx's 1844 Economic and Philosophic Manuscripts Carreira da Silva and Brito Vieira show that making these books involved many hands They explore what publishers editors translators and commentators accomplish by offering the reading public new versions of the works under consideration examine debates about the intended meaning of the works and discussions over their present relevance and elucidate the various ways in which content and material form are interwoven In doing so Carreira da Silva and Brito Vieira characterize the editorial process as a meaning producing action involving both collaboration and an ongoing battle for the importance of the book form to a work's disciplinary belonging ideological positioning and political significance Theoretically sophisticated and thoroughly researched The Politics of the Book radically changes our understanding of what doing social and political theory and its history implies It will be welcomed by scholars of book history the history of social and political thought and social and political theory Sociological Theory in the Classical Era Laura Desfor Edles, Scott

Appelrouth, 2020-06-18 Now available for the first time in both print and e-book formats Sociological Theory in the Classical Era Fourth Edition is an innovative text reader for courses in classical theory It introduces students to important original works by sociology's key classical theorists while providing a thorough framework for understanding these challenging readings For each theorist the editors supply a biographical sketch discuss intellectual influences and core ideas and offer contemporary applications of those ideas In addition to the seven major theorists covered the book also connects their work to Significant Others writers and thinkers who may have derived much of their own perspectives from Marx Durkheim Weber Gilman Simmel Du Bois and Mead Included with this title The password protected Instructor Resource Site formally known as SAGE Edge offers access to all text specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter specific PowerPoint slides The Motherless Child in the Novels of Pauline Hopkins Jill Bergman, 2012-12-17 Well known in her day as a singer playwright novelist and editor of the Colored American Magazine Pauline Hopkins 1859-1930 has been the subject of considerable scholarly attention over the last twenty years Nevertheless her novels have not received their critical due The Motherless Child the first book length study of Hopkins's major fictions fills this critical gap offering a sustained analysis of motherlessness in Contending Forces Hagar's Daughter Winona and Of One Blood Inventing the New Negro Daphne

Lamothe, 2013-03-01 It is no coincidence Daphne Lamothe writes that so many black writers and intellectuals of the first half of the twentieth century either trained formally as ethnographers or worked as amateur collectors of folklore and folk culture. In Inventing the New Negro, Lamothe explores the process by which key figures such as Zora Neale Hurston, Katherine Dunham, W. E. B. Du Bois, James Weldon Johnson, and Sterling Brown adapted ethnography and folklore in their narratives to create a cohesive collective and modern black identity. Lamothe explores how these figures assumed the roles of self-reflective translators and explicators of African American and African diasporic cultures to Western, largely white audiences. Lamothe argues that New Negro writers ultimately shifted the presuppositions of both literary modernism and modernist anthropology by making their narratives as much about ways of understanding as they were about any quest for objective knowledge. In critiquing the ethnographic framework within which they worked, they confronted the classist, racist, and cultural biases of the dominant society and challenged their readers to imagine a different set of relations between the powerful and the oppressed. Inventing the New Negro combines an intellectual history of one of the most important eras of African American letters with nuanced and original readings of seminal works of literature. It will be of interest not only to Harlem Renaissance scholars but to anyone who is interested in the intersections of culture, literature, folklore, and ethnography.

Citizen of the World Phillip Luke Sinitiere, 2019-08-15. In his 1952 book In Battle for Peace, published when W. E. B. Du Bois was eighty-three years old, the brilliant black scholar announced that he was a citizen of the world. Citizen of the World chronicles selected chapters of Du Bois's final three decades between the 1930s and 1960s. It maps his extraordinarily active and productive latter years to social, cultural, and political transformations across the globe. From his birth in 1868 until his death in 1963, Du Bois sought the liberation of black people in the United States and across the world through intellectual and political labor. His tireless efforts documented and demonstrated connections between freedom for African descended people abroad and black freedom at home. In concert with growing scholarship on his twilight years, the essays in this volume assert the fundamental importance of considering Du Bois's later decades not as a life in decline that descended into blind ideological allegiance to socialism and communism but as the life of a productive, generative intellectual who responded rationally, imaginatively, and radically to massive mid-century changes around the world and who remained committed to freedom's realization until his final hour.

W.E.B. Du Bois Gerald Horne, 2009-11-12. This biography of W. E. B. Du Bois gives full measure to his entire life, including his controversial final decades. This revealing biography captures the full life of W. E. B. Du Bois: historian, sociologist, author, editor, a leader in the fight to bring African Americans more fully into the American landscape, as well as forceful proponent of them leaving America altogether and returning to Africa. Drawing on extensive research, Gerald Horne, a leading authority on Du Bois and a versatile and prolific scholar in his own right, offers a fully rounded portrait of this accomplished and controversial figure, including the often overlooked final decades without which no portrait of Du Bois could be complete. The book also highlights Du Bois's relationships with and influence upon other leading civil rights activists, both during and subsequent to his extraordinarily long life, including Booker T. Washington.

 analysis of archival photographs collected by W E B Du Bois and exhibited at the Paris Exposition of 1900 Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Scott Appelrouth, Laura Desfor Edles, 2020-08-13 Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Text and Readings provides students with the best of both worlds carefully edited excerpts from the original works of sociology's key thinkers accompanied by an analytical framework that discusses the lives ideas and historical circumstances of each theorist This unique format enables students to examine compare and contrast each theorist's major themes and concepts Toni Morrison Adrienne Lanier Seward, Justine Tally, 2014-08-12 Toni Morrison Memory and Meaning boasts essays by well known international scholars focusing on the author's literary production and including her very latest works the theatrical production Desdemona and her tenth and latest novel Home These original contributions are among the first scholarly analyses of these latest additions to her oeuvre and make the volume a valuable addition to potential readers and teachers eager to understand the position of Desdemona and Home within the wider scope of Morrison's career Indeed in Home we find a reworking of many of the tropes and themes that run throughout Morrison's fiction prompting the editors to organize the essays as they relate to themes prevalent in Home In many ways Morrison has actually initiated paradigm shifts that permeate the essays They consistently reflect in approach and interpretation the revolutionary change in the study of American literature represented by Morrison's focus on the interior lives of enslaved Africans This collection assumes black subjectivity rather than argues for it in order to reread and revise the horror of slavery and its consequences into our time The analyses presented in this volume also attest to the broad range of interdisciplinary specializations and interests in novels that have now become classics in world literature The essays are divided into five sections each entitled with a direct quotation from Home and framed by two poems Rita Dove's The Buckeye and Sonia Sanchez's Aayeyee Babo Aayeyee Babo Aayeyee Babo The African Diaspora and the Study of Religion T. Trost, 2007-12-25
 This book focuses on the location of the religious heritage of Africa within the academic study of religion including sociologist political economist and civil rights activist his masterpiece The Souls of Black Folk remains one of the most widely race studies to black feminism and black Marxism Rabaka argues that Du Bois's corpus particularly when attention is given to his contributions to the critique of racism sexism capitalism and colonialism can be persuasively interpreted as both an undeniable and unprecedented contribution to the origins and evolution of one of our most important contemporary critical concepts intersectionality Du Bois A Critical Introduction is an indispensable resource for scholars and students of history sociology politics and economics It will also be very valuable for those working in interdisciplinary fields ranging from African American studies critical race studies and critical white studies to black feminism black Marxism and black internationalism

Sounding the Break Jason Frydman, 2014-04-03 The idea of world literature has served as a crucial though underappreciated interlocutor for African diasporic writers informing their involvement in processes of circulation translation and revision that have been identified as the hallmarks of the contemporary era of world literature Yet in spite of their participation in world systems before and after European hegemony Africa and the African diaspora have been excluded from the networks and archives of world literature In Sounding the Break Jason Frydman attempts to redress this exclusion by drawing on historiography ethnography and archival sources to show how writers such as W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Alejo Carpentier Derek Walcott Maryse Condé and Toni Morrison have complicated both Eurocentric and Afrocentric categories of literary and cultural production Through their engagement with and revision of the European world literature discourse he contends these writers conjure a deep history of literary traffic whose expressions are always already cosmopolitan embedded in the long histories of cultural and economic exchange between Africa Asia and Europe It is precisely the New World American location of these writers

Frydman concludes that makes possible this revisionary perspective on the idea of Old World literature Belief Aaron Z. Zimmerman, 2018-04-12 Have you ever called yourself a pragmatist Have you ever wondered what that means Aaron Zimmerman traces the origins of pragmatism to a theory of belief defended by the nineteenth century Scottish philosopher Alexander Bain and defends a novel take on the pragmatic theory in light of contemporary cognitive neuroscience social psychology and evolutionary biology Pragmatists define their beliefs in terms of information poised to guide our more attentive controlled actions Zimmerman describes the consequences of this definition for the reader s thinking on the relation between psychology and philosophy the mind and brain the nature of delusion faith pretence racism and more He employs research on animal cognition to argue against the propositional attitude analysis of belief now popular among Anglo American philosophers offers pragmatic diagnoses of Capgras syndrome and various forms of racial cognition and defends William James famous doctrine of the will to believe Zimmerman believes we often have room to believe what we want Indeed the adoption of a theory of belief is an instance of this very phenomenon
