Black Diamond Queens Maureen Mahon, 2020-10-09 African American women have played a pivotal part in rock and roll from laying its foundations and singing chart topping hits to influencing some of the genre's most iconic acts. Despite this, black women's importance to the music's history has been diminished by narratives of rock as a mostly white male enterprise. In Black Diamond Queens, Maureen Mahon draws on recordings, press coverage, archival materials and interviews to document the history of African American women in rock and roll between the 1950s and the 1980s. Mahon details the musical contributions and cultural impact of Big Mama Thornton, LaVern Baker, Betty Davis, Tina Turner, Merry Clayton, Labelle, the Shirelles and others, demonstrating how dominant views of gender, race, sexuality and genre affected their careers. By uncovering this hidden history of black women in rock and roll, Mahon reveals a powerful sonic legacy that continues to reverberate into the twenty-first century.

This important book summarises key research on what determines consumer perceptions of sweet taste, the range of sweet tasting compounds and the ways their use in foods can be optimised. The first part of the book reviews factors affecting sweet taste perception. It includes chapters on how taste cells respond to sweet taste compounds, genetic differences in sweet taste perception, the influence of taste odour and taste ingredient interactions and ways of measuring consumer perceptions of sweet taste. Gender, Writing, and Performance Helen J. Swift, 2008-02-28 This book explores the poetics of literary defences of women written by men in late medieval and early modern France. It fills an important lacuna in studies of this polemic in imaginative literature by bridging the gap between Christine de Pizan and a later generation of women writers and male Neo-Platonist writers who have recently all received due critical attention. Whereas male-authored defences composed between 1440 and 1538 have previously been dismissed as insincere or mere intellectual games, Swift formulates reading strategies to overcome such critical stumbling blocks and engage with the particular rhetorical and historical contexts of these works. Edited and as yet unedited texts by Martin Le Franc, Jacques Milet, Pierre Michault, and Jean Bouchet, catalogues of women, allegorical narratives, and debate poems are brought together and analysed in detail for the first time in order to explore, for example, how such works address the misogynistic spectre of Jean de Meun's Roman de la rose. The book seeks to understand the contemporary popularity of the case for women, la querelle des femmes, as literary subject matter. It investigates the publication history across this period, from manuscript to print, of Le Franc's Le Champion des dames. Swift further aims to show how these texts hold interest for modern audiences A nexus of theoretical concerns centred on performance Judith Butler s gender performativity Derrida s re working of Austin s linguistic performativity through spectrality and dramatic performance is enlisted to articulate the interpretative engagement expected by querelle writers of their audience The reading strategies proposed foster a nuanced and enriched perspective on the question of a male author s sincerity when writing in defence of women
