Fernandez, 2007-03 When the Spanish Civil War began in 1936 loosely affiliated groups of writers artists and other politically aware individuals emerged in New York City to give voice to anti fascist sentiment by supporting the Spanish Republic Facing Fascism New York and the Spanish Civil War examines the participation of New Yorkers in the political struggles and armed conflict that many historians consider a critical precursor to World War II Nearly half of the 2 800 Americans who volunteered to fight in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade against Generalissimo Francisco Franco came from the New York area Fundraising propaganda and deployment for anti fascists everywhere in America were orchestrated through New York City At the same time powerful voices in New York expressed sympathy for the pro fascist side The fighting in Spain brought to the surface the complex ideological and ethnic identities always present in New York politics Facing Fascism examines the full range of this experience including that of the New Yorkers who supported Franco It addresses the role of doctors nurses and social workers who left New York hospitals to provide assistance to the defenders of the Spanish Republic as well as those who remained active on the home front The book also describes the involvement of students in the war the key role of writers and the media and the contributions made by members of New York s art and theater communities Facing Fascism also serves as the catalog to an exhibition of the same name appearing at the Museum of the City of New York in the spring of 2007 The book and exhibition both make use of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade Archives extensive holdings which range from historical documents to video recordings of oral histories Numerous other libraries archives museums and private collectors have also been consulted to make this the most complete exhibition of its kind ever mounted The exhibition will also appear in Spain Bad Faith Andrew Feffer, 2019-01-08 This history of an anticommunist hysteria that swept the 1940s New York City school system captures the mania of the time and will shock readers The Times Union In summer 1940 as war spread across Europe and America pulled itself out of the Great Depression New York City was suddenly convulsed Targeting the city s municipal colleges and public schools the state legislature s Rapp Coudert investigation dragged hundreds of suspects before public and private tribunals to root out a perceived communist conspiracy to hijack the city s teachers unions subvert public education and indoctrinate the nation s youth Drawing on the vast archive of Rapp Coudert records Bad Faith provides the first full history of this witch hunt which lasted from August 1940 to March 1942 Anticipating McCarthyism and making it possible the episode would have repercussions for decades to come In recapturing this moment in the history of prewar anticommunism Bad Faith challenges assumptions about the origins of McCarthyism the liberal political tradition and the role of anticommunism in modern American life With roots in the city s political culture Rapp Coudert enjoyed the support of not only conservatives but also key liberal reformers and intellectuals who well before the Cold War raised threats to national security joined in accusing communists of bad faith and branded them enemies of American democracy This study of the Rapp Coudert inquisition raises difficult questions about the good faith of the many liberals willing to aid and endorse the emerging Red scare as they sacrificed principles of open debate and academic freedom in the interest of achieving what they believed would be effective modern government based on bipartisanship and a new and seemingly permanent economic prosperity War is for the Living Chuong-Dai Vo,Midori Yamamura,Sylvia Wald and Po Kim Art Gallery,2013 New York Magazine ,1994-01-10 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea The Women of Atelier 17 Christina Weyl,2019-01-01 This timely reexamination of the experimental New York print studio Atelier 17 focuses on the women whose work defied gender norms through novel aesthetic forms and techniques Designing the Creative Child Amy F. Ogata,2013-04-21 The postwar American stereotypes of suburban sameness traditional gender roles and educational conservatism have masked an alternate self image tailor made for the Cold War The creative child an idealized future citizen was the darling of baby boom parents psychologists marketers and designers who saw in the next generation promise that appeared to answer the most pressing worries of the age Designing the Creative Child reveals how a postwar cult of childhood creativity developed and continues to this day Exploring how the idea of children as imaginative and naturally creative was constructed disseminated and consumed in the United States after World War II Amy F Ogata argues that educational toys playgrounds small middle class houses new schools and children s museums were designed to cultivate imagination in a growing cohort of baby boom children Enthusiasm for encouraging creativity in children countered Cold War fears of failing competitiveness and the postwar critique of social conformity making creativity an emblem of national revitalization Ogata describes how a historically rooted belief in children s capacity for independent thinking was transformed from an elite concern of the interwar years to a fully consumable and aspirational ideal that persists today From building blocks to Gumby playhouses to Playskool trains Creative Playthings to the Eames House of Cards Crayola fingerprint to children s museums material goods and spaces shaped a popular understanding of creativity and Designing the Creative Child demonstrates how this notion has been woven into the fabric of American culture A Tea Drinker'S

Novel: Chilverton Park Susan Russell Thompson, 2016-07-12 Chilverton Park the first in a planned series of Tea Drinkers Novels is a humorous light Victorian style romance in a period setting written in a manner reminiscent of both Anthony Trollope and P G Wodehouse At the heart of this charming story lies an unusual attachment between the gay confirmed bachelor about London Sir Erskine Wald and his childhood friend the winsome but delicate daughter of the Earl of Chilverton Lady Caroline Downey Lady Caroline who earnestly wishes to remain single reveals her intention to Sir Erskine who eventually acknowledges that they have that aim in common But avoiding marriage in Victorian England is an admittedly tricky business Lady Carolines Aunt Clara is determined to oppose her at every step and begins a program of ill conceived interference which brings Sir Erskine to Lady Carolines aid in league with his mother the formidable Mrs Hortensia Wald Lady Caroline manages with their help to stay above the Victorian era intrigue surrounding her until her Aunt Clara manages to corner her in an almost inescapable dilemma Report Upon the Condition and Progress of the Museums Brooklyn Museum, 1960 Central to Their Lives Lynne Blackman, 2018-06-20 Scholarly essays on the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South Looking back at her lengthy career just four years before her death modernist painter Nell Blaine said Art is central to my life Not being able to make or see art would be a major deprivation The Virginia native s creative path began early and during the course of her life she overcame significant barriers in her quest to make and even see art including serious vision problems polio and paralysis And then there was her gender In 1957 Blaine was hailed by Life magazine as someone to watch profiled alongside four other emerging painters whom the journalist praised not as notable women artists but as notable artists who happen to be women In Central to Their Lives twenty six noted art historians offer scholarly insight into the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South Spanning the decades between the late 1890s and early 1960s this volume examines the complex challenges these artists faced in a traditionally conservative region during a period in which women s social cultural and political roles were being redefined and reinterpreted The presentation and its companion exhibition features artists from all of the Southern states including Dusti Bong Anne Goldthwaite Anna Hyatt Huntington Ida Kohlmeyer Lo s Mailou Jones Alma Thomas and Helen Turner These essays examine how the variables of historical gender norms educational barriers race regionalism sisterhood suffrage and modernism mitigated and motivated these women who were seeking expression on canvas or in clay Whether working from studio space in spare rooms at home or on the world stage these artists made remarkable contributions to the art world while fostering future generations of artists through instruction incorporating new aesthetics into the fine arts and challenging the status quo Sylvia Yount the Lawrence A Fleischman Curator in Charge of the American Wing at the Metropolitan Museum of Art provides a foreword to the volume Contributors Sara C Arnold Daniel Belasco Lynne Blackman Carolyn J Brown Erin R Corrales Diaz John A Cuthbert Juilee Decker Nancy M Doll Jane W Faquin Elizabeth C Hamilton Elizabeth S Hawley Maia Jalenak Karen Towers Klacsmann Sandy McCain Dwight McInvaill Courtney A McNeil
