Song Of The Magdalene A Novel:

Song of the Magdalene Donna Jo Napoli, 2004-05 Relates the story of Miriam a young girl being raised by her widowed father in ancient Israel who grows up to be Mary Magdalene A Song of Songs Jennifer Chapin, 2008-06 This is a novel about the return of Mary Magdalene at the end of time It tells of her final incarnation as a young woman named Jenna who is born with a birthmark over her forehead shaped like the continent of Africa Jenna is irreligious and tough and unhappily immersed in the corporate world Unbidden she starts to have dreams and visions of a time with Christ and they become so real that she crosses through time to find herself weeping at his feet during the crucifixion This is also a story about the Cathars in the Languedoc area of France The Cathars embraced the idea of reincarnation For this and for their belief in direct revelation and a dualistic universe of good and evil they were destroyed by the Catholic Church in the 13th century In the process their society was destroyed too as town after town was mercilessly razed by the crusaders and thousands put to death men women and children none were spared This became known as the first western genocide of Christian against Christian Because of the Cathars the Church gave birth to the Inquisition The Cathars loved Mary Magdalene and believed that she was the beloved of Christ and the keeper of his teachings Their story is interwoven with the Knights Templar who were embedded in the Languedoc and with Jenna s ongoing odyssey as she comes to full awareness of who she is Ultimately this is a story about love that does not depend on time It is also a warning about the end of time Donna Jo Napoli Hilary S. Myths are stories that both tell us how to live and remind us of the inescapability and pull of the collective past. The Survival of Myth: Innovation, Singularity, and Alterity explores the continuing power of primal stories to inhabit our thinking. An international range of contributors examine a range of texts and figures from the Bible to Cormac McCarthy and from Thor to the Virgin Mary to focus on the way that ancient stories both give access to the unconscious and offer individuals and communities personae or masks. Myths translated and recreated become in this sense very public acts about very private thoughts and feelings. The subtitle of the book, Innovation, Singularity, and Alterity, reflects the way in which the history of cultures in all genres is a history of innovation of a search for new modes of expression which paradoxically often entails recourse to myth precisely because it offers narratives of singularity and otherness which may be readily appropriated. The individual contributors offer testament to the continuing significance of myth through its own constant metamorphosis as it both reflects and transforms the societies in which it is re-produced. Magdalene's Lost Legacy Margaret Starbird, 2003-05-05 Using New Testament gematria symbolic number values encoded in the Greek phrases the author reveals that the sacred couple was one of the essential pillars of early Christian teachings before being denied by the architects of institutional Christianity and obscured by later Church doctrine. English Journal, 1998 They Called Him Yeshua: the Story of the Young Jesus Donald L. Brake, 2019-02-12 Brake and Beach invite the reader to time travel into the first century the world of an ordinary family facing extraordinary challenges as they grapple with young Jesus's developing self-awareness and preparation for His divine mission. With biblical and historical accuracy insightful sanctified imagination and brilliant storytelling Brake and Beach foreshadow what we know with certainty from the New Testament. Get ready for epiphanies aplenty. David Sanford executive editor of four Bibles published by Zondervan and Tyndale House. In these pages you are welcomed inside the home of a young son of Israel who is growing in wisdom and stature. Do step inside. Smell the morning bread baking. Feel the daily tension living in small town Nazareth where the brutal Roman military is stationed. Re-act on the love and the fear and the faith of a family living amid oppressive pain from multiple sources: politics, the economy, and religion. And see the young boy blossom into the grown man who is the Savior of the world and its Deliverer. I want to know my Lord more intimately. Don Brake has helped me. Re-acting on some of the pages here I walked today where Jesus walked. Stu Weber pastor, author, and retired US Army awarded three Bronze Stars as a Green Beret in Vietnam. He is a best-selling author of several Gold Medallion-nalist books. Brake writes as a scribe communicating the scenes as they're happening yet making readers privy to undercurrents.
