The Spontaneous Self Paul Breer, 2012-10-22 Many philosophers have argued that free will may be no more than a flattering illusion Few have gone on however to spell out what life would be like without that illusion In The Spontaneous Self Dr Breer explores the many ways in which our everyday experience is likely to be affected by giving up a belief in free will Topics include guilt pride credit blame ambition fear identity power and love His analysis of what we stand to gain and lose by changing our beliefs draws upon the results of an eight year attempt to dispel the illusion of free will in his own life The Spontaneous Self describes the cognitive emotional techniques he devised for uprooting the illusion of free will and the personal transformation that followed when he put those techniques into practice The Metaphysics of Personal

Identity Gyula Klima, Stephen Ogden, 2016-06-22 One of the most debated topics in medieval philosophy was the metaphysics of identity that is what accounts for the distinctness non identity of different individuals of the same specific kind and the persistence self identity of the same individuals over time and in different possible situations especially with regard to individuals of our specific kind namely human persons The first three papers of this volume investigate the comparative development of positions One problem considered by William of Auvergne and Albert the Great deals with Aristotle s doctrine of the active intellect and its relation to Christian philosophical conceptions of personhood A larger set of issues on the nature and post mortem fate of human beings is highlighted as common inquiry among Muslim philosophers and Thomas Aquinas as well as Aquinas and the modern thinker John Locke Finally the last two papers offer a debate over Aquinas s exact views regarding whether substances persist identically across metaphysical gaps periods of non existence either by nature or divine power Agostino Nifo De Intellectu Agostino Nifo, 2011-09-09 This books offers an annotated edition of Nifo s De intellectu 1503 including an extensive analytical summary of the contents as well as a chronology of Nifo s life and works and a full index of the chapters of this work A Theological Dictionary Charles Buck, 1810 Proceedings of the Annual Meeting - National Education Association of the United States National Education Association of the United States, 1900 The Body as Object and Instrument of Knowledge Charles T. Wolfe, Ofer Gal, 2010-04-07 It was in 1660s

England according to the received view in the Royal Society of London that science acquired the form of empirical enquiry we recognize as our own an open collaborative experimental practice mediated by specially designed instruments supported by civil discourse stressing accuracy and replicability Guided by the philosophy of Francis Bacon by Protestant ideas of this worldly benevolence by gentlemanly codes of decorum and by a dominant interest in mechanics and the mechanical structure of the universe the members of the Royal Society created a novel experimental practice that superseded former modes of empirical inquiry from Aristotelian observations to alchemical experimentation This volume focuses on the development of empiricism as an interest in the body as both the object of research and the subject of experience Re embodying empiricism shifts the focus of interest to the life sciences medicine physiology natural history In fact many of the active members of the Royal Society were physicians and a significant number of those disciples of William Harvey and through him inheritors of the empirical anatomy practices developed in Padua during the 16th century. Indeed the primary research interests of the early Royal Society were concentrated on the body human and animal and its functions much more than on mechanics. Similarly the Académie des Sciences directly contradicted its self-imposed mandate to investigate Nature in mechanistic fashion, devoting a significant portion of its Memoires to questions concerning life, reproduction and monsters, consulting empirical botanists, apothecaries and chemists and keeping closer to experience than to the Cartesian standards of well-founded knowledge. These highlighted empirical studies of the body were central in a workshop in the beginning of 2009 organized by the unit for History and Philosophy of Science in Sydney. The papers that were presented by some of the leading figures in this area are presented in this volume.

Logical Philosophy Avi Sion, 2013-11-26 Logical Philosophy A Compendium brings together five works by Avi Sion published in 2002, 06, namely Phenomenology, 2003 Volition and Allied Causal Concepts, 2004 Meditations, 2006 Ruminations, 2005 and Buddhist Illogic, 2002. These works together define what may be termed Logical Philosophy, i.e. philosophical discourse distinguished by its steadfast reliance on inductive and deductive logic to resolve epistemological and ontological issues.

The System of the Vedānta Paul Deussen, Charles Johnston, 1912

A Scent of Sandalwood Aziz Esmail, 2014-06-03 The Ginans are religious lyrics which have long been a central part of the religious life of the Indian Mizarī Ismailī community known as Khojas and continue to form their living poetic tradition. Aziz Esmail's translation is suggestive of the depth of religious thought, feeling and imagination out of which this poetry was born and the lyrical beauty of the form in which this experience found a voice. The poetry of the Ginans illustrates an historically and culturally specific conception of the world and of the norms peculiar to that culture as well as a religious perception that forms a significant part of the religious experience of mankind. This volume will appeal both to specialists and more general readers including Indologists, scholars of Islam in the Subcontinent, students of Comparative Religion, Comparative Literature and those with an interest in mystical or devotional poetry.

Son of a Gun, Daddy Must Die Charlie (Chawtoma) Davis, 2014-05-14

The writer brings alive the story of an inner circle of friends who are sworn to protect an American girl of Mexican and Italian descent after losing her mother at the age of twelve years old. It is a story of how rape sucks the life out of its victims, a heart-thumping drama of how the suspects are held to an innocent plea over a period of twenty-five years until DNA evidence proves otherwise. It is a story of how the grandfather's sanity is pushed to its limit but the bonds of friendship w
