This volume reveals the extent to which aural perception influences our spatial awareness Spanning various fields and practices from psychology to geography and from zoology to urban planning it covers a range of environments in which sounds contribute to forming our sense of space and place The contributions gathered here lead from the mother's womb through the habitats of insects and owls to the resonating bodies of buildings and the city to artistic endeavours that aim to consciously reveal the spatiality of sound In this progression the book demonstrates the profoundly constitutive role of hearing and listening at all stages of our biological and social development as well as the epistemological phenomenological and emotional importance of sound in relation to our construction of space As such it will appeal not only to architects town planners and artists but also to the growing community of scientists and scholars intrigued by sonic issues Differing from both quantitative acoustics and sound design its approach opens new perspectives on the sonic dimension and aural understanding of our environment by tracing analogies between a diversity of spaces formed when sound interacts with

Natural History of Silence Jérôme Sueur, 2024-11-05 In our busy noisy world we may find ourselves longing for silence But what is silence exactly Is it the total absence of sound Or is it the absence of the sound created by humans the kind of deep stillness you might experience in a remote mountain landscape covered in snow far away from the bustle of human life When we listen closely silence reveals a neglected reality Neither empty nor singular silence is instead plentiful and multiple In this book eco acoustic historian Jérôme Sueur allows us to discover a vast landscape of silences which trigger the full gamut of our emotions anxiety awe and peace He takes us from vistas resplendent with full and rich natural silences to the everyday silence of predators as they stalk their prey To explore silences in animal behaviour and ecology is to discover a counterpoint to the acoustic diversity of the natural world throwing into sharp relief the grating reverberations of the human activity which threatens it It is to attune ourselves to a world that our human insensitivities have closed off to us to take a moment simply to breathe and listen to the place of silence in nature Wonders in Acoustics; or, the phenomena of sound.
