Sweet Tea With Cardamom A Journey Through Iraqi Kurdistan:

Sweet Tea with Cardamom Teresa Thornhill, 1997-02-01 Sweet Tea with Cardamom Teresa Thornhill, 1997 This work combines a traditional travel narrative with a harrowing investigation into the plight of the Kurds generally and Kurdish women in particular under Saddam's regime. It's based on the author's journeys in the so-called safe havens in Iraqi Kurdistan.

Women of Kurdistan: A Historical and Bibliographic Study Shahrzad Mojab, Amir Hassanpour, 2021-04-19 Women of Kurdistan: A Historical and Bibliographic Study documents a century-long history of Kurdish women's struggles against oppressive gender relations and state violence. It speaks to bibliographic silences on Kurdish women's silences that are systemic and structured with many factors contributing to their reproduction. The book records extensive literature on violence perpetrated by the family, community, and the state, as well as presenting the reader with a vibrant archive of resistance and struggle of Kurdish women. The analysis avoids the fashionable state-centered scholarship which purifies processes of nation building, state building, and disguises their violence. The image depicted of the women of Kurdistan in this bibliography is shaped also by the languages we have chosen: English, French, and German. It is a record of material in languages that are not spoken by the majority of the Kurds. It will therefore be different from a bibliography of works in the Kurdish language which have a majority of Kurdish authors with more entries on topics such as poetry, fiction, education, and arts. Love and learning made the making of this bibliography imaginable. It began more than 20 years ago when Amir was expanding his theoretical ground for class analysis of nationalism and peasant movement in the Kurdish region of Mukriyan. Hassanpour, 2021. Simultaneously, I was engaged with debates on Marxist feminism and transnational feminism while grappling with post-al tendencies in feminism such as post-colonialism, post-structuralism, and post-modernism. We wanted to better understand the explanatory power and political implications of Marx's dialectical historical materialism in explicating the intersecting and refracting relations of gender, class, race, culture, nation, and nationalism. This commitment nonetheless did not remain in the realm of epistemology as a disembodied intellectual exercise. As a member of a dominant nation, a Shirazi-born Iranian, I wanted to critically confront this national identity and the sense of belonging. Amir sought to scrutinize patriarchal structures and gender relations in Kurdish history, society, culture, and nation. This intertwined mind and heart desire put us onto a path of renewed discoveries of our personal and intellectual relations. In a nutshell, this was the beginning of the making of Women of Kurdistan: A Historical and Bibliographic Study. Women of Kurdistan provides a meticulously researched source book for readers interested in women, gender, and sexuality in Kurdistan and the Middle East. It covers a wealth of bibliographic material, including both scholarly and non-academic publications, many of which have not previously been accessible to broader audiences. But Women of Kurdistan is more than a source of information. It is also an eloquent reflection on the entanglement of knowledge production and political power and a call to recognize scholarship's potential in shaping historical change. Above all, it is a passionate statement about the impossibility to comprehend the intersection of colonial capitalist and nationalist forces without attention to women's lives and struggles. Marlene Sch fers British Academy Newton International Fellow University of Cambridge Women of Kurdistan is simply an excellent template for how to chronicle women's resistance politics. By framing the Kurdish women's struggles within a historical materialism under different modes of production and discussing the political influence of five different nations on the Kurdish peoples, the authors offer a rich context that surpasses the common fetishization of women's armed resistance. Internationally known for their Marxist and feminist works, Mojab and Hassanpour apply theories of nationalism, capitalism, peasantry, knowledge production, and relationship between state and non-state to understand the Kurdish experience while honouring the struggle, voice, and poetry of Kurdish women activists. The book is as unapologetically critical of regional and religious hegemonies as it is of Kurdish patriarchies and is candid about the slipperiness of the concept of the ideal Kurdish woman while skeptical of the benefits of transnationalization for the women honoured in this book.

Kurdish Culture and Society Lokman I. Meho, Kelly L. Maglaughlin, 2001-02-28

Unique, timely, and up to date, this volume is the first comprehensive bibliography on Kurdish culture and society. Compiled to help students, educators, researchers, and policy makers find relevant information with ease, the book includes more than 930 items in four major languages: Arabic, English, French, and German. This work covers the fields of anthropology, archaeology, art, communication, demography, travel, economy, education, ethnicity, health, journalism, language, literature, migration, music, religion, social structure, urbanization, and women's studies. The volume includes books and book chapters, journal articles, Ph.D. dissertations, conference papers, articles in dictionaries and encyclopedias, and important Web sites. Essays provide an overview of Kurdish society as well as surveys of Kurdish life in Syria, the former Soviet Union, Europe, and Lebanon. An invaluable guide for researchers interested in the Kurds and Kurdistan, this book will aid in the location of information that is highly diverse and scattered. With its focus on a timely subject, this book fills a major gap in the bibliographic literature.

A Documentary History of Modern Iraq Stacy E. Holden, 2012-07-08

Previously published histories and primary source collections on the Iraqi experience tend to be topically focused or dedicated to presenting a top-down approach. By contrast, Stacy Holden's A Documentary History of Modern Iraq gives voice to ordinary Iraqis, clarifying the experience of the Shiites, Sunnis, Kurds, Jews, and women over the past century. Through varied documents ranging from short stories to treaties political speeches to memoirs and newspaper articles to book excerpts the work synthesizes previously marginalized perspectives of minorities and women with the voices of the political elite to provide an integrated picture of political change from the Ottoman Empire in 1903 to the end of the second Bush administration in 2008 Covering a broad range of topics this bottom up approach allows readers to fully immerse themselves in the lives of everyday Iraqis as they navigate regime shifts from the British to the Hashemite monarchy the political upheaval of the Persian Gulf wars and beyond Brief introductions to each excerpt provide context and suggest questions for classroom discussion This collection offers raw history untainted and unfiltered by modern political framework and thought representing a refreshing new approach to the study of Iraq

The A to Z of the Kurds Michael M. Gunter, 2009-06-22 The A to Z of the Kurds covers the largest nation on Earth that does not have its own independent state Scholars government officials who are dealing with the Middle East and the Kurds the news media as well as the general reader will find this an accessible historical account about a people who are becoming increasingly important for the future of the geostrategic Middle East Maps a chronology of Kurdish history an introductory essay on the Kurds a dictionary containing several hundred entries on various aspects of the Kurdish experience and an extensive bibliography comprise this volume

Iraq Geoff Hann, Karen Dabrowska, Tina Townsend-Greaves, 2015-08-07 Modern Iraq is under threat from every quarter Politics play havoc with ordinary lives sanctions cut deep However today's rare visitors are met with a broad hospitality that belies years of deprivation

Historical Dictionary of the Kurds Michael M. Gunter, 2018-02-20 The failed states of Iraq and Syria plus the rise and fall of ISIS have helped lead to near Kurdish statehood in Iraq the KRG and Kurdish autonomy in Syria Rojava In Turkey too as illustrated by its negotiations and temporary cease fire with the PKK and the rise of the HDP as the first pro Kurdish party to be elected to the Turkish parliament as a party and not as mere independents the Kurds have reached new heights of recognition These major developments and much more are prominently reflected and developed in this new third edition of Historical Dictionary of the Kurds This third edition of Historical Dictionary of the Kurds contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture of the Kurds This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Kurds

Iraq Then and Now Karen Dabrowska, Geoff Hann, 2008 Unlike other publications since the downfall of Saddam's regime Iraq Then instead it presents the varying views and offers a rounded balanced picture Published to coincide with the fifth anniversary of the change this guide to the country and its people provides information on Iraq's culture and archaeology the south Baghdad and the Sunni Triangle The northern region of Iraqi Kurdistan stands apart as a success story and the travel appendix provides essential information for the increasing numbers of visitors to this region

Iraq Heather Bleaney, Roper, Peter Sluglett, 2004-06-01 Well considered answers to the many questions raised by the situation in Iraq past and present are rare This first comprehensive thematically organised bibliography devoted to Iraq is based on the full Index Islamicus database and is drawn from a wide variety of European language journals and books. Featuring an extensive introduction to the subject and its literature by Peter Sluglett, this bibliography will help readers to find their way through the massive secondary literature now available. Following the pattern established by the Index Islamicus, both journal articles and book publications are included, as well as important internet resources. The editors have taken care to add much new material to bring its coverage up to date and supplement the previously published volumes, while the most important and/or influential publications are conveniently highlighted in the introduction. An indispensable gateway for all those with a more than superficial interest in what is and what has been happening in this nation, so much the focus of attention today.

Honor and the Political Economy of Marriage Joanne Payton, 2020. Honor crimes target women and girls for transgressions against the moral code of the community, punishing female sexual autonomy in particular. This book argues that honor represents women's conformity to culturally enforced standards of marriageability and underpins family and marital connections, which form a primary method of organization within the community.

There Is No Outside Verso Books, 2020-06-09. An urgent collection of essays on the global pandemic from n 1 and Verso Books. A collaboration between the renowned magazine of literature and politics n 1 and Verso Books, this collection tracks the course of Covid 19 across the circuits of global capital to New York's prisons and emergency rooms, Los Angeles's homeless encampments and the migrant camps in Greece, and into the intimate spaces of our homes, our ideas of how to live, and into our bodies and cells. We hear from sex workers without work and sailors quarantined on their ships, witness the pandemic from the quiet devastation of upstate New York and quarantined Rome, as well as the streets of Delhi, Kashmir, and London, and the emergency room of a New York City hospital. From some of the most exciting and thoughtful young writers around the globe, There Is No Outside explores the unspooling wreckage of Covid 19 and helps us imagine what might come in the aftermath. With contributions from Andrew Liu, Rachel Ossip, Gabriel Winant, Francesco Pacifico, Sarah Resnick, Teresa Thornhill, Shigraf Zahbi, Debjani Bhattacharyya, Banu Subramaniam, Mark Krotov, Karim Sariahmed, Ana Cecilia Alvarez, Jack Norton, Laleh Khalili, Aaron Timms, Sonya Aragon, Sean Cooper, Chloe Aridjis, and Marco Roth, and with an introduction by Jessie Kindig.
