Switzerland and the International Protection of Refugees, La Suisse et la protection internationale des refugiés Vera Gowlland-Debbas, Vincent Chetail, 2021-10-18 The present volume highlights the new challenges of the international protection of refugees fifty years after the adoption of the 1951 Geneva Convention relating to the Status of Refugees Focusing on the problems faced by Switzerland in the field of international protection of refugees as well as on the specificity of its asylum law and practice this publication addresses the refugee problem from a national European and international perspective The Swiss experience serves to illustrate the wider problematic of on the one hand the tensions between security political and humanitarian concerns encountered by refugee receiving states and on the other the need to preserve an international refugee protection regime which remains an essential component of international law and relations for so long as political solutions are not brought to the root causes of refugee exodus This reflection on the international protection of refugees is organized around four main themes The first examines Switzerland's response in the past to mass influx in the light of historical case studies and the evolution of Swiss asylum law and practice The second focuses on the question of access of refugees to asylum territories and refugee status determination procedures within the framework of the 1951 Convention on the Status of Refugees and the current Swiss asylum law The third centres on the wider protection regime currently being forged in Europe to address a broader category of refugees including solutions for temporary and subsidiary protection The final theme revolves around return of refugees including those under the Dayton and recent Kosovo agreements and covers reintegration of returnees assistance and long term development This work is based on papers presented at a colloquium of the Graduate Institute of the International Studies in Geneva which was organised in collaboration with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees as a contribution to the 50th anniversaries of the UNHCR and the Geneva Convention relating to the Status of Refugees La Suisse et la protection internationale des réfugiés Vincent Chetail, Vera Gowlland-Debbas, 2002-04-26 Suisse Jean Daniel Gerber Political Science: 2004 Vol.52 The British Library of Political and Economic Science, 2004-12 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics political science and sociology is well established as a major bibliographic reference for students researchers and librarians in the social sciences worldwide Key features Authority Rigorous standards are applied to make the IBSS the most authoritative selective bibliography ever produced Articles and books are selected on merit by some of the world's most expert librarians and academics Breadth Today the IBSS covers over 2000 journals more than any other comparable resource. Compatibility with International Human Rights Law Izabella Majcher, 2019-11-26 The book undertakes a thorough human rights assessment of the EU Returns Directive The overarching human rights framework which circumscribes states prerogatives in the context of expulsion builds upon obligations derived from the principle of non refoulement the right to life respect for family and private life effective remedy basic social rights the prohibition of torture and ill treatment and protection against arbitrary detention and collective expulsion Based on this assessment Majcher explores several protection gaps in the EU return policy which may result in violations of migrants rights and highlights how the provisions of the Directive should be implemented in line with member states human rights obligations Informed by this assessment the book discusses amendments to the Directive proposed by the European Commission in September 2018 By examining the European Union EU Returns Directive in the light of international and European human rights law Izabella Majcher thoroughly explores and analyses the requirements the EU member states authorities must guarantee migrants in an irregular situation when they adopt and implement return decisions entry bans pre removal detention and removal Marie Laure Basilien Gainche Professor of public international law University Jean Moulin Lyon 3 Honorary member of the Institut universitaire de France The 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees and its 1967 Protocol ,2024-01-10 The Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees adopted on 28 July 1951 in Geneva continues to provide the most comprehensive codification of the rights of refugees yet attempted Consolidating previous international instruments relating to refugees the 1951 Convention with its 1967 Protocol marks a cornerstone in the development of international refugee law At present there are 149 States Parties to one or both of these instruments expressing a worldwide consensus on the definition of the term refugee and the fundamental rights to be granted to refugees These facts demonstrate and underline the extraordinary significance of these instruments as the indispensable legal basis of international refugee law This Commentary provides for a systematic and comprehensive analysis of the 1951 Convention and the 1967 Protocol on an article by article basis exposing the interrelationship between the different articles and discussing the latest developments in international refugee law In addition several thematic contributions analyse questions of international refugee law which are of general significance such as regional developments the interrelationship between refugee law and general human rights law as well as the relationship between refugee law and the law of the sea Refugee Survey Quarterly ,2007 The State of the World's Refugees, 2000 Mark Cutts, Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, 2000 Index of Conference Proceedings British Library. Document Supply Centre, 2003 Includes statistics The Refugee in International Law Guy S. Goodwin-Gill, Jane McAdam, 2007 Millions of people are forced to flee their homes as a result of various forms of persecution The instruments to secure international protection are the 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees and its 1967 Protocol This book examines challenges to the Convention The Collective Responsibility of States to Protect Refugees Agnès G. Hurwitz, 2009 This title analyses the concept of sharing responsibility between states for protecting refugees under international law and how this mechanism highlights serious concerns for the protection of Human Rights and the Protection of Refugees Under International Law John P. refugees rights Humphrey, Canadian Human Rights Foundation, 1988 The Nature of the Problem Swiss Law Bibliography Anne M. Wildhaber, Urs Watter, Michele Bernasconi, Nedim Peter Vogt, 2005 The dispersal and social exclusion of asylum seekers Patricia Hynes, 2011-03-09 This book establishes asylum seekers as a socially excluded group investigating the policy of dispersing asylum seekers across the UK and providing an overview of historic and contemporary dispersal systems It is the first book to seek to understand how asylum seekers experience the dispersal system and the impact this has on their lives The author argues that deterrent asylum policies increase the sense of liminality experienced by individuals challenges assumptions that asylum seekers should be socially excluded until receipt of refugee status and illustrates how they create their own sense of belonging in the absence of official recognition Academics students policy makers and practitioners would all benefit from reading this book The SAGE Handbook of Human Rights Anja Mihr, Mark Gibney, 2014-07-21 The SAGE Handbook of Human Rights will comprise a two volume set consisting of more than 50 original chapters that clarify and analyze human rights issues of both contemporary and future importance The Handbook will take an inter disciplinary approach combining work in such traditional fields as law political science and philosophy with such non traditional subjects as climate change demography economics geography urban studies mass communication and business and marketing In addition one of the aspects of mainstreaming is the manner in which human rights has come to play a prominent role in popular culture and there will be a section on human rights in art film music and literature Not only will the Handbook provide a state of the art analysis of the discipline that addresses the history and development of human rights standards and its movements mechanisms and institutions but it will seek to go beyond this and produce a book that will help lead to prospective thinking International Migration Law Vincent Chetail, 2019-04-04 International Migration Law provides a detailed and comprehensive overview of the international legal framework applicable to the movement of persons across borders The role of international law in this field is complex and often ambiguous there is no single source for the international law governing migration. The current framework is scattered throughout a wide array of rules belonging to numerous fields of international law including refugee law human rights law humanitarian law labour law trade law maritime law criminal law and consular law This textbook therefore cuts through this complexity by clearly demonstrating what the current international law is and assessing how it operates The book offers a unique and comprehensive mapping of this growing field of international law It brings together and critically analyses the disparate conventional customary and soft law on a broad variety of issues such as irregular migration human trafficking refugee protection labour migration non discrimination regional free movement schemes and global migration governance It also offers a particular focus on important groups of migrants namely migrant workers refugees and smuggled migrants It maps the current status of the law governing their movement providing a thorough critical analysis of the various stands of international law which apply to them suggesting how the law may continue to develop in the future This book provides the perfect introduction to all aspects Gender, Violence and the State in Asia Amy Barrow, Joy L. Chia, 2016-07-01 While of migration and international law gender based violence occurs in all societies irrespective of the level of development or cultural setting whether in conflict or peacetime the challenges for legal responses to gender based violence are particularly acute in Asia This book addresses the lack of academic discourse on gender based violence in Asia beyond domestic violence by demonstrating that gendered violence exists within many different contexts and is perpetuated by multiple actors Bringing together scholars legal practitioners and human rights advocates the book examines the intersections between gender violence and the state in Asian contexts It considers the role of state institutions in perpetuating and preventing violence based on gender and identity and thus contributes to growing scholarship around due diligence standards under international law Analyzing both physical and structural gender based violence it scrutinizes how such violence exists within a landscape shaped by distinct cultural norms laws and policies and grapples with how to practically translate international human rights standards about state responsibility into these complex domestic environments Contributors from diverse backgrounds draw on case studies and empirical research to ground this academic scholarship in lived experiences of individuals and their communities in Asia By bridging the divide between policy laws and practice to offer a unique insight into both theoretical and practical responses to how gender based violence is understood within communities and state institutions in Asian countries this book will appeal to students and scholars of Asian studies Gender Studies and Law Protection by Persuasion Alexander Betts, 2011-02-23 States located near crisis zones are most likely to see an influx of people fleeing from manmade disasters African states for instance are forced to accommodate and adjust to refugees more often than do European states far away from sites of upheaval Geography dictates that states least able to pay the costs associated with refugees are those most likely to have them cross their borders Therefore refugee protection has historically been characterized by a North South impasse While Southern states have had to open their borders to refugees fleeing conflict or human rights abuses in neighboring states Northern states have had little obligation or incentive to contribute to protecting refugees in the South In recent years however the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR has sought to foster greater international cooperation within the global refugee regime through special conferences at which Northern states are pushed to contribute to the costs of protection for refugees in the South These initiatives Alexander Betts finds in Protection by Persuasion can overcome the North South impasse and lead to significant cooperation Betts shows that Northern states will contribute to such efforts when they recognize a substantive relationship between refugee protection in the South and their own interests in such issues as security immigration and trade Highlighting the mechanisms through which UNHCR has been able to persuade Northern states that such links exist Protection by Persuasion makes clear that refugee protection is a global concern most effectively addressed when geographic realities are overridden by the perception of interdependence Palestinian Refugees in International Law Francesca P. Albanese, Lex Takkenberg, 2020-05-21 The Palestinian refugee question resulting from the events surrounding the birth of the state of Israel seventy years ago remains one of the largest and most protracted refugee crises of the post WWII era Numbering over six million in the Middle East alone Palestinian refugees status varies considerably according to the state or territory hosting them the UN agency assisting them and political circumstances surrounding the Israeli Palestinian conflict these refugees are naturally associated with Despite being foundational to both the experience of the Palestinian refugees and the resolution of their plight international law is often side lined in political discussions concerning their fate This compelling new book building on the seminal contribution of the first edition 1998 offers a clear and comprehensive analysis of various areas of international law including refugee law human rights law humanitarian law the law relating to stateless persons principles related to internally displaced persons as well as notions of international criminal law and probes their relevance to the provision of international protection for The Hidden Crisis, 2011-01-01 When wars break out Palestinian refugees and their quest for durable solutions international attention and media reporting invariably focus on the most immediate images of human suffering Yet behind these images is a hidden crisis Across many of the world's poorest countries armed conflict is destroying not just school infrastructure but the hopes and ambitions of generations of children The hidden crisis Armed conflict and education documents the devastating effects of armed conflict on education It examines the widespread human rights abuses keeping children out of school The Report challenges an international aid system that is failing conflict affected states with damaging consequences for education It warns that schools are often used to transmit intolerance prejudice and social injustice This ninth edition of the Education for All Global Monitoring Report calls on governments to demonstrate greater resolve in combating the culture of impunity surrounding attacks on schoolchildren and schools It sets out an agenda for fixing the International aid architecture And it identifies strategies for strengthening the role of education in peacebuilding The Report includes statistical indicators on all levels of education in more than 200 countries and territories It serves as an authoritative reference for education policy makers development specialists researchers and the media African Refugees Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2023-01-03 African Refugees is a comprehensive overview of the context causes and consequences of refugee lives discussing issues policies and solutions for African refugees around the world It covers overarching topics such as human rights policy frameworks refugee protection and durable solutions as well as less studied topics such as refugee youths refugee camps LGBTQ refugees urban refugees and refugee women It also takes on rare but emergent topics such as citizenship and the creativity of African refugees Toyin Falola and Olajumoke Yacob Haliso showcase the voices and experiences of individual refugees through the sweep of history to tell the African refugee story from the historical past through current developments covering the full range of experience from the causes of flight to living in exile all while maintaining a persistent focus on the complicated search for solutions African Refugees recognizes African agency and contributions in pursuit of solutions for African refugees over time but avoids the pitfalls of the colonial gaze where refugees are perpetually pathologized and Africa is always the sole cause of its own problems seeking to complicate these narratives by recognizing African refugee issues within exploitative global colonial and neo colonial systems of power
