The Readers Guide to Judaism and Jewish Studies Sarah Imhoff,2013 Reader's Guide to Judaism Michael Terry,2013-12-02 The Reader s Guide to Judaism is a survey of English language translations of the most important primary texts in the Jewish tradition The field is assessed in some 470 essays discussing individuals Martin Buber Gluckel of Hameln literature Genesis Ladino Literature thought and beliefs Holiness Bioethics practice Dietary Laws Passover history Venice Baghdadi Jews of India and arts and material culture Synagogue Architecture Costume The emphasis is on Judaism rather than on Jewish studies more broadly Judaism and Christianity in First-Century Rome Karl P. Donfried,Peter Richardson,2003-12-22 Rome as the center of the first century world was home to numerous ethnic groups among which were both Jews and Christians The dealings of the Roman government with these two groups and their dealings with each other are the focus of this engaging book Peter Richardson shows that inscriptions expand considerably our knowledge about synagogues in Rome L Michael White discusses what the archeological epigraphic evidence reveals about the synagogue and society of Ostia Graydon F Snyder explores the them of inculturation looking closely at the level of interaction of Jews with non Jews in Rome and of Christians with Roman culture Leonard Victor Rutgers examines the inconsistent nature of Rome s legal policies toward the Jews Rudolf Braendle and Ekkehard W Stegemann detail the formation of the first Christian congregations already present James S Jeffers describes the family life of Jews and Christians in Rome Carolyn Osiek discusses from an insightful and unique perspective the social character of Roman Christianity James C Walters considers the evolving relations between Christians and non Christian Jews in Rome and how their interactions were affected by Roman intervention William L Lane traces the continuities and discontinuities in Roman Christianity in the period from Nero to Nerva Finally Chrys C Caragounis finding clues in Romans and 1 Clement challenges much of the consensus concerning the social situation of Roman Christianity Based on the latest biblical and historical scholarship and archaeological evidence this volume will be a valuable resource for students of first century Judaism and Christianity Jewish Literacy in Roman Palestine Catherine Hezser,2001 Since Judaism has always been seen as the quintessential religion of the book a high literacy rate amongst ancient Jews has usually been taken for granted Catherine Hezser presents the first critical analysis of the various aspects of ancient Jewish literacy on the basis of all of the literary epigraphic and papyrological material published so far Thereby she takes into consideration the analogies in Graeco Roman culture and models and theories developed in the social sciences Rather than trying to determine the exact literacy rate amongst ancient Jews she examines the various types social contexts and functions of writing and the relationship between writing and oral forms of discourse Following recent social anthropological approaches to literacy the guiding question is who used what type of writing for which purpose First Catherine Hezser examines the conditions which would enable or prevent the spread of literacy such as education and schools the availability and costs of writing materials religious interest in writing and books the existence of archives and libraries and the question of multilingualism Afterwards she looks at the different types of writing such as letters documents miscellaneous notes inscriptions and graffiti and literary and magical texts until she finally draws conclusions about the ways in which the various sectors of the populace were able to participate in a literate society

The Talmud Yerushalmi and Graeco-Roman Culture Peter Schäfer, Catherine Hezser, 1998 This volume continues the studies on the most important source of late antique Judaism the Talmud Yerushalmi in relation to its cultural context The text of the Talmud is juxtaposed to archaeological findings Roman law and contemporary classical authors The attitude of the Rabbis towards main aspects of urban society in the Mediterranean region of late antiquity is discussed Hereby Rabbinic Judaism is seen as integrated in the cultural currents prevalent in the eastern part of the Roman Empire From reviews of the first volume The essays in this volume do not seek to establish a global approach to the task or any general methodological principles Caution is everywhere apparent This is an excellent beginning and more is promised It would be good if this initiative prompted more Talmudic scholars to take the Greek background of Palestinian rabbinism seriously and finally put paid to the tendency to consider it as in some way separated from or in conflict with late antique Hellenism N R M De Lange in Bulletin of Judaean Greek Studies Winter 1998 99 no 23 p 24

Seeing Blood and Water Sebastian A. Carnazzo, 2012-11-09 One of the most significant features of the Fourth Gospel is its unique version of the crucifixion of Jesus 19 12 42 A full understanding of the central section of this scene the depiction of Jesus death and the details immediately surrounding 19 31 37 depends on the interpretation of the verse that recounts the piercing of his side and the flow of blood and water 19 34 Yet there has never been a clear consensus as to the meaning of this verse This difficulty is not insurmountable as the solution becomes apparent when one lends an attentive ear to the voice of the narrator The event described in verse 34 is explicitly declared by the narrator in verse 37 to be the fulfillment of a Scripture passage that says They shall look at him whom they have pierced It is therefore to that Scripture Zechariah 12 10 that the author directs his audience for the meaning of this occurrence and it is then from the literary context of the Zechariah passage that we can come to understand better this Gospel's account of the death of Jesus

Jesus and Paul in the Context of Judaism and Early Christianity Donald A. Hagner, 2025-03-27 In the late nineteenth century Jewish scholars began to be interested in Jesus and eventually Paul as important figures in the history of the Jewish people. Rightly understood, they argued Jesus and Paul belonged more to Judaism than to Christianity, as even radical critical Christian scholars were concluding. The earliest believers in Jesus were exclusively Jews forming something like a new sect within Judaism. The emergence of the Christianity of the New Testament soon became a focus of attention for Jewish scholars, and with this a host of questions arose such as about the influence of Hellenism, the parting of the ways, the widespread Christian misperception of Judaism, the tragedy of anti-Semitism, and the identity of Jesus as Messiah and Lord. The present essays address these and other issues, maintaining throughout the tension of continuity and discontinuity and stressing the underappreciated radical newness of the New Testament.

The State of Jewish Studies Jewish Theological Seminary of America, 1990. Contributors describe the key points of controversy and concern that currently engage scholars in most areas of Judaic research. Respondents discuss the contributors' views, marking out areas of disagreement and delineating avenues for further research and debate. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR.

Jesus as Mirrored in John James H. Charlesworth, 2018-12-13. James H. Charlesworth begins from a burgeoning point of scholarly consensus: More and more scholars are coming to recognize that the Fourth Gospel is more historically complex than previously thought. Charlesworth outlines two historical horizons within John. On the one hand, there is the Jewish background to the text, complete with the evangelist's knowledge of Palestinian geography and Jewish customs, which Charlesworth perceives as offering a window into pre-70 Palestinian Judaism. On the other hand, the Gospel also reflects a post-70 world in which non-believing Jews with more unity begin to part definitively with those who identified Jesus as the Messiah. Split into four sections, this volume first examines the origins of the Fourth Gospel, its evolution in several editions, and its setting in Judea and Galilee. Charlesworth then looks specifically at the figure of Jesus and issues of history. He proceeds to consider this Gospel alongside earlier and contemporaneous Jewish literature, most notably the Dead Sea Scrolls. Finally, the volume engages with John's symbolism and language, looking closely at key aspects in which John differs from the Synoptic Gospels and raising such provocative questions as whether or not it is possible that Jesus married Mary Magdalene. From one of the New Testament's most noted scholars, this book allows deeper understanding of the ways in which the Gospel of John is a vital resource for understanding both the origin of Christianity and Jesus' position in history.

Gender and Social Norms in Ancient Israel, Early Judaism and Early Christianity: Texts and Material Culture Michaela Bauks, Katharina Galor, Judith Hartenstein, 2019-03-11. The aim of the present conference volume is to study the interrelationship of literary and material approaches to historical investigation of gender. Paradigmatically, the significance and meaning of gender and sexuality is explored in the context of private and public religious and secular spaces. Historical, cultural, and social norms and deviations of daily life are examined through the lens of textual, archaeological, and art historical investigations to interpret relics of ancient Israelite, Jewish, and Christian communities from the Iron Age through Late Antiquity. The Sinner and the Amnesiac Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Bertrand Badie, 2000 This is a detailed study of two intriguing figures in early rabbinic literature shown to be products of the literary creativity of rabbinic storytellers who convey a particular ideology through the image of the rabbinic heroes they portray Elisha ben Abuya considered as apostate and sinner and Eleazar ben Arach known as the one who forgot his Torah

The Church as Paradise and the Way Therein: Early Christian Appropriation of Genesis 3:22-24 Christopher A. Graham, 2017-04-24 In The Church as Paradise and the Way Therein Early Christian Appropriation of Genesis 3:22-24 Christopher A. Graham demonstrates that early Christian authors employed the words paradise and way as allusions to the expulsion narrative Genesis 3:22-24 to signify that the benefits available in protological Paradise were once again accessible in and through Jesus and the Church The centrality of the expulsion narrative in their literary milieu gave these authors confidence that readers would discern these allusions After considering the reception of the expulsion in texts circulating within the early Christian milieu Graham turns to the texts of Luke and Irenaeus of Lyons Both authors drew from an interpretive tradition in which a return to Paradise was desirable Both celebrated Jesus's reversal of Adam's expulsion and the constitution of Jesus's followers as the location and means by which humanity could continue to access divine truth and life For both authors the Church is Paradise and the way therein

The God of Second Chances Ron Clark, 2012-09-13 When the people of Judah were taken captive by the Babylonians their world was drastically changed While in exile they experienced shame guilt fear and displacement However their God had been traumatized by their behavior and also grieved with them Yet Yahweh gave them a second chance by forgiving them and bringing them home God offered them hope mercy and love The prophets were God s chosen messengers not only to provide a new vision of what could be but to suffer with the people These servants were caught in the middle between a passionate God and traumatized people As the people returned to Jerusalem to rebuild their city and their lives the prophets were with them to remind them that God had not abandoned them The author suggests that the prophets live on today through the church as those who engage their community fight for people s hearts and remind others that God gives second chances Clark shares stories from his personal ministry to the marginalized in Portland Oregon who seek relief from shame suffering and hopelessness In this hope our community receives new vision through a loving God and persistent prophets
