Sympathy Between Humans Jodi Compton, 2006-03-13 Seeing Suffering in Women's Literature of the Romantic Era Elizabeth A. Dolan, 2008 As she explores tropes of illness healing and social justice in the writings of Mary Wollstonecraft Charlotte Smith and Mary Shelley Dolan engages with a wide range of primary sources in science and medicine She argues that the Romantic era interest in the physiology of vision influenced the culture's understanding of suffering and that these three authors experimented with materialist modes of seeing in order to expand the language of suffering and to claim literary authority The Animal Rights/Environmental Ethics Debate Eugene C. Hargrove, 1992-01-01 Reprints 11 articles and chapters of books that document the environmental ethics view of the animal rights movement exploring whether animal welfare considerations can provide a basis for an environmental ethic Offered as a view of wildlife to complement and challenge at times the animal rights literature which focuses on domestic animals and subjects of experiments Paper edition unseen 14 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Sympathy Between Humans Jodi Compton, 2020-11-24 First rate Compton scores big Library Journal starred review Still struggling with the aftermath of the case that almost ended her career Detective Sarah Pribek keeps her demons at bay by doing what she does best Juggling two very different cases a young man missing from a deeply troubled family an unlicensed doctor practicing in the city's projects Sarah has everything at stake Caught up in a cat and mouse game with the investigator who wants to destroy her drawn deeper and deeper into a family's tangled history Sarah knows that a misstep on her part will end not only in her disgrace but in the death of one of those she has promised herself she will protect Fans of the sinuous character driven puzzlers of Minette Walters Ruth Rendell or Thomas H Cook will find Compton a promising new voice in psychological suspense Booklist A multilayered touching tale of crimes and misdemeanors Publishers Weekly Aquinas, Science, and Human Uniqueness Mary L. Vanden Berg, 2022-12-15 What is a human being What makes humans special different from other creatures Or is a human just another animal Drawing on Scripture Aquinas and science this book seeks to articulate both why and how humans should be understood as special Despite amazing similarities to other creatures humans are physiologically psychologically and spiritually unique beings No other creatures not even angels have the unique combination of capacities nor the divine calling that humans have Vanden Berg argues that only humans are material spiritual intellectual worshipping beings created specifically for a personal relationship with their Creator and with the stated vocation of caring for God's world and representing God in it The Empathetic Emotions in the History of Philosophy, 2025-05-11 Empathy is widely discussed both in philosophy and more generally One might ask what empathy itself is and how it relates to specific emotions such as sympathy This volume is concerned with theories of emotions that can be described as empathetic either because they presuppose the human capacity for empathy or because they are essential to how empathy operates By exploring how Western philosophers from Ancient Greece up to the twentieth century have understood these emotions it becomes possible not only to gain a deeper understanding of certain empathetic emotions and their relation to the concept of empathy but to also see how these emotions are placed within a broader moral social or religious context Taking into account this context is essential when it comes to engaging with a number of compelling questions Does sympathy provide an adequate basis for a theory of human sociability and fellowship What roles do compassion and pity play in our moral lives and in the formation of the practical identities of human beings Can the altruistic character and concern for others that is traditionally ascribed to certain emotions be reconciled with competing values like self love and the self directedness of its concerns Empathetic Emotions in the History of Philosophy provides answers to these important questions

Philosophy of Life Frederick C. Beiser, 2023 Philosophy of Life explores the intellectual movement Lebensphilosophie which flourished in Germany from 1870 until 1920 led by Nietzsche Dilthey and Simmel This was the first Western intellectual movement to develop an entirely secular and humanist conception of life believing that the meaning of life had to be found in life itself

Figures in the Carpet Wilfred M. McClay, 2007-01-02 Figures in the Carpet presents a stellar roster of first rate historians dealing seriously with a perennially important subject The case studies and more theoretical accounts in this book amount to an unusually perceptive assessment of how the person has been viewed in American history

Human Nature, Mind and the Self in Adam Smith's Moral Philosophy Riccardo Bonfiglioli, 2024-04-24 This book investigates the problematisation in Adam Smith's moral philosophy of a classical question what makes us human beings from a moral standpoint To do this Riccardo Bonfiglioli explores the relationship between the concepts of human nature mind and the self in order to reconstruct Smith's theory of subjectivity After providing a systematic reconstruction of Adam Smith's conceptions of human nature mind and the self exploring some aspects of Smith's philosophy nature philosophy of history sympathy and imagination and their empirical expressions education conduct and character Bonfiglioli argues that in Adam Smith's work the meaning of moral human beings would depend on the human being's effort to live in harmony with oneself and the others According to Bonfiglioli in Smith's moral theory this harmony with oneself and the others would be achieved in relation to a certain kind of awareness that can be possible when human beings try to judge the conduct and try to act according to the impartial spectator Specifically this impartial spectator is reinterpreted by the author in the light of the concept of immediacy

Outward, Visible Propriety Lois Peters Agnew, 2008 In her examination of the eighteenth century transition from classical to modern perspectives in British rhetorical theory Lois Peters Agnew argues that this shift was significantly shaped by resurgent influences of Stoic ethical philosophy Eager to preserve the stability jeopardized by changing political social and economic conditions theorists of the period found in the Stoic principle of sensus communis the possibility of constructing a collective identity across a fragmented society To that end Agnew states prominent rhetoricians turned to the works of the Roman Stoics and to their ethical system as adapted in the writings of Cicero and Quintilian in particular In tracing Stoic strains in eighteenth century language theories Agnew argues that writers such as Adam Smith Henry Home Lord Kames Hugh Blair

George Campbell and Richard Whately drew upon Stoic ideas and the earlier work of Lord Shaftesbury Francis Hutcheson and Thomas Reid in their integration of Stoic ethics and rhetorical theory Deeply concerned with the effects of granting individuals moral autonomy these intellectuals found in Stoicism a vocabulary for responding to this issue as Stoic notions of individual sensory experiences personal moral development and public virtue confirmed and expanded the interconnectivity between private deliberation and communal cohesion Thus Agnew argues their familiarity with ancient thought enabled British rhetoricians to craft from Stoic ideas distinctly eighteenth century perspectives on how rhetoric could not only accomplish specific practical goals but also prepare individuals to fulfill their ethical potential to the community BOOK

JACKET Evolution, Human Behaviour and Morality Olli Lagerspetz, Jan Antfolk, Ylva Gustafsson, Camilla

Kronqvist, 2016-08-12 This book highlights the recent re emergence of Edward Westermarck's work in modern approaches to morality and altruism examining his importance as one of the founding fathers of anthropology and as a moral relativist who identified our moral feelings with biologically evolved retributive emotions Questioning the extent to which current debates on the relationship between biology and morality are similar to those in which Westermarck himself was involved the authors ask what can be learnt from his arguments and from the criticism that he encountered Drawing on Westermarck's manuscripts and papers as well as his published work the authors show the importance of situating debates whether modern or classical in their correct methodological and philosophical context This volume is a rigorous assessment of the ways in which morality is connected with human biological nature It plays close attention to the development of debates in this field and will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology and philosophy Materiality in Modernist Short Fiction Laura

Oulanne, 2021-05-30 Materiality in Modernist Short Fiction provides a fresh approach to reading material things in modern fiction accounting for the interplay of the material and the cultural This volume investigates how Djuna Barnes Katherine Mansfield and Jean Rhys use the short story form to evoke the material world as both living and lived and how the spaces they create for challenging gendered social norms can also be nonanthropocentric spaces for encounters between the human and the nonhuman Using the unique knowledge created by literary works to spark new conversations between phenomenology cognitive studies and new materialisms complemented with a feminist perspective this book explores how literature can touch the basic experience of being in feeling and making sense of a material world that is itself alive and active From a sensitive reading of how three women used the material world to make their readers see feel and question the norms shaping our experience this volume draws a theory of reading affective materiality that illuminates modernism and the short story form but also reaches beyond them The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Human Physiology Robley Dunglison, 1844 The Testimony of Sense Tim Milnes, 2019-07-04 The Testimony of Sense attempts to answer a neglected but important question what became of epistemology in the late eighteenth century in the period between Hume's scepticism and Romantic idealism. It finds that two factors in particular reshaped the nature of empiricism: the socialisation of experience by Scottish Enlightenment thinkers and the impact upon philosophical discourse of the belletrism of periodical culture. The book aims to correct the still widely held assumption that Hume effectively silenced epistemological inquiry in Britain for over half a century. Instead, it argues that Hume encouraged the abandonment of subject-centred reason in favour of models of rationality based upon the performance of trusting actions within society. Of particular interest here is the way in which, after Hume, fundamental ideas like the self, truth and meaning are conceived less in terms of introspection, correspondence and reference and more in terms of community coherence and communication. By tracing the idea of intersubjectivity through the issues of trust, testimony, virtue and language, the study offers new perspectives on the relationships between philosophy and literature, empiricism and transcendentalism, and Enlightenment and Romanticism. As philosophy grew more conversational, the familiar essay became a powerful metaphor for new forms of communication. The book explores what is epistemologically at stake in the familiar essay genre as it develops through the writings of Joseph Addison, David Hume, Samuel Johnson, Charles Lamb and William Hazlitt. It also offers readings of philosophical texts such as Hume's Treatise, Thomas Reid's Inquiry and Adam Smith's Theory of Moral Sentiments as literary performances.
