The Brigade The Fifth Canadian Infantry Brigade 19391945:

The Brigade J. T. Copp,1992 Saints, Sinners, and Soldiers Jeffrey A. Keshen,2007-10-01 The first ever synthesis of both the patriotic and the problematic in wartime Canada Saints Sinners and Soldiers shows how moral and social changes and the fears they generated precipitated numerous and often contradictory legacies in law and society From labour conflicts to the black market to prostitution and beyond Keshen acknowledges the underbelly of Canada s Second World War and demonstrates that the Good War was a complex tapestry of social forces not all of which were above reproach The Generals J. L. Granatstein,2005 Originally published in 1993 The Generals is a collective biography of the Canadian armys leaders in World War II and is the winner of the Dafoe Book Prize for International Relations and the UBC Medal for Canadian Biography The only book of its kind on this subject The Generals remains an invaluable resource for academics policy makers and anyone interested Canada s military history A Thoroughly Canadian General Paul Douglas Dickson,2007-01-01 General H D G Harry Crerar 1888 1965 was involved in or directly responsible for many of the defining moments of Canadian military history in the twentieth century In the First World War Crerar was nearly killed at the second battle of Ypres was a gunner who helped to secure victory at Vimy Ridge and was a senior staff officer during the pivotal battles of the last Hundred Days During the Second World War he occupied and often defined the Canadian army s senior staff and operational appointments including his tenure as commander of First Canadian Army through the northwest European campaign Despite his pivotal role in shaping the Canadian army however General Crerar has been long overlooked as a subject of biography In A Thoroughly Canadian General Paul Douglas Dickson examines the man and his controversial place in Canadian military history arguing that Crerar was a nationalist who saw the army as an instrument to promote Canadian identity and civic responsibility From his days as a student at the Royal Military College in Kingston to his role as primary architect of First Canadian Army the career of General H D G Crerar is thoroughly examined with a view to considering and reinforcing his place in the history of Canada and its armed forces Politics of Command John Nelson Rickard,2010-03-20 In December 1943 Lieutenant General A G L McNaughton resigned from command of the 1st Canadian Army amidst criticism of his poor generalship and of his abrasive personality Despite McNaughton s importance to the Canadian Army during the first four years of the Second World War little has been written about the man himself or the circumstances of his resignation In The Politics of Command the first full length study of the subject since 1969 John Nelson Rickard analyses McNaughton s performance during Exercise SPARTAN in March 1943 and assesses his relationships with key figures such as Sir Alan F Brooke Bernard Paget and Harry Crerar This detailed re examination of McNaughton s command argues that the long accepted reasons for his relief of duty require extensive modification Based on a wide range of sources The Politics of Command will redefine how military historians and all Canadians look at not only Andy McNaughton but also the Canadian Army itself Bloody Verrieres, Volume 1 Arthur W. Gullachsen,2021-12-31 An excellent work that adds to the history of the Normandy Campaign It also gives the armchair historian points to ponder A Wargamers Needful Things South of the Norman city of Caen the twin features of the Verri res and Bourguebus ridges were key stepping stones for the British Second Army in late July 1944 taking them was crucial if it was to be successful in its attempt to break out of the Normandy bridgehead To capture this vital ground Allied forces would have to defeat arguably the strongest German armored formation in Normandy the I SS Panzerkorps Leibstandarte The resulting battles of late July and early August 1944 saw powerful German defensive counterattacks south of Caen inflict tremendous casualties regain lost ground and at times defeat Anglo Canadian operations in detail Viewed by the German leadership as militarily critical the majority of its armored assets were deployed to dominate this excellent tank country east of the Orne river These defeats and the experience of meeting an enemy with near equal resources exposed a flawed Anglo Canadian offensive tactical doctrine that was overly dependent on the supremacy of its artillery forces Furthermore weaknesses in Allied tank technology inhibited their armored forces from fighting a decisive armored battle forcing Anglo Canadian infantry and artillery forces to further rely on First World War Bite and Hold tactics massively supported by artillery Confronted with the full force of the Panzerwaffe Anglo Canadian doctrine at times floundered In response the Royal Artillery and Royal Canadian Artillery units pummeled the German tankers and grenadiers but despite their best efforts ground could not be captured by concentrated artillery fire alone This is a detailed account of the success of I SS Panzerkorps defensive operations aimed at holding the V rrieres Bourgebus ridges in late July 1944

Bearing Witness Sherrill Grace, Patrick Imbert, Tiffany Johnstone, 2012-10-01 As the centenary of the Great War approaches citizens worldwide are reflecting on the history trauma and losses of a war torn twentieth century It is in remembering past wars that we are at once confronted with the profound horror and suffering of armed conflict and the increasing elusiveness of peace The contributors to Bearing Witness do not presume to resolve these troubling questions but provoke new kinds of reflection They explore literature the arts history language and popular culture to move beyond the language of rhetoric and commemoration provided by politicians and the military Adding nuance to discussions of war and peace this collection probes the understanding and insight created in the works of musicians dramatists poets painters photographers and novelists to provide a complex view of the ways in which war is waged witnessed and remembered A compelling and informative collection Bearing Witness sheds new light on the impact of war and the power of suffering heroism and memory to expose the human roots of violence and compassion Contributors include Heribert Adam Simon Fraser University Laura Brandon Carleton University Mireille Calle Gruber Universit La Sorbonne Nouvelle Janet Danielson Simon Fraser University Sandra Djwa emeritus Simon Fraser University Alan Filewod University of Guelph Sherrill Grace University of British Columbia Patrick Imbert University of Ottawa Tiffany Johnstone PhD Candidate University of British Columbia Martin L schnigg Graz University Lauren Lydic PhD University of Toronto Conny Steenman Marcusse Netherlands Jonathan Vance University of Western Ontario Aritha van Herk University of Calgary Peter C van

Terry Copp, 2007-01-01 Except for a brief period during the Rhineland battle the First Canadian Army was the smallest to serve under Eisenhower's command. The Canadian component never totalled more than 185 000 of the four million Allied troops serving in Northwest Europe. It is evident however that the divisions of 2nd Canadian Corps played a role disproportionate to their numbers. Their contribution to operations designed to secure the channel ports and open the approaches to Antwerp together with the battles in the Rhineland place them among the most heavily committed and sorely tried divisions in the Allied armies. By the end of 1944 3rd Canadian Division had suffered the highest number of casualties in 21 Army Group with 2nd Canadian Division ranking a close second. In the armoured divisions 4th Canadian was at the top of the list as was 2nd Canadian Armoured Brigade among the independent tank brigades. Overall Canadian casualties were 20 per cent higher than in comparable British formations. This was a direct result of the much greater number of days that Canadian units were involved in close combat. Jacket Monty and the Canadian Army John A. English, 2021-10-01
General Bernard Law Montgomery affectionately known as Monty exerted an influence on the Canadian Army more lasting than that of any other Second World War commander. In 1942 he assumed responsibility for the exercise and training of Canadian formations in England and by the end of the war Canada's field army was second to none in the practical exercise of combined arms. In Monty and the Canadian Army John A. English analyses the way Montgomery's operational influence continued to permeate the Canadian Army. For years the Canadian Army remained a highly professional force largely because it was commanded at almost every lower level by Monty men steeped in the Montgomery method. The era of the Canadian Army headed by such men ceased with the integration and unification of Canada's armed forces in 1964. The embrace of Montgomery by Canadian soldiers stands in marked contrast to largely negative perceptions held by Americans. Monty and the Canadian Army aims to correct such perceptions which are mostly superficial and more often than not wrong and addresses the anomaly of how this gifted general, one of the greatest field commanders of the Second World War, managed to win over other North American troops.
