

A GREENER WAY TO GO - NATURAL BURIAL CEMETERY

From preparing bodies to burying them in natural settings, the green burial movement is attempting to make death more environmentally friendly and, in some ways, closer to the way it was in the past. A comparison:

CONVENTIONAL BURIAL

Burials use formaldehyde embalming and long-lasting caskets and burial vaults. Burial density 1,200 per acre.

A conventional grave site, often landscaped and well-maintained, features a large headstone made of granite or flat bronze. Fertilizer and pesticides may be used on the grass.

Below ground, a casket made of steel, finished wood and copper rests inside a concrete vault capped by a thick concrete lid.

NATURAL BURIAL

The natural, or green, burial method uses no embalming fluid or a formula that is not formaldehyde-based. Burial density limited to 500 per acre.

A green grave site is in a natural setting.

If there's a headstone, it's a rock or a piece of rough-cut limestone that's flat on one side to identify the deceased. Some methods use GPS coordinates to spot a grave's location.

Caskets are made of bamboo, wicker or other unfinished, fast-growing and renewable timber. Shrouds are also an option in which to wrap the body for burial.

Straw or leaves line the grave to add microbes that help with decomposition.
