The Canadian Womans Almanac

Philomena Hauck

The Canadian Womans Almanac:

Sourcebook on Canadian Women Philomena Hauck, 1979 The Canadian Men and Women of the Time Henry James Morgan, 1898 The Canadian Woman's Almanac Ruth Fremes, 1978 Canadian Women in Print, 1750-1918 Carole Gerson, 2011-05-24

Canadian Women in Print 1750 1918 is the first historical examination of women's engagement with multiple aspects of print over some two hundred years from the settlers who wrote diaries and letters to the New Women who argued for ballots and equal rights Considering women's published writing as an intervention in the public sphere of national and material print culture this book uses approaches from book history to address the working and living conditions of women who wrote in many genres and for many reasons This study situates English Canadian authors within an extensive framework that includes francophone writers as well as women's work as compositors bookbinders and interveners in public access to print Literary authorship is shown to be one point on a spectrum that ranges from missionary writing temperance advocacy and educational texts to journalism and travel accounts by New Woman adventurers Familiar figures such as Susanna Moodie L M Montgomery Nellie McClung Pauline Johnson and Sara Jeannette Duncan are contextualized by writers whose names are less well known such as Madge Macbeth and Agnes Laut and by many others whose writings and biographies have vanished into the recesses of history Readers will learn of the surprising range of writing and publishing performed by early Canadian women under various ideological biographical and cultural motivations and circumstances Some expressed reluctance while others eagerly sought literary careers Together they did much more to shape Canada's cultural history than has heretofore been recognized

Canadian Women Alison L. Prentice, 1996 The Canadian Woman's Annual and Social Service Directory, 1915 Writing the Everyday Danielle Fuller, 2004

In Writing the Everyday Danielle Fuller analyses writing by Atlantic Canadian women from diverse backgrounds Drawing extensively on original interviews with writers editors and publishers Fuller investigates how and why communities form around texts that record women's everyday realities histories and traditions showing that prose writing and poetry performances combine oral storytelling family history and other aspects of local cultures with popular literary genres to address issues of racism sexism and poverty

Canadian Almanac and Directory, 1994 Transforming Conversations Dawn Wallin, Janice Wallace, 2018-06-12

What effect has feminism had on Canadian education since the 1970 Royal Commission on the Status of Women and to what end Transforming Conversations explores post commission feminist thought and action in the contexts of primary secondary post secondary and adult education In this volume teachers professors and educational administrators many trailblazers themselves document the historical experiences and outcomes of feminist action in university faculties of education departments of educational administration academic and professional societies teachers unions and community groups over the past five decades They begin by exploring liberal feminism as an initial response to the historical context in which female educators spoke up for women's rights and reshaped formal education systems The contributors further explore how feminist theory was reconceptualized as women moved into formal leadership roles across education sectors. Last contributors consider female educators at the intersection of gender and other systems of exclusion such as race and class despite ostensibly inclusive feminist theory that continues to be bounded by Western colonial neoliberal ideologies. Transforming Conversations considers the complex effects feminism has had and continues to have on Canadian education, acknowledges voices that have been marginalized and invites readers to continue a transformative feminist dialogue.

Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996. This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people, institutions, organizations, publications, art, literature, languages, and history. It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject, genre, type of document, and province or territory. Titles of national, provincial, territorial, or regional interest are included in every subject area when available. The contents of the book are indexed four ways: by name, title, French subject, and English subject. And to facilitate browsing, the major reference books, those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region, are also cross-referenced. Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages. Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation. The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content, arrangements, and indexing of works, the availability of non-print formats, previous editions, and title changes and related works. Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers.
