Hala Sultan Tekke, II, 1975 The Cape Kiti Survey Olaf T. Engvig, Paul Åström, Ellen Herscher, Catharina Ingelman-Sundberg, Anders Nyquist, 1975 The Cape Kiti survey Olaf T. Engvig, Ellen Herscher, Catharina Ingelman-Sundberg, Anders Nyquist, Paul Åström, 1975 The Cape Kiti Survey Gunnel Hult, Olaf T. Engvig, Paul Åström, Ulla Öbrink, Margareta Strandberg Olofsson, 1975 Maritime Studies in the Wake of the Byzantine Shipwreck at Yassiada, Turkey Deborah N Carlson, Justin Leidwanger, Sarah M. Kampbell, 2015-03-15 In 2007 a symposium was held at Texas A M University to celebrate the twenty fifth anniversary of Texas A M University Press s publication of the first volume reporting the Yassiada shipwreck site Seventeen papers from that symposium featured in this book broadly illustrate such varied topics as ships and seafaring life maritime trade naval texts commercial cargoes and recent developments in the analysis of the Yassiada ship itself Hala Sultan Tekke, 2007 The Transport Amphorae and Trade of Cyprus Mark L. Lawall, John Lund, 2013-12-31 Placed as a stepping stone on the sea route between Europe and the New East Cyprus has always been a meeting place of many cultures Though rarely united politically through many millennia of history and for extended periods subject to foreign rule the island nonetheless managed to maintain specific and unique identities This publication seeks to throw new light on important aspects of the economy of Cyprus between c 700 BC and AD 700 through a concerted study of the transport amphorae found in and around the island These standardised containers of fired clay were commonly used for shipping foodstuffs from their places of production to the consumers in antiquity Completely preserved or found only in fragments such vessels are a prime source of information about the island s exports and imports of agricultural products and ultimately about the fluctuations in the economy of Cyprus through a crucial millennium and a half of her history The jars thus contribute both to our understanding of the changing intensities of Cypriot connections with other centres around the Mediterranean and to the documentation of regional patterning within the island itself Approaching Cyprus Jane Chick, Richard Maguire, 2016-09-23 Does the sea separate or connect Are islands isolated or are they the stepping stones of connectivity The Mediterranean is an all but closed sea of seas of marine locales around which its inhabitants live like ants and frogs around a pond Cyprus at its eastern end is tucked between Asia Minor to the North the Levant to the east to Africa further south and the wider Mediterranean to the west From its vantage point this island panopticon established connections across the Mediterranean in which it was either incorporated or remote in proportion to its integration into a variety of networks of exchange The seventeen chapters in this volume explore aspects of the relationship between the island as an immutable geographical entity and its surrounding sea as an essentially transactional space The chapters are grouped under four headings Approaching Cyprus Sea and Overseas Artefacts Production and Function Sacralities Practice and Setting and finally Collections Private and Public Chapters range from the Late Bronze Age to the twentieth century and from Greece the Aegean Syro Palestine Egypt to Lusignan France Approaching Cyprus describes and evokes a multi directional convergence

on the island in terms of both a physical and an intellectual journey an inside viewed from an outside through the research of an international group of scholars each of whom however varied their viewpoint period and topic offers a contribution to our wider understanding of this remarkable island
