Beijing Review, 2008

The Ming World Kenneth M Swope, 2019-08-08 The Ming World draws together scholars from all over the world to bring China's Ming Dynasty 1368-1662 to life, exploring recent scholarly trends and academic debates that highlight the dynamism of the Ming and its key place in the early modern world. The book is designed to replicate the structure of popular Ming era unofficial histories that gathered information and gossip from a wide variety of fields and disciplines. Engaging with a broad array of primary and secondary sources, the authors build upon earlier scholarship while extending the field to embrace new theories, methodologies and interpretive frameworks. It is divided into five thematically linked sections: Institutions, Ideas, Identities, Individuals and Interactions. Unique in its breadth and scope, The Ming World is essential reading for scholars and postgraduates of early modern China, the history of East Asia and anyone interested in gaining a broader picture of the colorful Ming world and its inhabitants.

Translocal China Tim Oakes, Louisa Schein, 2006-08-21 Interdisciplinary in approach, this collection of essays explores China's reform era development within the concept of translocality. A key element of spatial change in today's China has been the unprecedented geographic mobility of millions of labour migrants, tourists, brides, entrepreneurs and many others. But translocality doesn't just mean people. It is crucially constituted by the circulation of capital, ideas, images, goods, styles, services and disease to name but a few. With contributions from well-respected China specialists, the essays focus simultaneously on mobilities and localities, drawing our attention to the multiplying forms of mobility in China whilst retaining the importance of localities in people's lives. The book provides a clear path to understanding the importance of translocality as a concept along with concrete examples of its operation in China Unique in approach it is at once a study of the connections between location and culture politics economics bodies gender and technology Heritage Management, Tourism, and Governance in China Robert J. Shepherd, Larry Yu, 2012-12-09 This monograph analyzes current cultural resource management archeological heritage management and exhibitionary practices and policies in the People's Republic of China Academic researchers preservationists and other interested parties face a range of challenges for the preservation of the material past as rapid economic and social changes continue in China On the one hand state supported development policies often threaten and in some cases lead to the destruction of archeological and cultural sites Yet state cultural policies also encourage the cultivation of precisely such sites as tourism development resources This monograph aims to bring the concepts of world heritage sites national tourism policies ethnic tourism and museum display together for a general cultural heritage audience It focuses on a central issue the tensions between a wide range of interest groups cultural anthropologists and archeologists tourism officials heritage proponents economic development proponents a new class of private rich with the means to buy artifacts and a fragmented regulatory system Behind all of them lies the political role of heritage in China also addressed in this monograph People's Republic of China Year-book, 1985 Setting Off from Macau Kaijian Tang, 2015-11-16 It is impossible to understand the early history of the Society of Jesus and the Catholic Church in China without understanding the preeminent role played by the island of Macau in the Jesuit missionary endeavor indeed it can even be said that Catholicism would not exist in China if there was no Macau This book seeks to restore Macau to its proper place in the history of Catholicism and the Jesuit missions in China during the Ming and Qing dynasties by offering a unique insight into subjects ranging from the origins of Jesuit missionary work on the island to the history of Jesuit education and Catholic art and music on the Chinese mainland New Export China Alex Burchmore, 2023-06-20 Why do so many contemporary Chinese artists use porcelain in their work In New Export China Alex Burchmore presents a deep dive into a unique genre of ceramic art to describe a framework for a broader art practice Focusing on the work of four artists from the 1990s through the 2010s Liu Jianhua Ai Weiwei Ah Xian and Sin ying Ho Burchmore reveals how the materiality of ceramics has been used to highlight China's role in global trade and to explore the function of this medium as a vessel for the transmission of Chinese art culture and ideas From its historical pedigree and transcultural relevance to its material allure and anthropomorphic resonance porcelain offers artists a unique way to move between the global and the intimate the mass produced and the handmade and the foreign and the domestic By dissecting both the legacy of porcelain export and current networks of exchange Burchmore ultimately demonstrates why this ceramic practice is crucial to understanding the development of Chinese contemporary art
