Public Policy Making Reexamined Yehezkel Dror, 2017-09-29 Public Policymaking Reexamined is now recognized as a fundamental treatise for public policy studies Although it caused much controversy when it was first published for its systematic approach to policy studies the book is acknowledged as a modern classic of continuing importance for the teaching and research of public policy planning and policy analysis and public administration The paperback includes a new introduction updating and supplementing many of the author's original ideas Professor Dror combines the approaches of policy analysis behavioral science and systems analysis in his examination of the reality of public policymaking and his suggestions for its reform Actual policymaking is carefully evaluated with the help of explicit criteria and standards based on an optimal model approach resulting in detailed proposals for improvement He applies a scientific orientation to the study of social facts and theory

An Analysis of Amartya Sen's Inequality Re-Examined Elise Klein, 2018-02-21 Amartya Sen's Inequality Re Examined is a seminal text setting out a theory to evaluate social arrangements and inequality By asking the question equality of what Sen shows that in equality should be assessed as human freedom for people to have the ability to pursue and achieve goals they value or have reason to value The text lays out the fundamental ideas to Amartya Sen's Capability Approach This approach is celebrated in diverse academic disciplines because of its specific contribution towards the improvement to debates on inequality beyond economic deprivation and utility measures Furthermore the arguments put forward by Sen in Inequality Re Examined has had many practical applications throughout policy circles including the Human Development Index the Multi Dimensional Poverty Measure the compilation of lists of capabilities and drawing further attention to human agency and democracy Amartya Sen won the Nobel Prize for Economics in 1998 for his contribution to welfare economics the core arguments of this work is found in this book

Equality Of Opportunity: The Economics Of Responsibility Francois Maniquet, Marc Fleurbaey, 2012-03-14 Foreword by Eric Maskin Nobel Laureate in Economics 2007 This book is a collection of articles written by the two authors on the topic of equality of opportunity All articles build on the idea that a just society should equalize the resources that determine the opportunities agents face in order to follow their goals Resources are either external like financial resources or internal like preferences or skills The authors propose to define equality of opportunity as the combination of ethical principles of compensation and responsibility The principle of compensation requires external resources to be used to compensate low skilled agents considering that inequalities due to skill differences are unjust The principle of responsibility requires external resources to be allocated without regards to inequalities due to differences in preferences considering that these inequalities are not unjust The articles present different ways of combining the two principles in different economic contexts The book offers many possible aspects of the analysis of equality of opportunity ranging from axiomatic discussions in abstract compensation models to the design of redistribution policies in concrete labor income taxation models

Shaping Entrepreneurship Research Saras Sarasvathy, Nicholas Dew, Sankaran Venkataraman, 2020-04-21 Shaping Entrepreneurship Research Made as Well as Found is a collection of readings designed to support entrepreneurship research Focused on a worldview in which the future is open ended and shapeable through human action i e made this collection reframes entrepreneurship as a science of the artificial rather than as a natural or social science It posits an open ended universe for the making of human artifacts even if large swathes of nature and society are not within the control of the people making them The book explores the notion of made through 25 foundational readings classics from the history of ideas Organized into five sections each classic is individually introduced by the editors in one of five chapters written to explain its relevance and significance for a made view of entrepreneurship Readers will benefit from exposure to these classic ideas and ongoing research in a variety of areas that fall somewhat outside the line of sight of traditional entrepreneurship research Both individually and collectively the readings suggest opportunities to ask new questions and develop new ways of framing entrepreneurship research that carry the discussion beyond worlds found to worlds made as well as found The book is crafted to be valuable to three groups of scholars young scholars with limited or no access to research infrastructure but with a desire to participate in deep conversations young scholars with access to research infrastructure who also desire to listen in on a different kind of conversation and established entrepreneurship scholars who are contemplating an alternative set of foundational ideas to support their conversations in the discipline

Freedom in Economics Marc Fleurbaey, Nicolas Gravel, Jean-François Laslier, Alain Trannoy, 2002-01-22 This book presents a range of papers by philosophers and economists who consider the definition and value of liberty freedom in rights and equality of opportunity Until recently freedom has played no explicit role in the conceptual framework of economists however freedom seems to be at the heart of economics The book provides a substantial contribution to the fruitful dialogue between the philosophy and economics in this area Each chapter is integrated being followed by comments which explore the underlying debates Contributors are French economists philosophers and political scientists as well as authors from Belgium and the Netherlands
