Edward Moxon-Browne

Social And Political Change In Literature And Film:

The Literary Monster on Film Abigail Burnham Bloom, 2014-01-10 Many monsters in Victorian British novels were intimately connected with the protagonists and representative of both the personal failings of a character and the failings of the society in which he or she lived By contrast more recent film adaptations of these novels depict the creatures as arbitrarily engaging in senseless violence and suggest a modern fear of the uncontrollable This work analyzes the dichotomy through examinations of Shelley's Frankenstein Stoker's Dracula H Rider Haggard's She Stevenson's Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde and Wells's The Island of Dr Moreau and consideration of the 20th century film adaptations of the works

Social and Political Change in Literature and Film Richard Chapple, 1994 African Pasts, Presents, and Futures Touria Khannous, 2013-10-17 African Pasts Presents and Futures Generational Shifts in African Women's Literature Film and Internet Discourse by Touria Khannous provides a history of African women's cultural production as well as an alternative approach to the arguments that have traditionally dominated post colonial studies in general and African and gender studies in particular It examines some of the more overarching questions that are prevalent in the works of African women authors who position themselves within the contexts of Islam feminism nationalism modernity and global and postcolonial politics thus engaging in the construction of socio political platforms for reform in their home countries The book explores different aspects of women's agency at the political cultural social religious and aesthetic level and highlights their civil society activism and push for legal reform It also traces their opinions on a range of social and political questions and underscores fundamental shifts in their positions and concerns through the different generations The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments Egyptian Cinema and the 2011 Revolution Ahmed Ghazal, 2020-11-26 Egypt's film industry is the largest in the Middle East with an output that spreads across the region and the world In the run up to and throughout the 2011 Revolution a complex relationship formed between the industry and the people's uprising Both a form of political expression and a documentation of historical events revolutionary film techniques have contributed to the cultural memory of 2011 At the same time these films and their makers have been the target of increasing state control and intervention Ahmed Ghazal drawing upon his own background in film making looks at the way in which Egyptian film has shaped and been shaped by the events leading up to and beyond Egypt's 2011 revolution Drawing on interviews with protagonists in the industry analysis of films and archival research he analyses the critical issues affecting the political economy of the industry He also explores the technological developments of independent productions and the cinematic themes of dictatorship poverty corruption and police brutality that have accompanied the people's calls for freedom and the counterrevolution that has tried to suppress them

Political Change in Spain Edward Moxon-Browne, 2024-02-29 First published in 1989 Political Change in Spain provides a stimulating and innovative account of Spain's maturing democracy since 1982 Challenging the accepted wisdom that Spanish democracy is a fragile plant the author demonstrates its strong roots and healthy growth in the context of the European Community He argues that despite the problems of economic transformation Spain's political attachments to Western Europe suggest that the Spanish economy will benefit in the long run from its increasing integration with its neighbours The book also analyses the continuing threat to stability posed by separatist aspirations in the Basque country in the context of the experiments with autonomous regional governments This book will be valuable to anyone looking for a succinct introduction to changes in Spain as well as to students of Western European politics women's studies and the Spanish language

Film in Contemporary Southeast Asia David C. L. Lim, Hiroyuki Yamamoto, 2012-03-12 This book discusses contemporary film in all the main countries of Southeast Asia and the social practices and ideologies which films either represent or oppose It shows how film acquires signification through cultural interpretation and how film also serves as a site of contestations between social and political agents seeking to promote challenge or erase certain meanings messages or ideas from public circulation A unique feature of the book is that it focuses as much on films as it does on the societies from which these films emerge it considers the reasons for film makers taking the positions they take the positions and counter positions taken the response of different communities and the extent to which these interventions are connected to global flows of culture and capital The wide range of subjects covered include documentaries as political interventions in Singapore political film makers collectives in the Philippines and films about prostitution in Cambodia and patriotism in Malaysia and the Chinese in Indonesia The book analyses films from Burma Laos Cambodia Vietnam Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia and the Philippines across a broad range of productions such as mainstream and independent features across genres for example comedy patriotic political historical genres alongside documentary classic and diasporic films Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
