The Bulge Of Africa First S:

African Youth and the Persistence of Marginalization Danielle Resnick, James Thurlow, 2015-04-10 The much heralded growth and transformation of many economies in sub Saharan Africa over the last decade continues to receive prominent attention in academic scholarship and among policy practitioners An apparent feature about this transformation however is that Africa s youth appear to have been left out This book critically examines the extent and consequences of the marginalization of African youth It questions conventional wisdoms about data trends aspirational goals and common policy interventions surrounding Africa s youth that have been variously propagated in both the development studies literature and in mainstream donor policy reports The book explores macro trends from both a temporal and cross regional perspective in order to highlight what is distinct about contemporary African youth and whether their prospects and behaviours do actually vary from their counterparts in other regions of the world or from previous generations of African youth Such studies include cross country analyses of youth employment patterns and modes of political participation in depth examination of the behaviours and aspirations of the urban youth and critical reflections on the impact of rural employment initiatives vocational education and learnership programmes The incorporation of multiple methods and disciplines as well as its attention to policy issues ensures that the book will be of great interest to graduate students researchers and professional researchers whose work lies at the intersection of African area studies and development studies as well as those focused on development economics political science and public policy and administration

An Army at Dawn Rick Atkinson, 2007-05-15 WINNER OF THE PULITZER PRIZE AND NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER In the first volume of his monumental trilogy about the liberation of Europe in World War II Pulitzer Prize winner Rick Atkinson tells the riveting story of the war in North Africa The liberation of Europe and the destruction of the Third Reich is a story of courage and enduring triumph of calamity and miscalculation In this first volume of the Liberation Trilogy Rick Atkinson shows why no modern reader can understand the ultimate victory of the Allied powers without a grasp of the great drama that unfolded in North Africa in 1942 and 1943 That first year of the Allied war was a pivotal point in American history the moment when the United States began to act like a great power Beginning with the daring amphibious invasion in November 1942 An Army at Dawn follows the American and British armies as they fight the French in Morocco and Algeria and then take on the Germans and Italians in Tunisia Battle by battle an inexperienced and sometimes poorly led army gradually becomes a superb fighting force Central to the tale are the extraordinary but fallible commanders who come to dominate the battlefield Eisenhower Patton Bradley Montgomery and Rommel Brilliantly researched rich with new material and vivid insights Atkinson s narrative provides the definitive history of the war in North Africa

The Diaspora's Role in Africa Stella-Monica N. Mpande, 2021-11-07 Africans living in the diaspora have a unique position as potential agents of change in helping to address Africa s political and socioeconomic challenges In addition to sending financial remittances their multiple hybrid identities in and out of geographical and psychocultural spaces allow them to play a role as cultural and political ambassadors to foster social change and sustainable development back in their African homelands However this hybrid position is not without challenges and this book reflects some of the conundrums faced by members of the diaspora as they negotiate their relationships with their home countries The author uses her lived experiences and empirical research to ask are members of the diaspora conduits of Western cultural hegemony at the cost of their traditional preservation and meaningful development in Africa How does the Western media's portrayal of Africa as the Dark Continent in the 21st century influence their decision making process to invest back home How could African nations governments manage their relationships with citizens abroad to motivate them to invest in their home countries How do some citizen residents in Africa and African Diaspora communities perceive each other in the context of Africa's development How could the African Diaspora collaborate with citizen residents across growth sectors to impact Africa's development The book hopes to inspire agents of change within the diaspora and features diverse African entrepreneurs success stories and their experiences of tackling these challenges The book will be of interest to aspiring entrepreneurs researchers across African studies and the expanding and vibrant field of diaspora research
