Office of International Affairs, 1981 The British New Towns Meryl Aldridge, 2017-10-12 First published in 1979 Concern about the processes at work in Britain's urban areas coupled with steep declines in the population projections led to a review of urban and regional policies in the mid 1970s with major implications for the new towns as an element of national policy The various stages and the conclusions of this re appraisal are discussed and the new towns role in the supposed urban crisis is analysed This title will be of interest to students of urban studies and development General

(Eds.): The Outlook Tower: Essays on Urbanization in Memory of Patrick Geddes , Community Design and the Culture of Cities Eduardo E. Lozano,1990-11-30 Having perceived a widespread failure of most community scale plans Eduardo Lozano has created a large and humane vision for community design geared toward urban planners and designers as well as those concerned with the communities of the future Lozano strives to unify theory and practice seeing that design at community scale is a relatively new responsibility for professionals and seeing the need for an awareness of the systemic nature of urban design He also highlights relevant lessons from historical examples in order to rediscover the community design metier forgotten after the industrial revolution The author relies on interdisciplinary studies drawing from biology ecology and political science as well as from history for his fascinating study Throughout the book there is an emphasis on the interrelationship of design and culture society technology institutions and values and on the need for an agenda for political and cultural change Beyond Kolkata Ishita Dey,Ranabir Samaddar,Suhit K. Sen,2016-03-23 This book examines the politics behind and the socio economic and ecological repercussions of the making of a new township variously called New Town Megacity or Jyoti Basu Nagar in Rajarhat near Kolkata Conceived by the West Bengal state government in the mid 1990s in pandering to the vision of urban planners of creating a hi tech town beyond an unruly crowded Kolkata and feeding the hunger of realtors and developers the city is built on the foundations of coercive even violent land acquisition state largesse and corruption and at the cost of erasing a self sufficient subsistence economy and despoiling a fragile environment Yet after its completion and departure of construction labour the new town appears as a necropolis a ghost city that belies its promised image of an urban utopia even as the displaced locals lead a precarious mobile existence as transit labour engaged in odd and informal jobs Written on the basis of intensive fieldwork government documents court records and chronicles of public protests this book broadly analyses the politics and economics of urbanisation in the age of post colonial capitalism particularly the paradoxical combination of neoliberal and primitive modes of capital accumulation upon which the global emergence of new towns is based Departing from the dominant styles of urban studies that focus on cultural or spatial analysis of cities the authors show the links between changes in space technology political economy class composition and forms of urban politics which give concrete shape to a city It will immensely interest those in sociology political science economics development studies urban studies policy and governance studies and history New Communities United States. Housing and Home Finance Agency. Library,1965 The Planning of a New Town London County Council,2015-03-05 The publication of The Planning of a New Town in 1961 aroused remarkable interest Its pages described a private new town sponsored by the London County Council LCC to be built at Hook in Hampshire a scheme that innovatively combined Garden City New Town traditions with sensitivity to modern design At its heart lay a multilevel and megastructural town centre intended to serve as a genuine focus for the gathering community featuring shops and amenities placed on a pedestrian deck with cars and servicing beneath The report itself proved extremely popular even though the New Town had fallen foul of political opposition at local and national levels and had been abandoned before any construction took place It offers an insight into the flux of ideas that surrounded New Town development in the early 1960s Analysing the world as it might have been not only identifies choices that were once available for shaping the built environment it also often reveals once cherished hopes and aspirations about how people might live in cities

Invincible Green Suburbs, Brave New Towns Mark Clapson, 1998 Explores the phenomenon of the mass movement of people away from town and city centres to live in new estates and towns built since World War II Using sociology town planning materials oral history and other sources this book examines the making of modern suburbia

Urban Development and New Towns in the Third World Alain R.A. Jacquemin, 2019-01-22 First published in 1999 this volume examines India and Bombay countries which represent some of the world's most dramatic examples of rapid urban growth One of the strategies frequently adopted by the Indian authorities to cope with this urban growth is the development of new towns such as New Bombay which is India's largest and most significant urban planning experience since Independence The New Bombay model based on a specific planning and financing strategy is considered highly successful and so is increasingly being copied and implemented in other urban areas of India This volume makes the first independent evaluation of New Bombay and sets it in a wider Third World urban development context As well as analysing the processes of physical and economic growth the volume also examines the process of social development and in particular the consequences of this planning concept for the urban poor

Planting New Towns in Europe in the Interwar Years Helen Meller, Heleni Porfyriou, 2016-06-22 The key theme of the papers in this book concerns the prospects of building new urban environments and creating new societies in Europe during the interwar years The contributions do not focus on the system of government communist fascist or democratic but rather on what actually got built by whom and why and how the international communication of ideas was filtered through the prism of local concerns and culture As such the volume serves to tease out connections between urban form and social aspirations and between the moral basis of social planning and how it was interpreted Did the new towns of the interwar years actually create a planned society where visions met realities aided by the design of new urban forms This is one of the principal questions investigated by the contributors here in all the different political contexts of their chosen new towns
