Productive Aging Nancy Morrow-Howell,James Hinterlong,Michael Sherraden,2001-04-27 This book treats the implications of productive aging as challenges It combines the theories of gerontology with practical considerations and acknowledging the contributions of leading researchers in the field of aging As baby boomers are aging they can hope to maintain a quality of life that previous generations have not enjoyed Services to the Aging and Aged Paul K. Kim,2021-03-04 This series attempts to address the topic of aging from a wide variety of perspectives and to make available some of the best gerontological thought and writings to researchers professional practitioners and students in the field of aging as well as in other related areas This volume is an invaluable resource for those persons seeking a broad comprehensive coverage of current public policies and service programs for the elderly Besides dealing with present gerontological services it also explores the emerging challenges that these services must face in the future One of the outstanding features of the book is that its contributors include some of the most prominent authorities in the field of gerontology This is an exceptionally important and timely volume and is a much needed addition to the literature on aging

Data-driven Multivalence in the Built Environment Nimish Bioria, 2019-07-01 This book sets the stage for understanding how the exponential escalation of digital ubiquity in the contemporary environment is being absorbed modulated processed and actively used for enhancing the performance of our built environment S M A R T in this context is thus used as an acronym for Systems Materials in Architectural Research and Technology with a specific focus on interrogating the intricate relationship between information systems and associative material cultural and socioeconomic formations within the built environment This interrogation is deeply rooted in exploring inter disciplinary research and design strategies involving nonlinear processes for developing meta design systems evidence based design solutions and methodological frameworks some of which are presented in this issue Urban health and wellbeing urban mobility and infrastructure smart manufacturing Interaction Design Urban Design Planning as well as Data Science as prominent symbiotic domains constituting the Built Environment are represented in this first book in the S M A R T series The spectrum of chapters included in this volume helps in understanding the multivalence of data from a socio technical perspective and provides insight into the methodological nuances involved in capturing analysing and improving urban life via data driven technologies

Unhealthy Places Kevin Fitzpatrick, Mark LaGory, 2002-09-11 Unhealthy Places focuses on issues of health in today's cities By arguing that place matters in relation to the population's health Kevin Fitzpatrick and Mark LaGory make a convincing argument about the general unhealthiness of urban environments and thus of the urban dweller The authors offer a place oriented approach to health and cover such topics as the ecology of everyday urban life the sociology of health needs and risks of the socially disadvantaged needs and risks of children and the elderly in cities and strategies for better health services in urban environments

Golden Years James Chappel, 2024-11-19 The surprising history of old age in modern America showing how we created unprecedented security for some and painful uncertainty for others On farms and in factories Americans once had little choice but to work until death As the nation prospered a new idea was born the right to a dignified and secure old age That project has benefited millions but it remains incomplete and today it's under siege In Golden Years historian James Chappel shows how old age first emerged as a distinct stage of life and how it evolved over the last century shaped by politicians choices activists demands medical advancements and cultural models from utopian novels to The Golden Girls Only after World War II did government subsidies and employer pensions allow people to retire en masse Just one generation later this model crumbled Older people streamed back into the workforce and free market policymakers pushed the burdens of aging back onto older Americans and their families We now confront an old age mired in contradictions ever longer lifespans and spiraling health care costs 401 k s and economic precarity unprecedented opportunity and often disastrous instability As the population of older Americans grows Golden Years urges us to look to the past to better understand old age today and how it could be better tomorrow Madness, Architecture and the Built Environment James Moran, Leslie Topp, Jonathan Andrews, 2020-09-19 This is the first volume of papers devoted to an examination of the relationship between mental health illness and the construction and experience of space This historical analysis with contributions from leading experts will enlighten and intrigue in equal measure The first rigorous scholarly analysis of its kind in book form it will be of particular interest to the history psychiatry and architecture communities Staying Put Susan Lanspery, Joan Hyde, 2018-12-20 Most existing housing offers a poor fit for older people and people with disabilities and new construction adds less than 2 per cent to the housing each year Ninety nine percent of the housing that will be in use in the year 2000 exists today The long needed anthology Staying Put Adapting the Places Instead of the People emphasizes the disabilities and abilities of environments instead of individuals With contributions from leading authorities it integrates a wide range of theoretical and practical ideas about housing adaptation for researchers students consumers policymakers and practitioners in human services and the building trades
