Haunting Biology Emma Kowal, 2023-10-13 In Haunting Biology Emma Kowal recounts the troubled history of Western biological studies of Indigenous Australians and asks how we now might see contemporary genomics especially that conducted by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander scientists Kowal illustrates how the material persistence of samples over decades and centuries folds together the fates of different scientific methodologies Blood bones hair comparative anatomy human biology physiology and anthropological genetics all haunt each other across time and space together with the many racial theories they produced and sustained The stories Kowal tells feature a variety of ghostly presences a dead anatomist a fetishized piece of hair hidden away in a war trunk and an elusive white Indigenous person By linking this history to contemporary genomics and twenty first century Indigeneity Kowal outlines the fraught complexities perils and potentials of studying Indigenous biological difference in the twenty first century Jacques Derrida's Ghost David

Appelbaum, 2009-07-01 A spirited reading of Derrida's view of ethics as transcendental and performative The Haunting Possibility Susan Fletcher, 1988 An excellent job The plot moves smoothly with nuggets of suspense dropped in just often enough School Library Journal Updike and the Patriarchal Dilemma Mary O'Connell, 1996 A disturbing element exists O'Connell determines in both the texts of the Rabbit novels and in the critical community that examines them In the novels O'Connell finds substantial evidence to demonstrate patterns of psychological and physical abuse toward women citing as the culminating example the mounting toll of literally or metaphorically dead women in the texts New Perspectives on

The Plot Machine Kai Mikkonen,2021-11-01 This book presents a new and exciting theory of the modern French novel by developing the notion of the narrative as a textual machine Many turn of the century French novels thematically identified their means of narration through the various machines that they depicted The narrative devices that were particularly important in this self reflection included the temporal order of the plot the question of a narrative s beginning and end the hierarchy of narrative voices and the techniques of the point of view The question of mechanization became central on all these fronts Has the novel become automated or machine like At the same time the machine metaphors in the novels of Alfred Jarry Emile Zola Jules Verne Villiers de l Isle Adam Raymond Roussel combined the question of the narrative form with new ways to think about man s relationship with technology and the cultural environment The early modernist texts drew upon contradictory notions of technological promise and threat while they also depicted new forms of identity and behavior related to or modeled after machines These texts highlighted cultural assumptions concerning technological innovations and critiqued mainly through parody and through various figures of man machine fusion the positivistic belief in progress Such writers looked for evidence of advanced forms of consciousness arising out of encounters with new technology such as telephones trains bicycles telegraphy phonographs and electricity This volume will be of interest to anyone working in the field of modern French literary and cultural history It will especially appeal to anyone intrigued with the origins of the modernist novel the history of narrative forms and the question of how the experience of new technology may be portrayed in literary texts
