Concepts such as influence imitation emulation transmission or plagiarism are transcendental to cultural history and the subject of universal debate They are not mere labels imposed by modern historiography on ancient texts nor are they the result of a later interpretation of ways of transmitting and teaching but are concepts defined and discussed internally within all cultures since time immemorial which have yielded very diverse results In the case of culture or better Arab Islamic cultures we could analyze and discuss endlessly numerous terms that refer to concepts related to the multiple ways of perceiving the Other receiving his knowledge and producing new knowledge The purpose of this book evolves around these concepts and it aims to become part of a very long tradition of studies on this subject that is essential to the understanding of the processes of reception and creation The authors analyze them in depth through the use of examples that are based on the well known idea that societies in different regions did not remain isolated and indifferent to the literary religious or scientific creations that were developed in other territories and moreover that the flow of ideas did not always occur in only one direction Contacts both voluntary and involuntary are never incidental or marginal but are rather the true engine of the evolution of knowledge and creation It can also be stated that it has been the awareness of the existence of multidimensional cultural relations which has allowed modern historiography on Arab cultures to evolve and be enriched in recent decades

Europe (in Theory) Roberto M. Dainotto, 2007-01-09 Europe in Theory is an innovative analysis of eighteenth and nineteenth century ideas about Europe that continue to inform thinking about culture politics and identity today Drawing on insights from subaltern and postcolonial studies Roberto M Dainotto deconstructs imperialism not from the so called periphery but from within Europe itself He proposes a genealogy of Eurocentrism that accounts for the way modern theories of Europe have marginalized the continent's own southern region portraying countries including Greece Italy Spain and Portugal as irrational corrupt and clan based in comparison to the rational civic minded nations of northern Europe Dainotto argues that beginning with Montesquieu's The Spirit of Laws 1748 Europe not only defined itself against an Oriental other but also against elements within its own borders its South He locates the roots of Eurocentrism in this disavowal internalizing the other made it possible to understand and explain Europe without reference to anything beyond its boundaries Dainotto synthesizes a vast array of literary philosophical and historical works by authors from different parts of Europe He scrutinizes theories that came to dominate thinking about the continent including Montesquieu's invention of Europe's north south divide Hegel's two Europes and Madame de Staël's idea of opposing European literatures a modern one from the North and a pre modern one from the South At the same time Dainotto brings to light counter narratives written from Europe's margins such as the Spanish Jesuit Juan Andrés's suggestion that the origins of modern European culture were eastern rather than northern and the Italian Orientalist Michele Amari's assertion that the South was the cradle of a social democracy brought to Europe via Islam

The Art of Medicine O'Boyle, 2021-09-20 In this work the author contributes to our understanding of the formation of medicine as a university discipline by explaining how a collection of medical works known as the Ars medicinae The Art of Medicine came to form the basis of medical teaching in the early universities Based upon extensive manuscript research this study explains how the collection evolved to suit the needs of university medical teaching and how it helped to establish Hippocratic Galenic medicine as the new medical orthodoxy Focusing upon the medical faculty at the University of Paris the book investigates how medical texts were produced who owned them and how they were used in the classroom It thus explains how language was used how textual authority was created and utilized and how text based knowledge was sanctioned in the classroom

The Arundel Lyrics. The Poems of Hugh Primas Christopher J. McDonough, 2010-11-22 This volume presents two complementary medieval anthologies containing lyrics by two outstanding Latin poets of the second half of the twelfth century The collection is further augmented by verse as varied as Christmas poems and satires on the venality of the Roman Curia and immoral bishops

A History of the University in Europe: Volume 1, Universities in the Middle Ages Hilde de Ridder-Symons, 1992 This is the first volume on the medieval University as a whole to be published in over a century It provides a synthesis of the intellectual social political and religious life of the early University and gives serious attention to the development of classroom studies and how they changed with the coming of the Renaissance and the Reformation
