The Millennium Development Goals In Africa:

Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) in Retrospect Nathan Andrews, Nene Ernest Khalema, N'Dri T.

Assié-Lumumba, 2015-06-10 This volume examines the impact of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs on Africa's development post 2015. It assesses the current state of the MDGs in Africa by outlining the successes, gaps, and failures of the state goals, including lessons learned. A unique feature of the book is the exposition on post-MDG's agenda for Africa's development. Chapters on poverty, south-south partnership, aid, gender empowerment, health, as well as governance and development, explore what feasible alternatives lie ahead for Africa beyond the expiry date of the MDGs. Millennium

Development Goals F. O. C. Nwonwu, Francis Nwonwu, 2008 This book reviews the progress, prospects, and challenges of meeting the Millennium Development Goals MDGs in Africa. Each chapter corresponds with one of the eight goals of the Millennium Declaration. The introduction sets the stage for the discourse contained in the main text, while the conclusion forms an opinion from the findings and prescribes the way forward. The goals in sequence include: 1. Eradicate extreme poverty and hunger, 2. Achieve universal primary education, 3. Promote gender equality and empower women, 4. Reduce child mortality, 5. Improve maternal health, 6. Combat HIV/AIDS, malaria, and other diseases, 7. Ensure environmental sustainability, 8. Develop a global partnership for development. While it is apparent that most North African countries are on track to achieve the above goals by 2015, few countries in sub-Saharan Africa are expected to succeed in this. As well as reviewing progress towards meeting the Millennium Development Goals, the authors also analyse the obstacles and challenges that stand in the way of achieving the goals. These include internal economic and cultural obstacles, as well as external and environmental factors such as reductions in funding, problems in accessing global markets, and the implications for Africa of climate change. Africa and the Millennium Development Goals Charles Mutasa, Mark

Paterson, 2015-10-29 This unique work by the Centre for Conflict Resolution CCR Cape Town, South Africa, tracks the progress Africa has made in achieving the United Nations Millennium Development Goals MDGs since 2000. Thirteen analytical chapters, written by scholars and practitioners with expertise in the various areas covered by the eight MDGs, are organized around the larger themes of political economy, structural issues, sustainable goals, and human development goals. They critically assess the progress that Africa has made towards the achievement of the MDGs, discuss how to accelerate that progress, and offer alternatives and recommendations in support of institutions in Africa that are engaged in promoting the achievement of sustainable development. Throughout, they examine the role of various actors, including the African Union, Africa's regional economic communities, the United Nations, the European Union, etc., civil society, and other external development partners, in light of their contributions, shortfalls, and viable options in shaping the continent's development agenda. Together, they provide a unique assessment from experts on the ground of whether the goals were a success and what remains to be done to achieve sustainable economic and human development in Africa. The Millennium

Development Goals in Africa United Nations. Economic Commission for Africa, 2005 Africa and the Millennium Development Goals, 2006 Africa and the Millennium Development Goals Ahmed Rhazaoui, Luc-Joël Grégoire, Soraya Mellali, 2005 The Millennium Development Goals MDG constitute an ambitious agenda to significantly improve the human condition The goals set clear targets for reducing poverty hunger disease illiteracy environmental degradation and discrimination against women Realizing the Millennium Development Goals in the years ahead will be a particularly challenging task in sub Saharan Africa in light of weak and often faltering macroeconomic performance vulnerability to negative climatic shocks fertility rates and population growth that outpace those of other regions and a devastating combination of poverty continued civil conflict and the effects of HIV AIDS This book provides empirical estimates of current progress in African countries and reviews the various obstacles standing in the way the roles and responsibilities of national actors and their partners and the advocacy monitoring and evaluation aspects of MDG implementation The authors emphasize the need for changes in public policy and for action in both the developed and developing countries Assessing Progress Towards Attaining the Millennium Development Goals in Africa, 2007 Review of the Millennium Declaration and the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), 2008 Achieving the Millennium Development Goals in Africa MDG Africa Steering Group, 2008 Achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDG and other internationally agreed development goals in Africa holds the promise of saving millions of lives ending the scourge of hunger and malnutrition and ensuring that Africa s children are empowered through education and good health to lead productive lives The MDG Africa Steering group presents recommendations in view to achieving the MDG and laying the foundation for robust economic growth in Africa The evidence surveyed by the group demonstrates that such recommendations will produce substantial and verifiable results if implemented by world leaders as the second half of the MDG period begins Assessing Progress in Africa Toward the Millennium Development Goals, 2010
