European Values at the Turn of the Millennium Wil Arts, Loek Halman, 2004-09-01 This volume deals with Europe's diversity and homogeneity at the turn of the millennium in terms of fundamental value orientations. Using data from the 1999-2000 wave of the European Values Study, the contributors to this book try to identify and offer explanations and understandings of the patterns in the basic values and attitudes that have been ascertained in specific life spheres, e.g. work and leisure time, religion, morality, society and politics, family and marriage. The result is a cultural map of Europe that captures the diversities and similarities in value profiles of the Europeans.

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Europe Grace Davie, Lucian Leuștean, 2022 Features contributions from leading scholars providing crucial insight into the role of religious ideas, structures and institutions in the making of Europe. Introduces the building blocks of Europe's religious and the part that they played in the formation of the continent. Explores the relationship between religious communities and ideologies in the twentieth century, connections that play out very differently in East and West Europe. Examines the role of religion in the construction of the European Union from the end of the Second World War until the present day. Assesses the relationship between the major world religions and the idea of Europe. Book jacket Building Europe Cris Shore, 2013-11-05 The development of the European Union has been one of the most profound advances in European politics and society this century. Yet the institutions of Europe and the Eurocrats who work in them have constantly attracted negative publicity, culminating in the mass resignation of the European Commissioners in March 1999. In this revealing study, Cris Shore scrutinises the process of European integration using the techniques of anthropology and drawing on thought from across the social sciences. Using the findings of numerous interviews with EU employees, he reveals that there is not just a subculture of corruption within the institutions of Europe, but that their problems are largely a result of the way the EU itself is constituted and run. He argues that European integration has largely failed in bringing about anything but an ever closer integration of the technical, political and financial elites of Europe at the expense of its ordinary citizens. This critical anthropology of European integration is essential reading for anyone with an interest in the culture and politics of the EU.

Local Societies in Bronze Age Northern Europe Nils Anfinset, Melanie Wrigglesworth, 2014-10-14 This book aims to understand the process of the Bronze Age societies of Northern Europe, which are often regarded as the periphery and a bleak contrast to the Central European Bronze Age. The Bronze Age is the first globalised period with new types of societies and new modes of exchange and trade. In this context, there is considerable local variation and diversity within the Bronze Age societies of Northern Europe, which is poorly understood, although there have been advances and changes in this research. Therefore, this book challenges some of the mainstream opinions on the Bronze Age of Northern Europe and focuses on local and regional aspects. This is done by a series of articles from significant contributors that deal with these issues on theoretical and empirical levels with regards to differences, cultural dualism, boundaries, regions and regionality in a period of increased globalisation. The result is a movement away from local and regional aspects toward communications travels and contacts between northern Europe and the greater world not only towards Central Europe and the Near East but also towards the east Northern Arctic Europe is often left out in these discussions and this book will contribute to this greater picture of the Bronze Age world Developments in Central and East European Politics 5 Stephen White, Judy Batt, 2013-08-30 The new edition of this market leading text brings together specially commissioned chapters by a team of top international scholars on the changing politics of this diverse region negotiating the competing pulls of the European Union and post communist Russia
