The Mimbres Art And Archaeology:

The Mimbres Jesse Walter Fewkes, 1989 This reissue of three early essays on Mimbres archaeology and design fills a major gap in the literature on the Mimbres whose pottery has long fascinated students of the prehistoric Southwest Fewkes one of the eminent archaeologists of the early twentieth century introduced Mimbres art to scholars when he published these essays with the Smithsonian Institution between 1914 and 1924 under the titles Archaeology of the Lower Mimbres Valley New Mexico Designs on Prehistoric Pottery from the Mimbres Valley New Mexico and Additional Designs on Prehistoric Mimbres Pottery Long out of print these essays represent the first analysis and description of the complex abstract and representational designs that continue to fascinate us 2 000 years after they were painted The Mimbres Jesse Walter Fewkes, 1924 Painted by a Distant Hand Steven A. LeBlanc, 2004 Highlighting one of the Peabody Museum's most important archaeological expeditions the excavation of the Swarts Ranch Ruin in southwestern New Mexico by Harriet and Burton Cosgrove in the mid 1920s Steven LeBlanc's book features rare never before published examples of Mimbres painted pottery considered by many scholars to be the most unique of all the ancient art traditions of North America Made between A D 1000 and 1150 these pottery bowls and jars depict birds fish insects and mammals that the Mimbres encountered in their daily lives portray mythical beings and show humans participating in both ritual and everyday activities LeBlanc traces the origins of the Mimbres people and what became of them and he explores our present understanding of what the images mean and what scholars have learned about the Mimbres people in the 75 years since the Cosgroves expedition Mimbres Pottery J. J. Brody, Catherine J. Scott, Steven A. LeBlanc, 1983 The standard work on lost New Mexico civilization's extraordinary craft Stunning photos Art and Archaeology, 1921 Mimbres Painted Pottery J. J. Brody, 2004 A distinguished scholar of Southwestern Native arts for over thirty years J J Brody here returns to his early work on the Mimbres ceramic tradition which established him as the leading authority on the arts of this ancient people The Mimbres cultural florescence between A D 1000 and A D 1140 remains one of the most visually astonishing and anthropologically intriguing questions in Southwest prehistory In this revised edition Dr Brody incorporates the extensive fieldwork done on Mimbres sites since the original publication in 1977 updating his discussion of village life the larger world in which the Mimbres people lived and how the art that they practiced illuminates these wider issues He addresses human and animal iconography the importance of perspective and motion in perceiving Mimbres artistry and the technology used to produce the ceramics Placing the study of ancient art and artifacts in the present he notes the impact of the antiquities market on archaeological and artistic research The Archaeology of Art in the American Southwest Marit K. Munson, 2011-04-16 Archaeologists seldom study ancient art even though art is fundamental to the human experience The Archaeology of Art in the American Southwest argues that archaeologists should study ancient artifacts as artwork as applying the term art to the past raises new questions about artists audiences and the works of art themselves Munson proposes that studies of ancient artwork be based on standard archaeological approaches to material culture framed by theoretical insights of disciplines such as art history visual studies and psychology Using examples drawn from the American Southwest The Archaeology of Art in the American Southwest discusses artistic practice in ancestral Pueblo and Mimbres ceramics and the implications of context and accessibility for the audiences of painted murals and rock art Studies of Hohokam figurines and rock art illustrate methods for studying ancient images while the aesthetics of ancient art are suggested by work on ceramics and kivas from Chaco Canyon This book will be of interest to archaeologists working in the Southwest who want to broaden their perspective on the past It will also appeal to archaeologists in other parts of the world and to anthropologists art historians and those who are intrigued by the material world aesthetics and the visual The Prehistoric Pueblo World, A.D. 1150-1350 Michael A.
