W. Goldsborough, 2017-10-16 Excerpt from The Maryland Line in the Confederate Army 1861 1865 This is a round unvarnished tale of a few hundred heroes from a border State who stepped bravely to the front when their rights of manhood of freedom and of citizenship under what should be one protecting ag enfolding all in its embrace were threatened Their identity was lost in the great gathering no herald ever blew his trumpet in the market place or on the housetops and told the story of their deeds to an assembled people their statues do not stand in any national Walhalla crowned with the laurel they were born they lived they fought they died that was all And so this book seeks to rescue them from the oblivion into which in coming years they might fall to tell of their self sacrifice and their heroism in short to be a simple story of four years in the lives of true and brave hearted men And yet to make the story rounded and complete and to give a reason for the position which they took and the sacrifices which they made it is necessary to go back a little way and speak briefly of the causes which led up to the great struggle and How when the blast of war sounded in their ears these men never hesitated but stood on the side of justice and liberty About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Maryland Line in the Confederate Army, 1861-1865 William Worthington Goldsborough, Bradley Tyler Johnson, W.
