Excerpt from The Masters of English Literature Some explanation is needed to account for the appearance of this book in a period which sets so much value on specialised study The writer would justify it by the view first that in English literature there are certain authors who may be classed as obligatory concerning whom total ignorance is a defect at least to be concealed and secondly that the ordinary reader has neither the time nor inclination to study all these authors at first hand An attempt has therefore been made to put together a survey of the literature which should concern itself only with such authors as can be deemed in this manner essential with the hope that it might usefully supplement the necessarily partial knowledge possessed by young or busy people and perhaps serve as a guide to those who wish to extend their reading About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

A Book of English Literature Franklyn Bliss Snyder, Robert Grant Martin, 1916 The Institution of English Literature Barbara Schaff, Johannes Schlegel, Carola Surkamp, 2016-11-07 The contributions investigate the ways in which numerous institutions of English literature shape the literary field While they cover an extensive historical field ranging from the Early Modern period to the 18th century to the contemporary they focus not only on literary texts but also on extra literary ones including literary prizes literary histories and anthologies and highlight the various ways in which these negotiate the processes that constitute the literary field All contributions assert that there is no such thing as literature outside of institutions Great emphasis is therefore put on different acts of mediation
