The Mind In Early Buddhism Hardcover:

Rationality and Mind in Early Buddhism Frank J. Hoffman, 1992-01-01 Here is a study of rationality and mind based on the earliest recorded stratum of Buddhism the Pali Nikayas The author makes a distinction between what can be said from within the context of the Buddhist texts themselves and what can be spoken of from the point of view of contemporary philosophy of religion The author is at once sympathetic to Early Buddhism as a system of religious belief and attentive to its philosophical difficulties The volume is primarily addressed to students of Buddhism Scholars and researchers in the field of philosophical and religious studies will also find it interesting Philosophy East & West, 2001 Rebirth in Early Buddhism and Current Research Bhikkhu Analayo, 2018-04-23 Join a rigorous scholar and Buddhist monk on a brisk tour of rebirth from ancient doctrine to contemporary debates German Buddhist monk and university professor Bhikkhu Analayo had not given much attention to the topic of rebirth before some friends asked him to explore the treatment of the issue in early Buddhist texts This succinct volume presents his findings approaching the topic from four directions The first chapter examines the doctrine of rebirth as it is presented in the earliest Buddhist sources and the way it relates to core doctrinal principles The second chapter reviews debates about rebirth throughout Buddhist history and up to modern times noting the role of confirmation bias in evaluation of evidence Chapter 3 reviews the merits of current research on rebirth including near death experience past life regression and children who recall previous lives The chapter concludes with an examination of xenoglossy the ability to speak languages one has not learned previously and chapter 4 examines the particular case of Dhammaruwan a Sri Lankan boy who chants Pali texts that he does not appear to have learned in his present life Rebirth in Early Buddhism and Current Research brings together the many strands of the debate on rebirth in one place making it both comprehensive and compact It is not a polemic but an interrogation of the evidence and it leaves readers to come to their own conclusions The Selfless Mind Peter Harvey, 2013-09-13 This careful analysis of early Buddhist thought opens out a perspective in which no permanent Self is accepted but a rich analysis of changing and potent mental processes is developed It explores issues relating to the not Self teaching self development moral responsibility the between lives period and the undetermined questions on the world on the life principle and on the liberated one after death It examines the person as a flowing continuity centred on consciousness or discernment vinnana configured in changing minds sets cittas The resting state of this is seen as brightly shining like the Buddha nature of Mahayana thought so as to represent the potential for Nirvana Nirvana is then shown to be a state in which consciousness transcends all objects and thus participates in a timeless unconditioned realm The Tibetan Book of the Great Liberation, Or, The Method of Realizing Nirvāṇa Through Knowing the Mind Walter Yeeling Evans-Wentz, 2000 To introduce this great published work on the Eastern yoga inspired method of attaining enlightenment Evans Wentz presents 100 pages of explanatory notes Psychoanalyst C G Jung offers commentary on the differences between Eastern and Western thought and Donald S Lopez Jr writes the Foreword 9 halftones

The Tibetan Book of the Great Liberation W. Y. Evans-Wentz, 2000-09-28 The Tibetan Book of the Great Liberation which was unknown to the Western world until its first publication in 1954 speaks to the quintessence of the Supreme Path or Mahayana and fully reveals the yogic method of attaining Enlightenment. Such attainment can happen as shown here by means of knowing the One Mind, the cosmic All Consciousness without recourse to the postures, breathings and other techniques associated with the lower yogas. The original text for this volume belongs to the Bardo Thodol series of treatises concerning various ways of achieving transcendence, a series that figures into the Tantric school of the Mahayana. Authorship of this particular volume is attributed to the legendary Padma Sambhava who journeyed from India to Tibet in the 8th century, as the story goes, at the invitation of a Tibetan king. Padma Sambhava's text per se is preceded by an account of the great guru's own life and secret doctrines. It is followed by the testamentary teachings of the Guru Phadampa Sangay which are meant to augment the thought of the other gurus discussed herein. Still more useful supplementary material will be found in the book's introductory remarks by its editor Evans-Wentz and by the eminent psychoanalyst C. G. Jung. The former presents a 100-page General Introduction that explains several key names and notions such as Nirvana for starters with the lucidity, ease and sagacity that are this scholar's hallmark; the latter offers a Psychological Commentary that weighs the differences between Eastern and Western modes of thought before equating the collective unconscious with the Enlightened Mind of the Buddhist. As with the other three volumes in the late Evans-Wentz's critically acclaimed Tibetan series, all four of which are being published by Oxford in new editions, this book also features a new Foreword by Donald S. Lopez.

Finding Rest in the Nature of the Mind Longchenpa, 2017-12-05 A new translation of Longchenpa's famous work that presents the Buddhist path to enlightenment with pith instructions on developing a meditation practice, true compassion and more. Longchenpa's classic Buddhist manual for attaining liberation teaches us how to familiarize ourselves with our most basic nature, the clear, pristine and aware mind. Written in the fourteenth century, this text is the first volume of Longchenpa's Trilogy of Rest, a work of the Tibetan Dzogchen tradition. This profound and comprehensive presentation of the Buddhist view and path combines the scholastic expository method with direct pith instructions designed for yogi practitioners. This first part of the Trilogy of Rest sets the foundation for the following two volumes: Finding Rest in Meditation which focuses on Tibetan Buddhist meditation practice and Finding Rest in Illusion which focuses on post-meditation yogic conduct. The Padmakara Translation Group has provided us with a clear and fluid new translation to Finding Rest in the Nature of the Mind along with selections from its autocommentary The Great Chariot which will serve as a genuine aid to study and meditation. Here we find essential instructions on the need to turn away from materialism, how to find a qualified guide, how to develop boundless compassion for all beings along with the view of tantra and associated meditation techniques. The work culminates with pointing out the result of practice as presented from the Dzogchen perspective, providing us with all the tools necessary to traverse the Tibetan Buddhist path of finding rest.
