School & Society James McKeen Cattell,Will Carson Ryan,Raymond Walters,1919 School and Society ,1919 Sociological Foundations of Education Claire Maxwell,Miri Yemini,Laura Engel,2023-03-23 This volume introduces sociology as a foundational discipline of education Education is a central structuring mechanism in shaping societies making it a core focus for sociology Sociologists study education in its broadest sense as occurring within families communities and provided by institutions The purposes of formal education are contested and these contestations shape broader power relations locally nationally and globally Sociologists disaggregate processes within education to examine empirically and theoretically the various levels at which they operate This allows them to describe and make sense of the ways that relations of inequality are developed reproduced or unsettled and how these shape individual and group experiences and outcomes About the Educational Foundations series Education as an academic field taught at universities around the world emerged from a range of older foundational disciplines The Educational Foundations series comprises six volumes each covering one of the foundational disciplines of philosophy history sociology policy studies economics and law This is the first reference work to provide an authoritative and up to date account of all six disciplines showing how each field s ideas methods theories and approaches can contribute to research and practice in education today The six volumes cover the same set of key topics within education which also form the chapter titles Mapping the Field Purposes of Education Curriculum Schools and Education Systems Learning and Human Development Teaching and Teacher Education Assessment and Evaluation This structure allows readers to study the volumes in isolation by discipline or laterally by topic and facilitates a comparative thematic reading of chapters across the volumes Throughout the series attention is paid to how the disciplines comprising the educational foundations speak to social justice concerns such as gender and racial equality

Self-Regulation and Early School Success Megan M. McClelland,Shauna L.

Tominey,2016-04-08 Self regulation has been identified as an important predictor of school readiness and academic achievement in young children Children who struggle with self regulation are at risk of experiencing peer rejection and academic difficulties Teachers report that there is high variability in children s self regulatory abilities at school entry and that children with an accumulation of risk factors are especially likely to enter school without adequate self regulation skills Moreover early academic skills are often cumulative so children who fail to acquire early skills are at risk of falling behind their peers academically and facing achievement gaps that widen over time Although the relation between self regulation and school related outcomes has been clearly documented our understanding of the pathways through which self regulation influences early achievement and school success remains unclear This special issue considers previously neglected areas in the current understanding of self regulation The seven articles focus on issues including a the complex relations between self regulation and school readiness b predictors of self regulation and academic achievement and c advances in measurement of self regulation and related skills Research that continues to investigate the complex relations and mechanisms that influence early self regulation and related outcomes will inform policy and practice in ways that help all children develop the self regulation skills they need The volume will be of interest to researchers in the field of child development or education and educators and policy makers who are interested in promoting school readiness and academic success This book was originally published as a special issue of Early Education and Development Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development and Independent Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1995: Corporation for National and Community Service, Department of Veterans Affairs, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, nondepartmental witnesses, Selective Service System United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA-HUD-Independent Agencies,1995 School Success for Kids With Dyslexia and Other Reading Difficulties Walter Dunson,2021-10-10 School Success for Kids With Dyslexia and Other Reading Difficulties provides parents and teachers with goals that will meet the needs of students who are struggling with reading leading them to work through their difficulties and enjoy reading It includes information assessments and techniques that parents teachers and school administrators can use immediately to foster reading success Through an understanding of how English words are constructed how the brain processes language and the differences that exist between learning styles parents and teachers will gain keen insight into the processes of reading reading acquisition and reading instruction The book also covers topics such as how language skills can affect reading difficulties and how technology can be used to help students and it provides a structured approach for parents to implement at home to help their struggling students find success
