Skinny Eighth Avenue:

The Girls of Slender Means Muriel Spark, 2012-08-01 Long ago in 1945 all the nice people in England were poor allowing for exceptions begins The Girls of Slender Means Dame Muriel Spark's tragic and rapier-witted portrait of a London ladies hostel just emerging from the shadow of World War II Like the May of Teck Club itself three times window shattered since 1940 but never directly hit its lady inhabitants do their best to act as if the world were back to normal practicing elocution and jostling over suitors and a single Schiaparelli gown The novel's harrowing ending reveals that the girls' giddy literary and amorous peregrinations are hiding some tragically painful war wounds Chosen by Anthony Burgess as one of the Best Modern Novels in the Sunday Times of London The Girls of Slender Means is a taut and eerily perfect novel by an author The New York Times has called one of this century's finest creators of comic metaphysical entertainment Frank O'Hara and the Poetics of Saying 'I' Micah Mattix, 2011-03-03 While recent works of criticism on Frank O'Hara have focused on the technical similarities between his poetry and painting or between his use of language and poststructuralism Frank O'Hara and the Poetics of Saying 'I' argues that what is most significant in O'Hara's work is not such much his borrowing from painters or his proto-Derridean use of language but his preoccupation with self-exploration and the temporal effects of his work as artifacts Following Pasternak's understanding of artistic inspiration as an act of love for the material world O'Hara explores moments of experience in an effort to both complicate and enrich our experience of the material world On the one hand in poems such as Second Avenue for example O'Hara works to muddy language through which experience is in part mediated with the use of parataxis allusions and absurd metaphors and similes On the other in his I do this I do that poems he names the events of his lunch hour in an effort among other things to experience time as a moment of fullness rather than as a moment of loss The book argues furthermore that O'Hara's view of the self as both an expression of the creative force at work in the world and as the temporal aggregate of finite experiences places him between so-called Romantic and postmodern theories of the lyric While it is often argued that O'Hara is a forerunner of a new critically informed materialist poetics this study concludes that O'Hara's work is somewhat less radical in its understanding of poetic meaning than is often claimed Moreover while O'Hara is preoccupied with his experience in his poems the book argues that he espouses in some respects a rather traditional view of love In addition to being a metaphor for the creative act love for O'Hara is the chance coming together of two entities Yet one of the ironies of this is that while love is for O'Hara a feeling that is the result of movement or the unexpected coming together of two otherwise separate The Bloomsbury Anthology of Contemporary Jewish American Poetry Deborah Ager, M. E. Silverman, 2013-09-26 With works by over 100 poets The Bloomsbury Anthology of Contemporary Jewish American Poetry celebrates contemporary writers born after World War II who write about Jewish themes This anthology brings together poets whose writings offer fascinating insight into Jewish cultural and religious topics and Jewish identity Featuring established poets as well as representatives of the next generation of Jewish
