Small Voices And Great Trumpets Minorities And The Media:

Small Voices & Great Trumpets Bernard Rubin, 1980 The Media in Black and White Everette Dennis, 2020-03-24 The media's treatment of and interaction with race like race itself is one of the most sensitive areas in American society. Whether in its coverage and treatment of racial matters or racial connections inside media organizations themselves, mass communication is deeply involved with race. The Media in Black and White brings together twenty journalists and scholars of various racial backgrounds to grapple with a controversial issue: the role that media industries from advertising to newspapers to the information superhighway play in helping Americans understand race. Contributors include Ellis Cose, a contributing editor for Newsweek; Manning Marable, chairman of Columbia University's African American Research Center; William Wong, a columnist for the Oakland Tribune; Lisa Penaloza, a University of Illinois professor; and Melita Marie Garza, a Chicago Tribune reporter. Among the topics discussed are the quality of reporting on immigrant issues; how sensationalism may be deepening the chasm of misunderstanding between the races; how the coverage of America's drug wars has been marked by racism; and whether politically correct language is interfering with coverage of vital issues and problems. The contributors of The Media in Black and White hope to broaden the narrow vision of the United States and the world beyond with their contributions to the debate over race and the media. The commentary found in this important work will be of interest to sociologists, communication specialists, and black studies scholars. The Arab Public Sphere in Israel Amal Jamal, 2009-10-16 In this pathbreaking study, Amal Jamal analyzes the consumption of media by Arab citizens of Israel as a type of communicative behavior and a form of political action. Drawing on extensive public opinion survey data, he describes perceptions and use of media ranging from Arabic Israeli newspapers to satellite television broadcasts from throughout the Middle East. By participating in this semi-autonomous Arab public sphere, the average Arab citizen can connect with a wider Arab world beyond the boundaries of the Israeli state. Jamal shows how media aid the community's ability to resist the state's domination, protect its Palestinian national identity, and promote its civic status. Cultural Diversity and the U.S. Media Yahya R. Kamalipour, Theresa Carilli, 1998-09-11 This book provides rich and detailed accounts of how the media filters racial/ethnic identity through economic or sensationalized perspectives in newspapers, films, television, and radio. By exploring media descriptions of various racial/ethnic groups, Cultural Diversity and the U.S. Media provides opportunities to discover, debate, and discuss issues surrounding race, ethnicity, and the role of the media in American society. Racism, Sexism, and the Media Clint C. Wilson, Felix Gutierrez, Lena Chao, 2003-08-28 This third edition presents current information in the rapidly evolving field of minorities' interaction with mass communications, including the portrayals of minorities in the media, advertising, and public relations. Media & You Donna Lloyd-Kolkin, Kathleen R. Tyner, 1991 Blacks and the Media Michael Andrew Williams, 1990 Perspectives of Black Popular Culture Harry B. Shaw, 1990 A collection of analyses of aspects of Black popular culture and also a celebration of Black popular culture that gives recognition and appreciation to its range its uniqueness and its place and role in the wide variety of experience that comprise American popular culture

Television Program Master Index Charles V. Dintrone, 1996 Television history has become one of the hottest areas of research in popular culture Because the field is relatively new and so wide ranging no matter what one is researching much of the relevant material will be found scattered through numerous other works frustrating scholarly progress This work makes the television researcher's job easier by providing a single index to 341 books that include information on 1 002 shows Most of the books deal exclusively with television though some autobiographies biographies Congressional hearings and works on communication and the media are also indexed For a show to be included it must have been carried on NBC CBS ABC or Fox and must have been a series Shows on PBS are generally not included though exceptions have been made for Sesame Street and Mister Rogers Neighborhood

Race, Myth and the News Christopher P. Campbell, 1995-02-28 How are the perceptions of the majority culture the preferred readings reflected in television news How do they reinforce stereotyped attitudes on race This interpretive analysis presents evidence of racism including under representation within news texts The author examines the values traditions and practices of news production that often unconsciously serve to maintain the alienation of racial groups in society While the focus is on local television news in the United States Race Myth and the News has a broad relevance to studies of culture and race

The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America Gender, Race and Class in Media Gail Dines, Jean M. Humez, 1995 This fine collection of perspectives and information will fill a major gap and help to push communication study in an urgently needed direction Undergraduates graduate students and faculty alike have much to gain from this text John Downing Department of Radio Television Film University of Texas Austin This is a well conceived and provocative collection that goes a long way toward filling a real void in available classroom textbooks I have no doubt that it will provoke many hours of discussion and debate about the relations between contemporary media forms and the politics of identity and difference Larry Grossberg Morris Davis Professor of Communication Studies University of North Carolina Chapel Hill This is one of the few books that really attempts to take the topic of mass media seriously while demonstrating a range of languages and approaches that illustrate what doing cultural studies is actually about Henry Giroux Waterbury Chair The Pennsylvania State University A terrific book broad based in cultural and critical studies Gender Race and Class in Media is an excellent text for courses in which multiple perspectives are represented Ellen Wartella Dean College of Communication University of Texas Austin An introductory text reader Gender Race and Class in Media critically examines the mass media as economic and cultural institutions that shape our social identities especially in regard to gender race and class Through an analysis of such popular genres as soap operas talk shows rap music sitcoms rock videos pornography made for TV movies advertising and romance novels students are invited to engage in critical mass media scholarship From a critical cultural perspective the comprehensive introduction delineates the major paradigms in media studies today It outlines the text s integrated approach to media studies which incorporates three distinct but related areas of investigation within media studies political economy of production textual analysis audience response resistance Chapter introductions to the selected readings which are drawn from original essays and influential previously published articles provide a framework for understanding and analyzing how gender race and class are structural and experiential categories that inform the production construction and consumption of media representations Gender Race and Class in Media is designed as a comprehensive critical introduction to mass media but it can also be used as a supplement to a more standard text This text reader is also valuable for such courses as sociology of media media criticism cultural studies popular culture journalism visual literacy and especially where a critical approach is used

Unthinking Eurocentrism Ella Shohat, Robert Stam, 2013-09-27 This excellent book corrects eurocentric criticism from media studies in the past by examining Hollywood movie genres such as the western and the musical from a multicultural perspective

Race, Multiculturalism, and the Media Clint C. Wilson, Felix Gutierrez, 1995 The authors thoroughly examine the various forms of the media film television radio newspaper magazine including advertising and a new chapter on public relations

Newspapers Richard A. Schwarzlose, 1987-11-13 This is an extensive bibliographic essay on the history practice and impact of newspapers on American society Organized into nine chapters the book analyzes more than 1 700 books and journals for their value in newspaper research Especially useful to librarians is the chapter that describes reference sources including online services covering newspapers published in the United States and available in most university libraries Each chapter consists of a comparative review essay followed by a bibliography of the sources mentioned Two appendices provide a selected chronology
