Collecting the Now Michael Maizels, 2022-08-09 Collecting the Now offers a new in depth look at the economic forces and institutional actors that have shaped the outlines of postwar art history with a particular focus on American art 1960 1990 Working through four case studies Michael Maizels illuminates how a set of dealers and patrons conditioned the iconic developments of this period the profusions of pop art the quixotic impossibility of land art the dissemination of new media and the speculation fueled neo expressionist painting of the 1980s This book addresses a question of pivotal importance to a swath of art history that has already received substantial scholarly investigation We now have a clear nuanced understanding of why certain evolutions took place why pop artists exploded the delimited parameters of aesthetic modernism why land artists further strove against the object form itself and why artists returned to neo traditional painting in the 1980s But remarkably elided by extant scholarship has been the question of how How did conditions coalesce around pop so that its artists entered into museum collections and scholarly analyses at pace unprecedented in the prior history of art How when seeking to transcend the delimited gallery object were land artists able to create monumental and by extension monumentally expensive interventions in the extreme wilds of the Western deserts And how did the esoteric objects of media art come eventually to scholarly attention in the sustained absence of academic interest or a private market The answers to these questions lie in an exploration of the financial conditions and funding mechanisms through which these works were created advertised distributed and preserved

Smart Money and Art Martin S. Ackerman, 1986 The Works of Jeremy Bentham Jeremy Bentham, 1843 Understanding Art Markets Iain Robertson, 2015-10-30 The global art market has recently been valued at close to 50bn a rise of over 60% since the global financial crisis These figures are driven by demand from China and other emerging markets as well as the growing phenomenon of the artist bypassing dealers as a market force in his her own right This new textbook integrates updates and enhances the popular aspects of two well regarded texts Understanding International Arts Markets and The Art Business Topics covered include Emerging markets in China East Asian South East Asian Brazilian Russian Islamic and Indian art Art valuation and investment Museums and the cultural sector This revitalized new textbook will continue to be essential reading for students on courses such as arts management arts marketing arts business cultural economics the sociology of arts and cultural policy The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash, 2019-10-23 This all inclusive A Z encyclopedia by one of the world's foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on. The work offers more than 5 000 three to five star entries: three stars good, four stars excellent, five stars masterpiece, and yes, author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make the cut. In addition to a precis, each film's entry also includes a listing of the cast as well as the key principles involved in production from the director to the hair stylist. Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children. Unlike the industry rating system which can be influenced by studio lobbying, Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations for viewing: recommended, acceptable, cautionary, and unacceptable. Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre i.e. animated, drama, sports, mystery, adventure etc. as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death. Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author's private collection.

The Consumerist Manifesto Martin P. Davidson, 2013-09-27 Advertising is no longer on the defensive. It has survived the snobbery of the 50s, the conspiracy theories of the 60s, and the semiology of the 70s to be embraced and apotheosised by the 80s. The Consumerist Manifesto is the first book to examine the advertising process from within the agency itself and from the wider perspective of advertising's dual relationship as both consumer and object with contemporary cultural theory. Martin Davidson follows the creation of successful campaigns and explores how advertising has succeeded in setting the tone for even larger aspects of our material and personal lives. With the impact of postmodernism and popular culture and the subsequent collapse of the old anti advertising critique, the book reveals how advertising came to be embraced as the idiom of the enterprise culture and how it became central to the decades assault on traditional notions of political and cultural value. Martin Davidson explores the wider implications of advertising's dominance for cultural theory, art, anthropology, and language. Finally, Martin Davidson asks how this new critique will have to develop if the industry's new credibility is to be maintained.

 Beyond the Frame Deborah Cherry, 2012-11-12 Beyond the Frame rewrites the history of Victorian art to explore the relationships between feminism and visual culture in a period of heady excitement and political struggle. Artists were caught up in campaigns for women's enfranchisement, education, and paid work, and many were drawn into controversies about sexuality. This richly documented and compelling study considers painting, sculpture, prints, photography, embroidery, and comic drawings as well as major styles such as Pre Raphaelitism, Neo Classicism, and Orientalism. Drawing on critical theory and post colonial studies to analyse the links between visual media, modernity, and imperialism, Deborah Cherry argues that visual culture and feminism were intimately connected to the relations of power.

Huda, 2008-04-01 Art auctions have long captured the public imagination They regularly make news headlines and have become synonymous with glamour money and social distinction The marketing of auction houses and the works they sell has resulted in firms attaining authoritative positions and the ability both to influence and reflect collecting tastes Pedigree and panache is the first comprehensive history of the art auction in Australia In this fascinating work Shireen Huda investigates the construction of the glamorous reputation of art auctions and art auction houses Featuring absorbing case studies of key art auctions and major art auction houses in Australia including Christies Sothebys and Deutscher Menzies the work provides an overview of the origin and international development of art auctions The development of the Australian marketplace is then explored detailing colonial inception and continuing until Christies withdrawal of its saleroom presence in 2006
