Those damn Indians are right in our way I think we ought to give them a good dressing down if they don't get down from the pavement Bloody right mate They should not have been here in the first place said the slim one while transferring his right hand to the grip of his cane and removing it from under his left armpit Instinctively his left hand went to his right pocket and unbuttoned the flap so that he could pull out the whistle quickly That was like a routine drill movement for any MP when he realized the need to blow the whistle mainly as a warning to a defaulter and also to alert others of his profession By then both the pairs were about ten yards apart The Indians showed no sign of relenting and the MPs thought they had a duty to perform Seeing the cane being transferred to the right hand the second Indian muttered to his friend He may hit one of us That is my gut feeling If he dares This puny fellow had it today I'll cut him to pieces said the first one in the same low tone muttered through his clenched teeth Punjabi language can be very forceful when it comes to emphasising a point as was the Pushtu language of the local Pathans tribals since they were neighbors As the distance between the pairs became less their speed of paces slowed down The Indians had made up their mind to confront the MPs Since a Sikh never starts a fight they were waiting for action from the Goras The two MPs were slightly taken aback at the audacity of the Sikh soldiers By then they were just a yard apart The pavement at that point was slightly wide Both the Sikhs tried to stay on the pavement and made way for the Policemen by edging closer to the hedge The first one was on the right of second one and thus closer to the British The MPs reluctantly edged towards the road while definitely staying on the pavement The aim was to stay on the pavement The slim one was on the right of the tall one and thus closer to the first Indian As he came next to them his face turned red with disdain seeing the damn Indians conveniently edging towards the hedge thus taking up a slightly higher and superior position rather than give way to the British masters by stepping down on to the low road That was a challenge to the self respect of

Gurudeva and Nimāi Satsvarūpa Dāsa Gosvāmī,1989 Threads of the Unfolding Web Stuart Robson,Hadi Sidomulyo,2021-02-22 Threads of the Unfolding Web is essential reading for scholars students and the general reader interested in Javanese history of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Little is known about the history of Java in this period which witnessed the beginnings of major global economic political cultural and religious change It was a time when Java saw the decline of the once powerful eastern Javanese kingdom of Majapahit the rise of Muslim kingdoms on Java s northern coast and the arrival of the first Europeans in the person of the Portuguese Tom Pires in Java s cosmopolitan ports Stuart Robson s expert English translation of the Tantu Pangg laran gives his readers ready access to this important work which provides insight into how the author and his contemporary Javanese readers imagined the realities of the world in which they lived We learn how they conceived the creation of this world and understood the relationship between the gods and men Importantly we learn also how they conceived a history of the foundation and spread of Bhairava ivaite hermitages shrines and temples The work traces the history of this network from its origins in the vicinity of the Dieng plateau and the northern plains of Batang and Pekalongan to its subsequent expansion to the Tengger and Hyang Massifs of eastern Java Hadi Sidomulyo s impressive commentary an amalgam of textual analysis and the survey of archaeological sites is a model for the way in which further research of this sort might be conducted and underlines the urgent need for further archaeological surveys and the future excavation of archaeological sites Professor Emeritus Peter Worsley Indonesian Studies University of Sydney Ever since the dissertation of Th Pigeaud was published in 1926 the Tantu Pangg laran has both intrigued and perplexed scholars of the cultural history of Java Despite Pigeaud s translation and copious notes much remained uncertain and his comments were not easily accessible except to readers of Dutch Now the publication of Threads of the Unfolding Web has breathed new life into studies of this rare exemplar of the literature of the period of transition in sixteenth century Java

This collaborative volume combines the skills of Stuart Robson a senior in the field of translation from Old Javanese and Hadi Sidomulyo whose deep interest in the early history of Java combines attention to the inscriptional record with field work using GPS technology to locate and describe archaeological remains spread throughout Java As a result you have before you a volume that illustrates the close linkages between a literary text describing the mythical foundations of the aiva ascetic communities of the Javanese i order and the geophysical coordinates of these communities as far as they can be traced today This combination represents a giant leap forward for studies of the Tantu Pangg laran We owe the authors a debt of gratitude for the years of work that lay behind the completion of this important volume Thomas M Hunter Lecturer in South Southeast Asian Studies University of British Columbia
