Soviet Military Psychiatry:

Soviet Military Psychiatry Richard A. Gabriel, 1986-02-21 Russian/Soviet Military Psychiatry, 1904-1945 Paul Wanke, 2005 Psychiatry like most professional fields in Russia gained its legitimacy from its ability to serve the Tsar and later the Bolshevik party The militarised nature of these governments meant that psychiatry would have to prove its worth to the military This study will cover Russian Soviet military psychiatry from its first practical experience during the Russo Japanese war to its greatest test during the Great Patriotic War 1941-45 Throughout this study the continuity between Russian and Soviet military psychiatry will be emphasised For example psychiatry's materialist school dominated throughout this period and that Russia's acceptance that psychiatric casualties will occur allowed them to focus their resources on treatment rather than prevention

Military Psychiatry Richard A. Gabriel, 1986 The problem of battle stress has become a major factor in the question of military effectiveness Current estimates suggest that modern armies are likely to lose between forty and fifty percent of their total strength as a result of psychiatric collapse The first work of its kind ever published in the field of comparative military psychiatry this book draws together a cross cultural analysis of the discipline as practiced by the armies of the United States Germany Israel and the Soviet Union

Military Psychiatry, 1994 Psychiatric Casualties Mark Russell, Charles Figley, 2021-06-15 The psychological toll of war is vast and the social costs of war's psychiatric casualties extend even further Yet military mental health care suffers from extensive waiting lists organizational scandals spikes in veteran suicide narcotic overprescription shortages of mental health professionals and inadequate treatment The prevalence of conditions such as post traumatic stress disorder is often underestimated and there remains entrenched stigma and fear of being diagnosed Even more alarming is how the military dismisses or conceals the significance and extent of the mental health crisis The trauma experts Mark C Russell and Charles Figley offer an impassioned and meticulous critique of the systemic failures in military mental health care in the United States They examine the persistent disconnect between war culture which valorizes an appearance of strength and seeks to purge weakness and the science and treatment of trauma Instead of reckoning with the mental health crisis the military has neglected the needs of service members It has discharged prosecuted and incarcerated a large number of people struggling with the psychological realities of war and it has inflicted humiliation ridicule and shame on many more Through a far reaching historical account Russell and Figley detail how the military has perpetuated a self inflicted crisis The book concludes with actionable prescriptions for change and a comprehensive approach to significantly improving military mental health

Traumatic Memories of the Second World War and After Peter Leese, Jason Crouthamel, 2016-10-05 This collection investigates the social and cultural history of trauma to offer a comparative analysis of its individual communal and political effects in the twentieth century Particular attention is given to witness testimony to procedures of personal memory and collective commemoration and to visual sources as they illuminate the changing historical nature of trauma The essays draw on diverse methodologies including oral history and use varied sources such as literature film and the broadcast media The contributions discuss imaginative communal and political responses as well as the ways in which the later welfare of traumatized individuals is shaped by medical military and civilian institutions Incorporating innovative methodologies and offering a thorough evaluation of current research the book shows new directions in historical trauma studies Military Review ,1988 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Vitalist Modernism Fae Brauer,2023-02-28 This book reveals how when where and why vitalism and its relationship to new scientific theories philosophies and concepts of energy became seminal from the fin de si cle until the Second World War for such Modernists as Sophie Taeuber Arp Hugo Ball Juliette Bisson Eva Carri re Salvador Dal Robert Delaunay Marcel Duchamp Edvard Munch Picasso Yves Tanguy Gino Severini and John Cage For them Vitalism entailed the conception of life as a constant process of metamorphosis impelled by the free flow of energies imaginings intuition and memories unconstrained by mechanistic materialism and chronometric imperatives to generate what the philosopher Henri Bergson aptly called Creative Evolution Following the three main dimensions of Vitalist Modernism the first part of this book reveals how biovitalism at the fin de si cle entailed the pursuit of corporeal regeneration through absorption in raw nature wholesome environments aquatic therapies electromagnetism heliotherapy modern sports particularly rugby water sports the Olympic Games and physical culture to energize the human body and vitalize its life force This is illuminated by artists as geoculturally diverse as Gustave Caillebotte Thomas Eakins Munch and Albert Gleizes The second part illuminates how simultaneously Vitalism became aligned with anthroposophy esotericism magnetism occultism parapsychology spiritism theosophy and what Bergson called psychic states alongside such new sciences as electromagnetism radiology and the Fourth Dimension as captured by such artists as Juliette Bisson Giacomo Balla Albert Besnard Umberto Boccioni Eva Carri re John Gerrard Keulemans L szl Moholy Nagy James Tissot Albert von Schrenck Notzing and Picasso During and after the devastation of the First World War the third part explores how Vitalism particularly Bergson s theory of becoming became associated with Dadaist Neo Dadaist and Surrealist notions of amorality atemporality dysfunctionality entropy irrationality inversion negation and the nonsensical captured by Hans Arp Charlie Chaplin Theo Van Doesburg Kazimir Malevich Kurt Schwitters and Vladimir Tatlin alongside Cage s concept of Nothing After investigating the widespread engagement with Bergson s philosophies and Vitalism and art by Anarchists Marxists and Communists during and after the First World War it concludes with the official rejection of Bergson and any form of Vitalism in the Soviet Union under Stalin This book will be of vital interest to gallery exhibition and museum curators and visitors plus readers and scholars working in art history art theory cultural studies modernist studies occult studies European art and literature health histories of science philosophy psychology sociology sport studies heritage studies museum studies and curatorship Review of Current Military Literature ,1988
