

Soviet Foreign Policy

Between 1917 and 1939, the Soviet Union pursued two very different goals in foreign policy. As communists, both Lenin and Stalin wanted to bring about the worldwide revolution that Marx had predicted. But as Soviets, they wanted to guarantee their nation's security by winning the support of other countries. The result was a contradictory and generally unsuccessful foreign policy.

Reflections on a Disruptive Decade Eugene Davidson,2000 Anti-Communism in Twentieth-Century America Larry Ceplair,2011-10-05 This compelling critical analysis of anti communism illustrates the variety of anti Communist styles and agendas thereby making a persuasive case that the threat of domestic communism in Cold War America was vastly overblown In the United States today communism is an ideology or political movement that barely registers in the consciousness of our nation Yet merely half a century ago communist was a buzzword that every citizen in our nation was aware of a term that connoted traitor and almost certainly a characterization that most Americans were afraid of Anti Communism in Twentieth Century America A Critical History provides a panoramic perspective of the types of anti communists in the United States between 1919 and the collapse of the Soviet Union It explains the causes and exceptional nature of anti communism in the United States and divides it into eight discrete categories This title then thoroughly examines the words and deeds of the various anti Communists in each of these categories during the three Red Scares in the past century The work concludes with an unapologetic assessment of domestic anti communism This book allows readers to more fully comprehend what the anti communists meant with their rhetoric and grasp their impact on the United States during the 20th century and beyond for example how anti communism has reappeared as anti terrorism Report of the Select Committee to Investigate Communist Aggression and the Forced Incorporation of the Baltic States Into the U.S.S.R. United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Communist Aggression,1954 Document on German Foreign Policy, 1918-1945 United States Department of State,1956 A World of Letters Nicholas A.
