Scientists, Engineers, and Track-Two Diplomacy National Research Council, Development, Security, and Cooperation, Glenn E. Schweitzer, 2004-03-02 This report is intended to provide a brief historical perspective of the evolution of the interacademy program during the past half century recognizing that many legacies of the Soviet era continue to influence government approaches in Moscow and Washington and to shape the attitudes of researchers toward bilateral cooperation in both countries of special interest is the changing character of the program during the age of perestroika restructuring in the late 1980s in the Soviet Union to describe in some detail the significant interacademy activities from late 1991 when the Soviet Union fragmented to mid 2003 and to set forth lessons learned about the benefits and limitations of interacademy cooperation and to highlight approaches that have been successful in overcoming difficulties of implementation

The Southern African Development Community (SADC) and the European Union (EU) Johannes Muntschick, 2017-10-09 This book explores regionalism in the Southern African Development Community SADC and highlights the influence of the European Union EU as an extra regional actor on the organization and integration process The analysis is guided by theory and explains the emergence institutional design and performance of SADC s major integration projects in the issue areas of the economy security and infrastructure It provides in this way a profound assessment of the organization as a whole The study shows that South Africa plays a regional key role as driver for integration while external influence of the EU is ambivalent in character because it unfolds a supportive or obstructive impact The author argues that the EU gains influence over regional integration processes in the SADC on the basis of patterns of asymmetric interdependence and becomes a game changer insofar as it facilitates or impedes solutions to regional cooperation problems Social Sciences, 1991
