The Need for Better Regulation of Outer Space. Stories Pippa Goldschmidt, 2014-04-01 I didn't ask her if it had been Walt Whitman and his declaration that he was vast and contained multitudes that she'd read as she lay on the bed in the boarding house at Dover but it would have been appropriate because She was an anti Zionist who went to Israel for her holidays She read the Telegraph and voted Labour She ate bacon for breakfast and then cooked kosher lunches at the club for other Jewish pensioners She said she was disappointed in me when I explained how to jiggle coins out of public phones yet she stole small plants from Tel Aviv airport and smuggled them back to England in her handbag Pippa Goldschmidt's protagonists have a special way of observing the world intelligent as they undoubtedly are they all suffer from a weird and warped lack of understanding certain parts of life It is science that helps them regulate the world they live in It is science that brings chaos upon them Goldschmidt connects realism hyperrealism surrealism satire subtle political statements anti Semitic tendencies and the gender gap in a unique and surprising way Pippa Goldschmidt is an important new voice in contemporary fiction Pippa Goldschmidt grew up in London and now lives in Edinburgh She is a graduate of the renowned Masters course in creative writing at the University of Glasgow She has a PhD in astronomy and worked as an astronomer for several years at Imperial College followed by posts in the civil service including working in outer space policy In 2012 Pippa was awarded a prestigious Scottish Book Trust Creative Scotland New Writers Award From 2008 to 2012 she was writer in residence at the ESRC Genomics Policy and Research Forum based at the University of Edinburgh The Falling Sky is her first novel and was runner up in the Dundee International Book Prize

Outer Space and Popular Culture Annette Froehlich, 2024-05-15 Following on from the highly acclaimed Parts 1 to 3 this book provides detailed insights into how space and popular culture intersect across a broad spectrum of examples including cinema music art arcade games cartoons comics and advertisements This is a pertinent topic since the use of space themes differs in different cultural contexts and these themes can be used to explore various aspects of the human condition and provide a context for social commentary on politically sensitive issues With the use of space imagery evolving over the past sixty years of the space age this is a topic ripe for in depth exploration The book also discusses the contrasting visions of space from the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and the reality of today and analyzes space vehicles and habitats in popular depictions of space from an engineering perspective exploring how many of those ideas have actually been implemented in practice and why or why not a case of life imitating art and vice versa As such it covers a wide array of relevant and timely topics examining intersections between space and popular culture and offering accounts of space and its effect on culture language and storytelling from the southern regions of the world

Story and Sustainability Barbara Eckstein, James A. Throgmorton, 2003-05-23 Story and Sustainability explores the role of story in planning theory and practice with the goal of creating U S cities able to balance competing claims for economic growth environmental health and social justice In the book urban practitioners and scholars from fields as diverse as American studies English geography history planning and criminal justice reflect critically on the traditional exclusionary power of storytelling and on its potential to facilitate the transformations of imagination theory and practice necessary to create sustainable democratic American cities The book begins with an editors introduction identifying story sustainable U S cities and democracy as the three key themes Part I advances and refines these concepts connects them to contemporary U S urban planning and provides tools that can be used when reading and interpreting the texts in part II Part II exemplifies amplifies and modifies the key themes and arguments through the presentation of eight texts theoretical and experiential academic and nonacademic expository and narrative and familiar and unfamiliar The combined focus on story and urban sustainability makes this book a unique contribution to planning literature
