Spaces Like Stairs:

Spaces Like Stairs Gail Scott, 1989 Includes the essays that intersect a decade of remarkable flowering of feminist post modern writing in Quebec a decade where the ethical function of the text has been underscored in a writing practice greatly concerned with deciphering the effects of social constructs in language Gail Scott Lianne Moyes, 2002 This collection of essays examines the varied and influential work of Montreal writer Gail Scott the feminist and experimental writer who placed Quebec women s writing on the map Whether working as a bilingual journalist covering political and cultural events in 1970s Quebec an anglophone writing with the many languages of Montreal in her ears or a queer writer whose work with new narrative links her with writers across the United States Scott transforms the spaces between communities into spaces of cultural and intellectual possibility These essays explore her novels essays and short stories which engage a range of issues central to contemporary thought including the porosity of the subject the body as sensory interface history as montage the novel as multimedia installation the cosmopolitan center as capitalist and colonialist ruin and realism as an accumulation of time frames angles of vision and events going on simultaneously in different spaces This collection of essays examines the varied and influential work of Montreal writer Gail Scott the feminist and experimental writer who placed Quebec women s writing on the map Whether working as a bilingual journalist covering political and cultural events in 1970s Quebec an anglophone writing with the many languages of Montreal in her ears or a queer writer whose work with new narrative links her with writers across the United States Scott transforms the spaces between communities into spaces of cultural and intellectual possibility These essays explore her novels essays and short stories which engage a range of issues central to contemporary thought including the porosity of the subject the body as sensory interface history as montage the novel as multimedia installation the cosmopolitan center as capitalist and colonialist ruin and realism as an accumulation of time frames angles of vision and events going on simultaneously in different spaces The Perfect Room Marie

Flanigan, 2024-09-17 Flanigan delivers for every homeowner detailed expert guidance for designing each part of the house from living rooms to closets kitchens to baths Flanigan looks at the home on a room by room basis identifying common design challenges offering solutions on how to create rooms that are aesthetically pleasing and efficient With examples chosen from her work she shares seasoned wisdom and creative approaches to every decision ranging from building materials and architectural details to furnishings color textiles accessories and organization While her first book The Beauty of Home spelled out her philosophy of design this new tome provides illustrated examples of design ideas and applications for each room in the house inspiring readers to create spaces that exceed expectations Her firm collaborates on projects from Jackson Hole to Miami Rooms from contemporary to traditional style homes are featured including the sun drenched great room of a Shingle style house in the Hamptons a rustic chic dining room with stone floors and a weathered wood ceiling in Texas and a paneled living room in Manhattan For those passionate about interiors and architecture this wealth of design ideas is a great resource Monstrous Spaces: The Other Frontier ,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 Monstrous Spaces The Other Frontier is a collection of essays presented during the First Global Conference of Monstrous Geography held at Manchester College Oxford When examining monstrous geographies we encounter an Other frontier a space that runs counter to the socially constructed space of culture that at the same time includes overlaps and co occupies the cultural landscape Buildings in Society: International Studies in the Historic Era Liz Thomas,Jill Campbell,2018-05-31 This book presents a series of papers reflecting the latest approaches to the study of buildings from the historic period This volume does not examine buildings as architecture rather it adopts an archaeological perspective to consider them as artefacts reflecting the needs of those who commissioned them Fashioning Spaces Heidi Brevik-Zender,2015-02-26 In Fashioning Spaces Heidi Brevik Zender argues that in the years between 1870 and 1900 the chroniclers of Parisian modernity depicted the urban landscape not just in public settings such as boulevards and parks but also in dislocations spaces where the public and the intimate overlapped in provocative and subversive ways Stairwells theatre foyers dressmakers studios and dressing rooms were in between places that have long been overlooked but were actually marked as indisputably modern through their connections with high fashion Fashioning Spaces engages with and thinks beyond the work of critics Charles Baudelaire and Walter Benjamin to arrive at new readings of the French capital Examining literature by Zola Maupassant Rachilde and others as well as paintings architecture and the fashionable garments worn by both men and women Brevik Zender crafts a compelling and innovative account of how fashion was appropriated as a way of writing about the complexities of modernity in fin de si cle Paris In the Blackness of Space Robert Kuntz,2014-08-14 Severely abused as a child Dr Grant Chapman is a multi phobic computer genius who believes in NASA s mission to far space but is too afraid to make the trip His best friend NASA rogue con artist and trouble shooter Billy Jepler drugs Grant and launches him into space When Grant emerges from stasis he finds the other nauts dead a section of the ship battered shut and the ecological balance of the Galileo threatened His only companions are two miniature poodles and SINDAS the ship s self initiating yet common sense challenged computer In the blackness of space Grant confronts his fears and finds a power that challenges the traumatic memories of his abuse Watch the Book Video <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FuMUc4d0Yb0> Calling Bodies in Lived Spaces Kaia Dorothea Mellbye Schultz Rønsdal,2018-08-13 Kaia Rønsdal combines the perspective of production of space ethical theory and fieldwork focusing on the contradictions in lived space by observing encounters and interactions between different groups of people in everyday public space It is an interdisciplinary contribution to the science of diaconia The interest lies with the lives that diaconia traditionally have been concerned with and the spaces where these lives are lived exploring the concept of calling through narratives of these lives and spaces The book challenges and contributes to traditional and contemporary notions of calling as it is understood in the Scandinavian tradition These notions stemming from interpretations of Luther place the calling among humans as opposed to it being something exclusively divine and ecclesiastical The discussion on the calling is enriched with concepts stemming from French sociology and human geography primarily from H Lefebvre and M Foucault as well as phenomenological contributions These are concerned with the significance of body space urbanity and spatial interpretation as space is a relational formative phenomenon constituted in practice and interaction Through methodologies developed from phenomenology and spatial theory where the researcher subject is an evident embodied participant detailed accounts from the field form the material describing everyday life in an Oslo cityscape From this material the concept of calling is explored developing the discussion from the perspective of the spaces of others The assumption being that it is in the spaces where people meet and bodies respond to other bodies whether marginalised or not that calling may manifest itself Through spatial analysis of the minute details of bodies and socialities in everyday life new material for ethical considerations is explored The analysis and discussion may enrich and further deepen the understanding of what takes place in public spaces recognising them as a source of knowledge in a range of disciplines These everyday encounters may also be described and analysed as contributions to the development of theory and praxis of diaconia

Eccentric Spaces Robert Harbison, 2000-02-28 The subject is the human imagination and the mysterious interplay between the imagination and the spaces it has made for itself to live in gardens rooms buildings streets museums and maps fictional topographies and architectures The book is a lesson in seeing and sensing the manifold forms created by the mind for its own pleasure Like all of Robert Harbison's works Eccentric Spaces is a hybrid informed by the author's interests in art architecture fiction poetry landscape geography history and philosophy The subject is the human imagination and the mysterious interplay between the imagination and the spaces it has made for itself to live in gardens rooms buildings streets museums and maps fictional topographies and architectures The book is a lesson in seeing and sensing the manifold forms created by the mind for its own pleasure Palaces and haunted houses Victorian parlors Renaissance sculpture gardens factories hill towns ruins cities even novels and paintings constructed around such environments these are the spaces over which the author broods Brilliantly learned deliberately remote in form from conventional scholarship Eccentric Spaces is a magical book an intellectual adventure a celebration Since its original publication in 1977 Eccentric Spaces has had a devoted readership Now it is available to be discovered by a new generation of readers

The Closure of Space in Roman Poetics Victoria Rimell, 2015-06-05 This ambitious book investigates a major yet underexplored nexus of themes in Roman cultural history the evolving tropes of enclosure retreat and compressed space within an expanding potentially borderless empire In Roman writers exploration of real and symbolic enclosures caves corners villas bathhouses the prison of the human body itself we see the aesthetic philosophical and political intersecting in fascinating ways as the machine of empire is recast in tighter and tighter shapes Victoria Rimell brings ideas and methods from literary theory cultural studies and philosophy to bear on an extraordinary range of ancient texts rarely studied in juxtaposition from Horace's Odes Virgil's Aeneid and Ovid's Ibis to Seneca's Letters Statius Achilleid and Tacitus Annals A series of epilogues puts these texts in conceptual dialogue with our own contemporary art world and emphasizes the role Rome's imagination has played in the history of Western thinking about space security and dwelling
